

BUILD NATIONAL ROAD

New York and Chicago Will Be Connected by Fine Highway

The United States is the only civilized country without continuous lines of well-built and maintained national roads. We believe that when the people of the United States fully understand the great value to our country of continuous lines of improved interstate roads they will demand their construction, with the result that this progressive country will have the finest system of roads in the world.

The New York and Chicago Road Association, recently organized, is composed of people who are in favor of the improvement of the highways of the nation, the construction and maintenance of first-class, modern, continuous lines of interstate highways, and especially in the construction of an object-lesson road between New York City and Chicago. This road, it is the intention, shall be of such a character that it will be a benefit to every municipality through which it passes, and to every individual along its route. It is to be primarily a useful highway, not designed for the special benefit of pleasure seekers, nor for the exclusive use of those intent on business, but one which all classes of citizens will find a convenience, a benefit and a paying investment. The association is not a money-making concern; it is not simply an organization to provide good salaries for a number of officers, as no one of its officers or members receives any pay or emolument whatever for his services in its behalf. It is simply a banding together of people working for a common cause, who feel that united action is more potent than individual effort, and that through organization results may be brought about which would be beyond the power of anyone to accomplish single-handed.

How the Road is to Be Built.

That the cost of constructing a highway such as that planned by the association would be too great for any single organization to meet is self-evident, and it is through the operation of the state aid laws in the various states traversed by the line that this association expects to complete its work, this organization, as a whole, lending the weight of its influence to any county, city, town or village seeking its share of the state highway fund. Where there is no provision made by the state for aid in road building, the association uses all its powers to secure the election to the legislature and to the county and local offices of men who realize the great economic value of good highways, and who will pledge themselves, regardless of partisan politics, to work and vote for them. The association has no political significance, save where politics are necessary to the completion of its work, and knows no party save the one which will insure the improvement of the people's great lines of communication, the highways of the country. Agitation, through the aid of the press, dissemination of literature regarding the project, personal visits by representatives of the association, and conventions at important points along the line, are among the means used to keep alive public interest in the aims of the association, and the more assistance given the organization the quicker will its work be accomplished.

Rains Floods Country.

Headquarters of General Kuroki, in Southern Manchuria, via Fusan and Seoul, Aug. 22.—It has rained steadily for four days, and both of the lower roads are covered with 10 feet of water, and are absolutely impassable. A number of Chinese and horses of the commissary department have been drowned crossing the Lang River at the ford.

Russian spies have been located hiding in the cornfields near the outposts, and large scouting parties are searching for them. The relative positions of the two armies remains unchanged.

MORE WARRANTS ISSUED

J. J. Patton Swears to Complaints for Sunday Saloon Opening

J. J. Patton swore out warrants for the arrest of Eugene Eckler and W. R. Anderson this morning in Justice Turner's court, and they will be served sometime this afternoon. They are accused of keeping their saloons open on Sunday, August 21st, contrary to section 1868 of the code. This is the law covering all classes of business, and several cases are now pending under it.

Several saloons were visited by Mr. Patton and others during the evening, and cigars purchased. At one place a small bottle of whiskey was bought, which will probably be used as evidence. It was known to the saloon men that they would have callers, but they were treated cordially, and served with the goods.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ON TOP

Win Fight Against Chicago School Board for Large Sum

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Two years ago the Chicago Teachers' Federation won their fight against the school board for $254,000, which the board took from salaries in 1900, on account of the lack of funds. The teachers compelled the public service corporations to pay $1,000,000 extra taxes, and even then the board refused to pay the money. Judge Dunn today gave them a judgment against the city.

Adulteration goes full length in spices and flavoring extracts—you think it isn't worth while to cheat in such trifles—four-fifths of "vanilla" is tonka; cost's one or two cents for "$1-worth". Schilling's Best are entirely pure; at your grocer's.

Potter-Smith Marriage.

Superintendent T. W. Potter, of the Chemawa Indian school, was married on August 18th to Miss Mary J. Smith, at Reading, California, where the bride resides. The marriage came as a surprise to the many friends of Mr. Potter, and was not credited when the rumor was first heard last Saturday. The bride was a pupil of the school for about eight years, and last year was employed in that institution. She is a quarter-blood Wintone Indian, 18 years old, and is said to be quite handsome.

Mr. Potter is almost 50 years of age, and is a widower. They left for Eastern points immediately after their marriage, and will spend several weeks visiting St. Louis and other points of interest before returning to Oregon. Mr. Potter will turn over the school to the new superintendent, Mr. Chalcraft, about October 1st.

Hits Were Scarce.

Emerson and Gregory, formerly with the valley league, are now playing in Washington, the former pitching for Hoquiam and the latter for Olympia. Emerson held his opponents down to one hit yesterday, the score being 1 to 0, while Gregory pitched two games allowing but two hits in the first and four in the second. A correspondent says the games were marked by sensational plays, and gives "Emmy" great credit. The many friends of both players will be glad to learn of their good records.

After Big Game.

J. H. Elgin and family start for Tillamook county tomorrow for a few weeks' outing. There will be a baker's dozen in the party when completed, and they propose to have a good time, besides all the venison, bear and fish they can eat. The X-Ray man is promised a piece of bear meat to give him some sense.

No Concerts This Week.

On account of the absence of a number of players from the city the Salem Military Band will not give their usual concerts this week, but will probably give a sacred concert next Sunday afternoon.

Funeral Rates Reduced.

Cabs and carriage for funerals at half price. Simpson's livery, opposite Court house.

Cab Hire at Half Price.

The war on prices of cabs is still raging. Simpson's stables made the cut to one-half price, and still maintain those prices. Opposite the court house.

A Carriage for 25c.

Take a cab to or from the depot for 25c. Simpson's livery stables, opposite court house.

Senator Hoar Weaker.

Salem Write-Up in Sunset.

The new September number of the Sunset magazine contains a splendid article entitled "Oregon's Capital City," by J. H. Cradlebaugh, one of the state's most gifted writers, and formerly on The Journal staff. The article is illustrated with fine half-tone views of the city, including cuts of the state house, postoffice, court house and street scenes.

Special Excursion to St. Louis.

August 8, 9 and 10, September 5, 6 and 7 and October 3, 4 and 5 are the remaining dates upon which tickets will be sold at the reduced rates to the St. Louis fair. These rates apply over the Denver and Rio Grande and Missouri Pacific. For the patrons of these roads special excursion cars will be run through from Portland and St. Louis without change.

See the many points of interest about the Mormon capital and take a ride through nature's picture gallery.

During the closing months travel to the fair will be very heavy. If you contemplate going write W. C. McBride, general agent at Portland for the Denver and Rio Grande, for particulars of these excursions. 8-5-2m.
