

OREGON RESOURCES EDITION

Highly Complimented By Portland Gentlemen

These Facts to be Used on a Large Scale by the Immigration Bureau

The Journal is in receipt of many compliments on the Oregon Resources edition of September 28th, in which the men who are making a success of important industries tell their own story of the facts in the matter. A number of letters have been received from which we quote:

Tom Richardson writes: "If the local organization there would send out this copy of The Journal, accompanied by a personal letter to all friends and acquaintances in the East it would bring splendid returns to Salem, Marion county and Oregon. Just the Telegram tonight regarding the way we used several thousand of their special edition of September 25th."

Theodore S. Wilson, of the Portland Flouring Mills, writes:

Thanks for copy of your paper of 28th. I think this is a very good way to get facts before the people. Bombastic statements of what might be done, or should be done, are worthless compared to a page of facts such as you published, and I trust you will be able to keep furnishing similar statements. All that is necessary for the prosperity of this country, is that people should have facts concerning it.

W. E. Guman, of the S. P. Co., writes: Beg to acknowledge your paper of September 28th, with special write up of the Willamette Valley industries, which you expect to continue each week. I received the paper and read it with interest, and am glad to hear that more of this kind of literature is to be run in your columns. We could very well use some of these statements to advantage in our immigration work.

The Journal will print a special edition for the use of the Southern Pacific advertising department for immigration work, and it will contain the names and business of the members of the Greater Salem Commercial Club.

The club has just about reached the 200 mark for membership, and collection of the correspondence fund was begun today. The organization of the correspondence committee of one thousand members will be started this week, and the sending of letters to Eastern papers to induce immigration has begun. These letters are cheerfully published without expense to the club, and are an effective means of reaching people.

The Journal has still about 200 copies of the Oregon Resources edition left and upon interesting and estate men and others interested in bringing their friends this way will call and use them up.

Bishops in Session

Notes, Mass., Oct. 2.—With the sunlight gleaming in benediction, as the bright sun rose on high, and the great splendor of the church clad in bright vestments, marching along, and the loud procession of hymns sounding through the aisles of Trinity church and echoing along the streets for many blocks, the triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States was opened this morning. The main of the service was such as the majestic spectacle of more than half a hundred richly robed bishops marching shoulder to shoulder. "Ghosts of Evolution" was not engraved on any banner or written as a legend on cross or vestment, but it was in the hearts of all as they proceeded to the solemn ceremony.

While the treatment shown with bright color, simplicity characterized the proceedings. The only emblem held aloft in this great procession was the glittering banner, borne in the hands of a dignified youth, who marched at the head of the column to the door of the church. The splendor of the prelates' staves was in direct proportion to the high church tendencies of each bishop.

The Right Rev. Charles Hamilton, Lord Bishop of Ottawa, the Right Rev. James Carmichael, Bishop Coadjutor of Montreal, and other visiting Canadian prelates appeared in knee breeches and leggings, velvet stockings and William Penn hats. The representatives of the Church of England were similarly attired.

The Archbishop of Canterbury drove to the church in company with Bishop Potter, of New York, and the millionaire clergymen, J. Pierpont Morgan. As the two prelates and the fraternal magnate passed by the steps of the church the latter emitted quite as much attention as his ecclesiastical brethren. He was quietly dressed in a Prince Albert coat, light Scotch trousers, and wore a high white hat.

The line of bishops was made up in the order of their consecration, the junior bishops coming first and the one being brought up by Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, the senior bishop, and hence the prevailing officer. With Bishop Tuttle in the place of honor, were the visiting prelates from England, Canada and other foreign parts. Arriving at the church, the head of the procession halted, while Bishop Tuttle and his colleagues in order of seniority passed through first. Only a few of the bishops entered within the hall. Included among the number were the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Exeter, the Lord Bishop of Ottawa, Bishop Brent of the Philippines, Bishop McKim of Tokio, Bishop Rowe of Alaska, and Bishop Van Buren of Porto Rico.

The feature of the proceedings was the opening sermon, which was delivered by the Right Rev. William Cornwall Downs, Bishop of Albany. Beyond the formal organization of the house of bishops and the house of delegates no business was transacted today. The deliberative sessions of the convention will begin tomorrow and will be held in Emmanuel Church.

NATION MOURNS PAYNE

All P. stoffices Will be Closed on Friday After-noon

Washington, Oct. 2.—Henry C. Payne, postmaster general of the United States, a member of the national Republican committee, a stalwart of his party, with the history of which, in his home state, he had been identified for many years, died at his apartments at the Arlington Hotel at 4:30 last evening, aged 60 years. Death was due to disease of the vital organs and dilation of the heart.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Flags on the government building are flying at half mast out of respect to the late Postmaster-General Payne. President Roosevelt will issue a general order closing the various executive departments on Friday, the day of the funeral here. Every postoffice in the United States will be closed during the hours of the funeral. Services here will be held at St. Joseph's Episcopal church, and will be attended by all the prominent officials of the government, and representatives of foreign nations. The remains will be shipped to Wisconsin Friday afternoon, where the funeral services will be held at All Saints Episcopal church in Milwaukee on Sunday morning. The interment will be in the Forest Home cemetery.

Washington, Oct. 2.—In succession to Mr. Payne, George Bruce Cortelyou, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, and now chairman of the Republican national committee, will become postmaster general.

Mr. Cortelyou's appointment as head of the postoffice department was determined on several months ago by President Roosevelt, when Mr. Payne indicated to the President his desire to retire from the department on account of the precarious state of his health. Mr. Payne would have resigned the portfolio long ago, had it not been for the then pending investigation of the affairs of the department. He felt, however, and said many times to his friends, that he could not relinquish the duties of the office while the investigation was pending, and expressed his determination to carry his work to a conclusion.

Election in Georgia

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 2.—Georgia's biennial state election is being held today. As the Democratic ticket is the only one in the field and as this is headed by Governor Terrell and made up of the other state officers who are candidates for re-election, the public interest in the election is naturally not very keen. In addition to the candidates for state and judicial offices there are four constitutional amendments to be voted for. These amendments are to determine whether the state tax shall forever be fixed at no higher than 5 mills, whether the state shall have 145 counties instead of 137, whether the state shall have 183 members of the house instead of 175, and whether the people of the different school districts can vote for a local taxation for school purposes.

A FAMILY REMEDY.

Per-na is in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, of Vermont, writes from Montpelier, Vt.:

CONG. H. H. POWERS.

"Per-na I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhs of the throat."—H. Henry Powers.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Per-na. As the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Per-na as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good cough remedy."

Per-na Cures Catarrh.

Half the ills of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Per-na is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession. Per-na cures catarrh wherever located. Per-na is not a gross nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Per-na has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Per-na. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, G.

MAYOR DIMICK ANGRY

Woman Sued for Libel

Oregon City, Or., Oct. 2.—Mayor Grant R. Dimick yesterday filed in Justice Briggs' court an action against Mrs. M. Hopkins, of this city, to recover $250 for alleged slander. The proceeding is the sequel to a communication Mrs. Hopkins caused to be published in a local paper last Friday, in which she discussed the salary and gambling questions, locally, and became quite personal in her remarks concerning Mayor Dimick.

Mrs. Hopkins, the defendant, is an active member of the Baptist church. About three weeks ago her son, with five other companions, all of whom but one were minors, were arrested for disorderly conduct, the boys having purchased a bush of whiskey at an Oregon City saloon. Three of the boys, including young Hopkins, were fined, the other three being dismissed. It was this incident that suggested the communication by Mrs. Hopkins. At the hearing of the case against the boys, they all admitted that the liquor was purchased by the boy who was more than 21 years of age.

When Your Cold Catches You Just There

There is No Time to Wait.

It is not a "little thing." It's a deadly thing. It will not "get well by itself" if you let it alone. Whiskey and quinine and such things brace you up for the time, but they don't cure you.

Ask any intelligent doctor why you catch cold so easily. He will say, "Because you are a bit run down." He means that the force which nature placed in your body to keep out disease germs—the resistive force—is weakened. The door is open a little way toward disease.

There is not a graveyard in any cemetery in the world caused by consumption or pneumonia or any lung trouble whatever, which did not start with what you call "Nothing but a cold."

A cold should not be beaten back or dragged over—it should be cured, and the general health should be built up.

ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY

should be taken at the first symptoms of cold. It is a tonic for the whole body, a specific for sudden colds, coughs or sore throats. It doesn't matter where the cold is or how it got there, we know that Acker's English Remedy will reach it and cure it. It is sold on a positive guarantee.

NO CURE NO PAY. If you have a cold—no matter how slight—it means something. Take Acker's English Remedy at once. Keep it in the house. If it does not relieve you almost instantly, we will refund you the price paid.

"Acker's English Remedy saved my life. A cough, slight at first, grew constantly worse and I finally had to give up my work in the Knife Factory at Walsden. I had frequent bleeding spits. Was examined by local doctors, prominent physicians in New York and at a Medical College. They all pronounced my case hopeless. I began using Acker's English Remedy and a few bottles cured me. I am today a perfectly well man." (Signed) A. H. SIMPSON, Walsden, N. Y.

Acker's English Remedy is sold on a positive guarantee that the purchase money will be refunded in case of failure. 50c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.
