THE MULE AND THE MAN.

One day something happened, annoying extremely. The limit in short it appeared—

Some moments he stood there and no word he uttered. Expectancy stood on tiptoe.

Another short pause and the silence was broken. And these were the words by that reprobate spoken:

PROTECTION FOR EAST SALEM. The fire today may serve as a warning to the utterly helpless condition of the eastern part of the city against fire.

AN ANTI-LOVING EDICT. Portland is surely becoming a moral town. The whole force of policemen, constables and sheriffs have waged a vigorous war on gambling and other forms of vice.

THE GLADSTONE CHEWING CLUB. Fired with a zeal for achieving sound health, certain ladies have started a club called the "Organized Ruminators" or "Bovine club."

THE MODERN WAY. To cure a weak stomach is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the very first symptom.

up the spirits and sheds its ray of light. Young and old will love and there is no way to stop it.

seventeen," or whatever number he had reached in his progress to the correct thirty-two.

A REAL RUSSIAN ADVANCE. When a fight is on, the spectators usually pat themselves on the back by proclaiming aloud that they are for the "under dog."

HERE AND THERE. The game of cat is a better friend of the glass eye manufacturer than a fake doctor is to an undertaker.

Magnetic Iron Ore. Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 3.—A discovery of a large deposit of gray or magnetic ore near Sycamore, Ala., has caused considerable interest in industrial circles here.

Took Up a Collection. The Baker City baseball team took up a collection at the end of a game and out of 250 spectators received 85 cents.

A FACT PROVEN. Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

FOR BETTER MARKSMEN. A more important design for the national defense than that proposed by the national board for the promotion of rifle practice, an outline which is given in our news columns, could scarcely be devised.

It is regrettable that Americans are in danger of losing their just and long maintained reputation for skilled marksmanship. The disappearance of game of all kinds, large and small, is largely accountable for the lack of interest in sports where the use of the gun is necessary.

Now this state of mind on the part of non-combatants is not likely to interfere much with the final outcome of the struggle, unless it find vent through the people to their government and thence by way of an expression of opinion to either the Mikado or the Czar.

Where, think you, would the American nation be today if it had been composed for centuries of natives tied to the soil and living in under bondage, whose emancipation had been accomplished as late as 1861?

That the Russian peasant and remember that, in a large measure, it is the Russian peasant that is now engaged in the war with Japan—lacks initiative, is evident; but apart from the fact that this is common to all the newly emancipated, this seems to be largely a racial peculiarity of the Slav.

As Senator Beveridge so well says in his most enlightening book "The Russian Advance" "This is the man who has arrived at the Pacific and looks with dreamy eyes upon the world's waters towards which he has instinctively been pushing for hundreds of years, and here is the man we Americans must study and consider."

Difficult as the members of the new society find it to face the frozen butter and his ilk, they find it even harder to pursue correct principals of mastication, and at the same time maintain conversation as a fine art.

Since 1891, when those words were written, many more furrows have been turned in this long-fallow field, and every day must awaken the sleepy Russian to fuller consciousness of his true position.

The United States government is now engaged in hatching bugs in the agricultural department. The bugs will be sent to California to exterminate a pest which has been destroying thousands of fruit trees every year.

In one school in Paris of 265 pupils examined there were found 63 nail-biters, or one in five. In a secondary school for girls, of 207 pupils 61 bit their nails.

Dr. Allen Macfadyen, director of the Jenner Institute in London, has obtained an anti-typhoid serum by expressing the juice from typhoid bacilli, first rendering them brittle by freezing them with liquid air.

Careful tests at Cornell university demonstrated that a one-horse power engine working continuously for one hour could produce only enough liquid air, when converted into power to run a one-horse power engine one minute.

A peculiar "glass disease" has broken out among the windows of York Cathedral. Some of the thirteenth and fourteenth century glass is the edifice has been removed in order to arrest the "disease."

From Sanctum to Stage. Geo. R. Paul, formerly editor of the Corvallis Gazette, has been elected to a professorship in a Portland dramatic college.

Notice to Contractors and Builders Sealed bids for the construction of a school house in district No. 124, Marion county, Oregon, will be received by the undersigned until August 11, 1904.

Turner Items. Mrs. Quinn and two daughters, Mrs. E. Willis and Delbert Boyes started Tuesday for Newport for several weeks' stay.

Turner has a new harness shop. Chester Smith, Clard Crandall, George Moores, Harry and George Lindsey have gone to Eastern Oregon to help harvest.

Mr. Roian, the dairyman, recently had the misfortune to lose a finger, being injured while handling his stock. Dr. Ranson and family are enjoying their annual outing in the mountains.

Mrs. A. Barney and children moved to Portland Friday. Rev. R. Ennis and family visited in Marion a few days, en route to Jacksonville, their new home.

Grandma Horne went to Roseburg Saturday to spend a few weeks with her son. Rev. Crandall went to Buena Vista Saturday to take charge of the quarterly meeting held there.

Green Cornelius and family moved into the Presbyterian parsonage. L. Cavanaugh is building a new hop house.

The friends of Joan McKinney are glad to see him home again and to know that he feels so well after the shock occasioned by the removal of one eye at one of the Portland hospitals.

Quarterly meeting of the Methodist church will be held August 13 and 14. The last time Presiding Elder Ford will hold such a meeting here, as he will be removed to another district.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth. If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ALL WORK DELIVERED WHEN PROMISED 193 Commercial St. Over The Journal.

After Remodeling Their Plant and putting in nearly a complete line of new machinery, the management of the Salem Steam Laundry feel proud that they have one of the most complete plants in the country.

Pale. Thin

Doctors call it "anemia." They recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. They know why it cures.
