Republican National Ticket

For President. THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York. For Vice-President, CHAS. W. FAIRBANKS, of Indiana. For Presidential Electors: G. B. Dinsck, of Clackamas. A. C. Hough, of Josephine. J. H. Hart, of Polk. E. A. Fee, of Malheur.

HIS LAST INTERVIEW.

A few days before his assassination the conservative "darkest counselor of the Czar," Wladimir Konstantinowitch De Plohe, late minister of the interior of Russia, granted to an American, John Callin O'Laughlin, St. Petersburg war correspondent for Collier's Weekly, an interview which is published in the August 27 issue of that paper in which he is reported to have said:

"Nihilism knows no law and no order. It strives to produce rebellion and substitute chaos for government. Its disciples are comparatively few in number, belong to the criminal class, and are consequently subject to police surveillance. There is no fear for Russia from this source."

Relative to the war in the East the late minister said:

"Neither the Emperor nor the people wanted war with Japan. We desired only an open port on the Pacific and safe communication with it, and peace instead of disorder among our neighbors. Manchuria had been in a state of disorder which menaced foreign life and property, and the interests of the world in general, and our own special interests demanded that we should step in and restore tranquility. The United States was moved by the same reasons to intervene in Cuba. We established order, and we were gradually restoring Chinese administration when the war came upon us. For the war Japan had made every preparation, while we had gone on believing her protestations of desire to peacefully settle the question in dispute."

Referring to the American sympathy with Japan as generally expressed in the American press, he said: "I can not understand the reason. We have always been friends, and we have proven our friendship. Moreover, Americans are a business people. They must know that Russia is not a manufacturing state, that Russia is and will be in need of the products of their energy. Japan, on the other hand, is a manufacturing nation, which is able to deliver its output, practically, without cost, in China, while American goods, to reach that market, must pay a heavy freight bill. Japan's development is therefore antagonistic to American commercial interests."

CARL SCHURZ AS A WOBLER.

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

When Carl Schurz left Wisconsin he went to Missouri, which state he represented in the United States senate from 1869 to 1875. He had been in the senate, where he was sent by the Republicans, only a few months, when, in 1870, he joined the insurgents who seceded from the Republicans in Missouri and put up a state ticket headed by R. Gratz Brown, which the Democrats supported and elected. He remained in alliance with the Democrats two years later, when Greeley was nominated for President by the Liberal Republicans and supported by the Democrats. When Liberal Republicanism collapsed he came back to the Republican party and got appointed Secretary of the interior in President Hayes' cabinet.

In the years between 1881, when President Hayes' term ended, and 1904, Mr. Schurz has belonged to pretty much every party successively except the Prohibitionists. He was against Bryan in 1896, and was on Bryan's side in 1900. In 1904 he was in favor of Parker, apparently because he thinks that Parker is against Bryan. Naturally, this instability, which Blaine in his "Twenty Years of Congress," pointed out very effectively, is calculated to deprive him of all shadow of influence in politics. His championship of Parker can get no votes for Parker, for nobody can tell but what he will be on Roosevelt's side before November. His advocacy is more harmful to a cause than his comity. Mr. Schurz is a man of great scholarship and ability, but in Missouri, where he is well known, he could not be elected alderman or constable.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

The introduction of sewing classes in our public schools is a step in the direction of making young women more useful as a result of schooling.

There is nothing more pitiful than the girl who goes through college, and is neither charming, lovable, womanly nor practically useful as a housewife. The domestic arts, like sewing, cooking, gardening, growing flowers and rearing children, are almost lost sight of in education.

Our colleges are top-heavy with specializing and shaky on producing the common human qualities that make good fathers and mothers and heads of families. They ignore the spiritual life of man, and produce material automatons.

The Grange shows that our agricultural college has only one in ten studying agriculture. What a departure from industrialism. Our whole educational system goes to produce intellectual, professional classes.

Our state University has 65 salaried professors, specialists, who touch the young people here and touch them there, but leave them helpless to fight the sterner and strenuous battles of life.

Practical education will fit young women for the diviner duties of the home, for the occupation of a position as the center of family-life.

It will fit young men for industry and honest life as home builders, instead of salaried boarding house occupants. "If I only had a lovely baby like yours," says the college girl to the workingman's wife. But she hasn't. Education has destroyed in her the home and family instincts.

Such education is not education. Education for the home and family must make people love the home and family, and enable them to establish homes and maintain families. It must nourish the life spiritual.

Industrial education is a step in the right direction. Drawing, sewing, woodwork, gardening, music, fruit growing, flower culture, metal working, farming, last and greatest of all, are in this line.

BUILD THE PORTAGE ROAD.

The people do not care how the state portage at The Dalles is built, so it is built honestly and according to law.

The proposition of the Open River Association to undertake to guarantee the construction is fraught with some dangers.

As we understand the matter that association proposes to guarantee that contractors will build the portage road with the present funds.

The state portage board will contract with the contractors, not with the Open River Association, and thus get some advantages.

Of course, there is room for complications in this matter, but it is assumed that the Open River Association are acting in good faith.

But the best laid plans of mice and men "aft-times gang alee," and the state portage board should be sure they are dealing with honest men and representatives of the business and producing interests of the state.

The opening of the Columbia has been so much delayed by insidious influences, and by interested corporations, that the people have become impatient, and will stand for no more fooling.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF LIGHTS.

This paper will give space to the discussion of this subject, and believes that the correct solution of municipal lighting lies in public ownership.

The community would do better to be in a position to sell untaxed lights to the consumer, than to be buying lights for itself and allowing the consumer to be taxed for all the traffic will bear.

The Salem lighting plants change hands about so often. Then a few repairs are made, a few old lights overhauled, and the traffic is taxed anew for the expense.

The interviews in this paper show that the Wilcox property is a bargain for the city. The charter will permit the people to act and acquire this magnificent water power—one of the best in Oregon.

The Wilcox property and water power is a perpetual franchise. It is a water power that draws its supply from a mountain stream that will never fail.

Let all disinterested citizens investigate the proposition and be prepared to act. It is the only remedy and protection for the consumer.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE IS THE POLITICIANS.

The established way, says Collier's Weekly in its issue of August 27, for a man to be nominated for President has been, for many years, to convince certain politicians, many of them in the United States senate, that he would suit their purposes. Lately there have been a number who have successfully stepped aside from that road to office. Mr. Roosevelt, on the whole, has appealed to the people over the heads of the politicians. What

Who come of a consumptive family when they begin to cough and the lungs are painful. But it is a fact beyond dispute that consumption is not and cannot be inherited. The microbe which breeds disease must absolutely be received by the individual before consumption can be developed.

Men and women who have been afflicted with obstinate coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, emaciation and weakness, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures the cough, heals the lungs, and builds up the body with solid flesh.

"When I commenced taking your medicines, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pain in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."

ever his compromises, they have not satisfied the bosses, and were it not for the people he would be laid upon the shelf forever. Mr. Folk is the protagonist in a brilliantly dramatic fight of the people against their official oppressors. Governor La Follette is a similar figure. Golden Rule Jones was another. When such men win it is by letting themselves be known, whereas politicians of the Gorman type, to succeed, must always work in the dark; and the ebb of Gorman is as good a sign as the rise of Folk.

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

(From "Success.")

Many of us miss the joys that might be ours by keepink our eyes fixed on those of other people. No one can enjoy his own opportunities for happiness while he is envious of another's. We lose a great deal of the joy of living by not cheerfully accepting the small pleasures that come to us every day, instead of longing and wishing for what belongs to others. We do not take any pleasure in our own modest horse and carriage, because we long for the automobile or victoria that some one else owns. The edge is taken off the enjoyment of our own little home because we are watching the palatial residence of our neighbor. We can get no satisfaction out of a trolley ride into the country or a sail on a river steamer, because some one else can enjoy the luxury of his own carriage or yacht. Life has its full measure of happiness for every one of us, if we would only make up our minds to make the very most of every opportunity that comes our way, instead of longing for the things that come our neighbor's way.

X-RADIUMS

A Southern Oregon man kicked a dog and uncovered a $35,000 gold ledge. A Salem man kicked another one, and sees $5000 in sight. History repeats itself, even in a small way.

Circus day is near at hand with its red lemonade, toy balloons, general excitement. Many a father will blame the son for wanting to "see the circus," and the boy will have to take the responsibility. Several years from now he will play even.

Oregon feels like itself again, with a little moisture. But then Oregon almost always does about the right thing at the right time.

Salem has good water, but if it can be improved we should welcome it. Progress all along the line is essential to a great city.

Kuropatkin is not in much haste to help Stoessel at Port Arthur. He is having troubles of his own, judging from the many accounts that are finding their way through the censor.

Some of these days Salem will look around and find an entirely new street car line. The old one is almost rebuilt and with new cars and many improvements in the track and service, very little of the old lines will be in evidence.

The Ladies of the W. C. T. U. Will serve dinner in their hall on show day, August 31st. Corner of Perry and Commercial streets. 5-29-04

HERE AND THERE

Emperor William recently had conducted before him, great secrecy, a series of experiments with a new war kite equipped with a newly-perfected system of wireless telegraphy. The inventor is a German-American professor living for the present in Havre.

Professor Assmann, one of the German government meteorological experts, has risen to explain that lightning seldom strikes in a forest where the trees are dense and of about the same height. Danger exists only where isolated trees rise above their surroundings.

The detective force in China is a secret body second to none in the world in point of organization. From one end of the celestial empire to the other a very wideopen eye is kept upon every man, woman and child, whether foreign or native, and, for that matter, the detectives watch one another most vigilantly.

Robert Womack, the discoverer of Cripple Creek and the gold deposits there, which has yielded others more than $150,000,000, is believed to be dying at Colorado Springs in a sanitarium. He did not benefit by his discovery and for several years has been a street laborer in Colorado Springs.

Advices from St. Petersburg tell of a service of wireless telegraphy at Lake Baikal, which is almost complete, and will be in working order soon. It will consist of three stations, one of which will be on board the ice-breaker, which will be enabled to communicate with both shores during its passage across the lake.

The building at Liberty, Mo., familiarly known as "the old Mormon jail," has just been torn down. The structure was Liberty's jail during the Mormon war in Missouri many years ago, and a lot of Mormon prisoners were confined in it at that time. Many members of the Mormon sect have visited Liberty within recent years to see the prison in which their brethren languished during the "persecution."

California Dairymen Organize.

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 30.—A strongly organized state association is expected to result from the conference of dairymen in session at the state fair today. The conference is attended by prominent dairymen from nearly every section of the state. The first work of the projected organization will be to draft a number of bills relative to cattle and dairy interests, with a view to presenting them at the next session of the state legislature.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance. It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair.

The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The four Eldreds, now with Ringling Brothers' great circus, are the most sensational riders in the circus profession. The performers work as a unit on the bare back of a racing horse, turning the most difficult acrobatic tricks in this flying position, and jumping to and from the back of the swiftly fleeing animal at the same instant. They are the only riders who ever achieved the feat of jumping backward to the back of a running horse.

My Stomach. "It feels so uncomfortable. Food distresses me. I get blue and despondent. My doctor says it's my stomach." And what did your doctor tell you to take? Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Left for Klamath County. John Conner, of the Willamette, and Henry Toman left this morning for the Conner ranch in Klamath county. They go via Eugene, and the military road, and have a good spring wagon and the gray express wagon horses to convey them over the mountains. They expect to return in about six weeks.
