Linn's First Hog.

Mr. Lewis Cox, visiting in the city, says the first hog in Linn county was brought here by Hiram N. Smead, whose wife now lives in Albany, in 1847, from Marion county, being a sow and a litter of pigs, and from them came the long line of Linn county hogs. It will thus be seen that Marion county has a claim on the title of hog.—Democrat.

Free Information About the World's Fair

If you have any idea of visiting the World's Fair this year, ask me today for a copy of our World's Fair Folder.

It tells just what you want to know about railroad tickets, baggage arrangements, sleeping car berths, how to reach the Exposition grounds, what to do when you get there, how to see the Fair to the best advantage, how to get a boarding place, and answers nearly every question of this character that may be asked.

Contains maps of the Fair grounds, of the City and of the Burlington Route.

Free for the asking—A postal card will do.

The Small Things

are given Particular Attention in our store. A ten cent job receives the same care and attention when repairing it, as a ten dollar job. This is what has built our business up to its present high standard and proportion. Our repair department is where we live and its a common fact that when work has been a failure elsewhere, it finds its way to us and is made the same as new. People living along R. F. D. can send us their work and get it back the next day. Try the up-to-date Watch and Jewelry Repairer.

FARMER'S LEAGUE AT WORK

Rosedale Organizes An Improvement League to Advance Community

The citizens of Rosedale, at a meeting at the school house at that place last night, organized an improvement league. John Pemberton was elected temporary president, and L. M. Gilbert, temporary secretary. The object of the league is to further the development of that vicinity, and one of the first things to be considered will be the extension of the South Salem electric line to that place.

Hon. J. G. Graham, of this city, made an address, and in his remarks spoke very encouragingly of the proposed road. Others from this city and the Rosedale and Liberty neighborhoods also talked along the same line.

The people are very enthusiastic, and have raised a considerable sum of money for the electric road. They do not hesitate to say that they will do more than their share in getting the road extended.

DIED.

CONDIT.—At his home in Turner, Oregon, July 28, 1904, at 1:25 p. m., Cyrenus Condit.

Mr. Condit was born in Mercer county, Pennsylvania, January 20, 1827, and at the age of 12 years moved to Wood county, Ohio, where he lived until 1854, when he crossed the plains with ox teams to Oregon, reaching the Willamette valley in October of the same year. He took a donation land claim about four miles southeast of Turner, where he resided until 1891, when he moved to Turner. He was married May 1, 1851, to Rebecca J. Rowland, who died in March, 1863, and on January 3, 1865, he was married to Miss Jane Frank, of Findlay, Ohio, who, with his sons, S. J. Condit, of Stafford; H. B. Condit, of West Stayton, and A. O. Condit, of Salem survive him.

The deceased was of sturdy pioneer stock, and spent the most of his life amid the dangers and privations of pioneer life, always bringing into his business and social affairs those sterling qualities of integrity and fair dealing which made him honored and respected wherever known. He was always active and interested in the affairs of government, but was never a candidate for any political office. During the later years of his life the infirmities attendant upon advancing years kept him closely confined to his home, but, by devoting himself to reading, he kept in touch with the business, political and religious affairs of the world, and at the last election was, at his own request, taken to the polls that he might vote his principles. He was one of the charter members of Pleasant Grove Presbyterian church, and he and his brother, Sylvanus Condit, who passed away three months ago, did most of the work in erecting the Pleasant Grove church building, which is now the oldest building of that denomination on the Pacific coast.

His last illness was brief and very severe, but the end came as quietly and peacefully as a child falling asleep.

The funeral will be held from the family home at Turner on Saturday, July 30th, at 12:30 p. m.
