NATION AND STATE.

Co-Operation in Regulating the Liquor Traffic.

The question as to how far the general government may properly go in helping to enforce state laws or city ordinances regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, is one that appears to the SENTRY well worth serious consideration. This is all the more necessary since there is proposed legislation on which an expression of public opinion may soon be demanded.

The abstract question of prohibition, high license, etc., are not here at issue. Those who are sufficiently vegeled by banquets of root beer and scotchish balls, and those who habitually wear hip pockets of full quart size, represent the two extremes of opinion in temperance matters. But the conflict of jurisdiction between local and national authorities to which we now refer, cannot be adjusted by the merits or demerits of their contentions.

The nation's increasing consumption of liquor presents figures which are important to economists and appalling to moralists. The United States received last year a total of $178,000,000 tax on spirits and beer. This is said to indicate an expenditure by the people who buy these articles at retail and consume them of nearly one thousand million dollars. Year by year the consumption increases, more than keeping pace with our advance in population.

Senator Galliger has introduced a bill which in terms prohibits the issue of an internal-revenue tax receipt by the federal authorities covering any phase of the liquor traffic, unless the applicant exhibits to the collector a license or permit issued in accordance with the laws of the state in which business is to be done. The necessity for this enactment, is urged, lies in the fact that every illegal, surreptitious place where liquor is sold in prohibition states or prohibited districts has what is known as a government license. Legally and in fact this document is merely an internal revenue tax receipt. The government officials are so diligent in their pursuit of those who should pay the government tax that few persons venture to sell liquor without having paid this tax. The display of the receipt, therefore, is their protection against further molestation. But that receipt is sometimes claimed to be a legal permit to do business when it is in reality only an evidence that a required tax has been paid.

That the federal government is legally entitled to collect these taxes has, it is said, never been disputed. But it was never intended that the payment of this tax should absolve the dealer from his obligation to obey laws and ordinances. Yet it is in effect used by law breakers to enable them to snap their fingers at scandalized citizens and pretend that they are protected by the shadow of a higher authority.

Even those who do not believe in state prohibition as a practical or a desirable end, usually admit that law breaking, even when the laws are unjust and harmful, is not a practice that can safely be encouraged in a free government. Hence, when the national authorities in the exercise of their right to levy an internal revenue tax, do recognize a business that is illegally they contravene the purpose of the state and ignore its right to protect itself against alleged evils.

While it is no part of the business of the federal government to assist in the enforcement of state laws, it is perhaps a duty to see that it does not foster law breaking. Theoretically, the state could enforce their laws as well as the government enforce its laws, but in practice few or none of the states do so. Consequently, the undeniable truth is that in giving its receipt for the sale of liquors in prohibition states or districts, it, to all intents and purposes, licenses law breaking. Every one knows that if the surreptitious liquor seller were not permitted to pay a Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to lie awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine. Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Fretfulness, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity. Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all callers barred, because he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."

tax to the revenue officer, few of them would dare to engage in the illegal traffic. Hence there comes from many influential sources an emphatic demand for the enactment of such legislation as is proposed in the Gallinger bill.

Marriage Proverbs.

The following items in relation to marriage have been compiled by an unknown author. He probably never recovered from the shock.

- What is marriage? Marriage is an institution for the blind.
- Why do some people ever marry? Because they do not believe in divorce.
- When a man thinks seriously of marriage, what happens? He remains single.
- Does a girl ever think of anything but marriage? Only that, and how to get married.

Should a man marry a girl for her money? No. But he should not let her become an old maid because she's rich.

Is an engagement as good as marriage? It's better.

How may we tell when a courtship has progressed? When a man takes to yawning in the girl's presence.

When two thin people become engaged, what happens? They immediately grow very thick.

When a man has popped the question, is he finished? No; he has yet to question pop.

When asking papa, how should a young man act? He should face papa manfully and never give him a chance at his back.

Why does a bride wear a veil? So that she may hide her satisfaction.

When a man marries, has he seen the end of trouble? Yes, but it is usually the wrong end.

What is greater than a wife's love? Her temper.

Do married women suffer in silence? Yes, they all suffer when they may not talk.

When a man says he can manage his wife, what does he mean? He means he can make her do anything she wants to.

Is it possible for a married man to be a fool without knowing it? Not if his wife is alive.

What is a mother-in-law? See General Sherman's definition of war.

Oregon Bee Industry.

What can be done with bees as a money maker in Lincoln county has been notably demonstrated by P. A. Miller, of Pioneer, this year. Mr. Miller has 17 colonies of bees which have produced this year 1723 pounds of honey. Of this honey more than 1300 pounds were choice, white honey, that he readily sold at 15 to 18 cents per pound, and then could not supply the demand. The balance that he has sold has brought him an average of 14 cents per pound. All told he has received from his bees a product that will net him about $275, or about $16 per colony. This may be regarded by some as a phenomenal yield, but it is so only in price. Mr. Miller, by intelligent care for his bees secured an attractive and superior quality of honey which enabled him to get a better price for it. Any other farmer's bees will do the same thing if they are as properly cared for. This illustrates what might be done with the apiary in Lincoln county, and also suggests that a large source of wealth each year is going to waste for the want of intelligent effort to arrest it.—Toledo Leader.

Lodges Consolidate.

The two Masonic lodges in Albany have decided to consolidate, and at a joint meeting, to be held on the evening of September 3d, the details of the consolidation will be completed, and a name for the new lodge will be selected. At that time a new set of officers will be elected, and other business in connection with the consolidation will be disposed of. This movement will make the Albany lodge one of the strongest in the state.

Plenty of Telephones.

The Bell telephone people have opened wide their hearts. Free switching is now given over Linn county, involving 150 new subscribers, and three lines with intervening connections. Peoria, Halsey and Shields can now be reached free. A list will be published next week.—Corvallis Gazette.

New Opera Company.

A new opera company has been formed in this city, under the name of the Juvenile Opera Company, and they will give their performance three nights next week, August 22, 23 and 24, at their tent at 452 Liberty street. The managers of the opera company are Ford Tarpley, Roy Duncan and Miss Marie Wilson. On Monday afternoon a performance will be given at 2 o'clock, and the remaining performances will all begin at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of dialogues and dramas, and Miss Marie Wilson, the star singer, from Edison's Theater, will be on the program. Little Miss Mona McMeJen will also sing. The admission is, dress circle, 10c; boxes, 15c; general admission, 5c. Good houses should be assured this little company.

Do it today.

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TODAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boasche's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. At Dr. Stone's drug stores.
