

BOARD REFUSED LEAVE

Asylum Employees Can Not Attend Military Encampment

Company M, Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard, will leave tomorrow for the encampment at American Lake, near Tacoma, Wash. The state camps of Idaho and Washington will be in camp, as will also the regular camps of the Department of the Columbia and a division from California. The Oregon soldiers are equipped in new field uniforms of the olive drab color, and will present a fine appearance. The full brigade officers will accompany the men, and the camp will be conducted on strictly military lines.

Capt. Murphy and Lieutenants Hollen and Abrahams of the local company, have worked hard during the last few months to bring the company to a high standard, and had hopes a time that they would be able to march camp with a full roster, but, in account of the action of the assembly board yesterday afternoon, seven men will be unable to attend, who are employees of the state at that institution. The board meeting was attended by Secretary Dunbar and Treasurer Moore, and, after a discussion of the question for some time, the request for a leave of absence for the company members, was refused. Dr. Breach, of the asylum, was present, as were also Capt. Murphy and Lieutenants Hollen and Abrahams, of the company.

The action of the board has caused universal regret, as many business men do not understand why the state would pass a law to compel members of the guard to attend, and then refuse them permission to do so. The state spends considerable money in maintaining the guard, and it should be the duty of every citizen to encourage its efficiency. It is very important that Oregon should be well represented at American Lake, and the action of the board could be well reconsidered at a later date, and the men permitted to attend.

Company M will leave this city by special train passing through the city at 5:30 tomorrow morning, and will be absent until July 17th.

LOOK FOR ADVANCE IN PRICE OF WOOL.

Sheepmen Believe That the Clips Next Year Will Bring 25 Cents.

Indications point toward a material increase in the price of wool next year over that of this season, and the sheepgrowers in the county are firm in their opinion that 25 cents per pound will be paid in Shaniko at the close of the next summer.

These views are based upon current conditions which have raised the price this year and it is stated that the sheepmen this year known as the true state of the foreign market, and they could have squeezed still higher prices than they did. The advance in the purchase price of the wool this year, caused by the increase in exportation which has left the foreign market denuded of their supplies. Last year thousands of sheep from the great wool-producing country of Australia were lost, a fact which greatly decreased the supply from that country. The supply was also cut in many other of the foreign countries and the result was a drain on the American product which has not yet been overcome. This year's supply to a great extent will be shipped across the waters and it is con-dently believed that conditions at home will be more stringent next season than they have this past year. In consequence firmer prices are looked forward to and from a conservative standpoint the sheepmen are likely to realize their most sanguine expectations.—Prineville Journal.

BAPTISTS HOLD MEETING

International Convention of Young Peoples Union Is in Session

Detroit, Mich., July 6.—The Baptist are in possession of Detroit today. They fill railway stations, hotels, boarding-houses and street cars. Ten thousand or more of them arrived last night and today. From all parts of the United States and several sections of Canada several thousand are on the way and will be here by tomorrow morning, when the international convention of the Baptist Young Peoples Union will be opened. Two-thirds of the visitors are young people, and more than half the number are women. Scores of prominent preachers and evangelists of the Baptist church are here.

The committee in charge of the visitors have been kept busy since yesterday morning assigning them to their different stopping places. It is estimated that there will be not less than 15,000 strangers here tomorrow morning. The railroad stations, hotels and any number of business houses and dwelling houses have been gayly decorated and the city presents a holiday appearance.

The convention will begin to tomorrow morning and it will continue its sessions until Sunday night. The general sessions will be held in the Light Guard armory, which has been elaborately decorated for the occasion. The platform of the armory has been enlarged for the convention, so that a chorus of several hundred people may lead the singing. A large pipe organ has been installed by way of additional help.

In addition to the armory meetings and conferences will be held in the Woodward avenue Baptist church, Central M. E. church, and Jefferson avenue Presbyterian church. Other churches and auditoriums are being used as headquarters of the various state and territorial delegations. Thus the delegates from Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida and other states of the south are located at the Y. M. C. A. building. The headquarters of the visitors from Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Indian Territory, Nevada, Montana, Oklahoma, Oregon, Utah, and Wyoming, are at the St. John's church house. The middle states, including Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota, have their headquarters at the Central Christian church. Illinois and Indiana are at the Woodward Avenue Baptist church and Ohio at the Central M. E. Church. The Canadian visitors have their headquarters at the First Presbyterian church and the Woodward Avenue Congregational church is the general headquarters for the delegates from New England. This evening Rev. A. C. Dixon, of Boston, will conduct an introductory gospel service, which is expected to be a leading feature of the convention. This will serve as a beginning for the regular program which opens at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning with a praise service. Fifteen minutes later John H. Chapman, president of the international organization, will take the platform and call the great convention to order.

Something New in Kentucky.

Angels have been painted in various forms, and with vastly different conceptions of their real shape. The Corvallis notion of them is wholly wrong, if the statement of two Kentucky colonels is to be believed. These are Col. John W. Hurt and James Mitchell, farmers, who reside near Olatown, Kentucky.

Col. Hurt and Mitchell aver that they saw a flock of real angels, and no mistake about it, rise from a wheat field on the latter's farm and "soar gracefully and majestically, sub." up to the clouds. They thus describe the celestial flock.

"Their backs were of a snowy white and their breasts of burnished gold. The feathers of their wings were a glistening black, with snowy tips, and about their heads were hoods of beautiful blue. The angels, or whatever they were, rose slowly and without noise or song or movement of their outspread wings, and ascended vertically until they were lost in the hazy clouds overhead."

There is a stump in Col. Mitchell's wheat field on which one may place a quarter, depart for 15 minutes, and then return to find a jug of "Kentucky dew." But neither Col. Mitchell nor Col. Hurt had a quarter that day.

LARGEST OREGON FAMILY

Ninety Two Members of the Manning Family Hold a Reunion

There are a good many families of old settlers in Marion county that show up well numerically in the census reports but it is doubtful if there is one that could furnish a longer muster-roll than that which was made up by the re-union of the Manning family at the old town of St. Louis, three miles west of Gervais, which was held for three days during the Fourth of July period.

George A. and Mrs. Caroline Manning came from Perry county, Missouri in January, 1865 by way of Cape Horn, a month being occupied in making the trip. They came to Marion county and settled upon the farm which they still occupy at St. Louis, where four generations numbering 92, participated in a three days' reunion and celebration, including sons and daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The children of the old couple and their progeny are: Mrs. Edist, wife of M. J. Gleason, of Portland, 12 children and ten grand-children; H. D. Manning of Mt. Angel, 12 children and one grand-child; V. A. Manning, of Mt. Angel, nine children and two grand-children; Mrs. F. X. Moisan, of Brooks, 13 children; Joseph Manning, of Portland seven children; J. K. Manning, of Portland, three children; Mrs. Albert O'Brien, of Salem; Mrs. Harry Kenney, of Portland, one child.

On Sunday, July 3, special services were held in the St. Louis Catholic church, in which the families participated, the Manning choir furnishing the singing and music. On the Fourth, a patriotic celebration was held and a table of 100 sitting was spread for dinner in the beautiful grove surrounding the old homestead, where the camps and cooking apparatus of the several branches of the Clan-Manning formed quite a village.

There were foot races, fat men's races, potato races, fat ladies' races, fire works, music and dancing. The crowd was augmented by a number of visitors from the surrounding country, making in all a neighborhood event long to be remembered and a recurrence of which will be heartily desired by all present.

A Vile Disease

Some are inclined to treat it lightly, but these men learn that they have to deal with a powerful poison that is slowly but surely breaking down the constitution. Contagious Blood Poison not only metes out punishment to the one who contracts it, but others may become innocent victims of this vile disease through inheritance. Under the mercury and potash treatment all signs of infection may disappear, but leave these minerals and you soon find out the poison is still alive and you are as bad off as ever. S. S. S. is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys the virus completely without injuring the system. It is a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1.00 for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. S. S. S. not only works the poison out of the blood thoroughly, but restores vigor and strength to all parts of the system. Write for our special book on Contagious Blood Poison, describing the different stages and symptoms and containing much other interesting information about this most despicable of all diseases.

For years I was troubled with the most malignant type of chronic blood trouble. After trying various other remedies without getting any benefit, I was induced by a friend who was cured of a constitutional blood trouble, to take S. S. S. A few bottles cured me permanently. I also consider S. S. S. the best tonic ever made. While taking it my weight increased and my health improved in every way. S. A. WRIGHT, Allegheny City, Pa. 2808 Perryville Ave.
