Mighty Hunter Home.

Cooke Patton, of Patton Bros., arrived Tuesday from a month's outing in the mountains of Douglas county, where, 100 miles east of Roseburg, he hunted deer in the Cascades, and captured the wily trout in Fish lake. His growth of beard and rustic appearance was sufficient to completely surprise his brother, who only recognized him by his voice. His wife insisted on knowing who he was before she would open the back door to any such tramplooking fellow, and his little daughter ily communion. He has great yarns to spin by the hour, and has a deep not man in a group of thieves pro which terminated in this settlement of grudge laid up against the attorney. general of Oregon, who accompanied him on the trip, and, being an accomplished mountaineer, stationed Cooke for two hours on a deer trail, where the mosquitos and black gnats were thick, while Crawford had taken the usual precaution to smear himself with fish oil. Patton says being burned at the stake would be a picnic to what he experienced on that occasion,
