

THE WHITE CORNER Millinery Department

Miss M. D. Evans, Proprietor

We announce for Thursday, September 8th, our Preliminary Opening
Of Autumnal Millinery

From a style standpoint this showing will be of much importance to every lady, being the first expose of the ideas accepted by leading authorities as the most correct interpretation of the season's modes. The display will be very large—a comprehensive showing of millinery for every occasion, the smart hats for street wear, as well as the more elaborate creations for the swell functions.

FREAKY SALESMAN REBUKED

An Over-smart Travelling
Man Who Should Be Passed Down the Line

A traveling man, who seems to be neither a Hebrew nor a Gentile, and, according to report, has taken no lessons in the high school for gentlemen, was called down hard yesterday in a Salem dry goods store. Going out he stopped one of the young lady clerks and handed her his card: "John Doe, Not Married," was the insulting inscription. The young lady took the matter as an affront upon her dignity as a woman, and called the attention of one of the proprietor's action.

Mr. Drummer was called back and given a talk that was more nearly in the nature of a crimson roast hot off the bat, the unwise drummer going his way somewhat crestfallen from his former role of general mash-artist, wholesale and retail.

The conduct of some of this class in stores and in hotel dining rooms would almost justify resort to the more heroic methods of dealing with such fellows employed in some other sections of the country. Suffice it to say that his card will not be handed out in that form in Salem again very soon.

PUBLIC COUNCIL MEETING

Hold Open Air Session, but Did Not Transact
Business

City council met last evening, but, owing to it being hop picking time, several members were out of the city, and it was impossible to secure a quorum. A motion was made to adjourn until Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, and it carried.

It was, perhaps, the first open air council meeting ever held in Salem, as the members congregated on the steps in front of the city hall, and did not take the trouble of ascending the stairway. Mayor Waters put the motion, and Recorder Judah noted it while standing on the curb. There is nothing like having an administration that can meet any emergency.

Protection Lodge, A. O. U. W.
During the absence of P. H. Raymond, financier, members will please pay their dues and assessments to John Moir, receiver, No. 290 Commercial street, upstairs over telephone office.

A Wonderful Child.

An Eastern friend says: "Little Emily Spier, the phenomenal child reader and impersonator, was with me at Mountain Lake Park Chautauque, Md., during the season of 1902. She is a little wonder. Her remarkable voice was distinctly heard in our great auditorium seating 5,000 people. The child is as graceful as a fairy, and altogether devoid of affectation. She successfully presents a wide range of work." At the state fair next week.

A Good Dresser

A good dresser wants life in his clothes. Lots of men wear "dead" clothes, and don't know it. The life of a suit is the dash in the cut, curves and kinks of its makeup that at once stamp its wearers as a well dressed man

Our Suits Are Full of Life

We charge no more for our suit excellence than other clothiers charge for "just clothes."

Our fall suits are now ready, and we trust that you won't mind if we nudge you gently and say to you that it's high time you were thing about yours.

We will be pleased to assist you in making your selection, and we shall be looking for you every day now.
