"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years; and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser of Ovando, Deer Lodge Co., Mont. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. They, against my doctor's strict orders, commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser."

"I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Doctor Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 700 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

QUEEN'S JUBILEE PRESENTS

Five Million Dollars Worth at Worlds Fair

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—"The poor, dear old Queen! Five million dollars' worth of presents and not a thing she could use. Not even a sofa pillow to lay her head on; not even a pair of comfortable carpet-slippers for her tired feet."

This was Jane's comment after looking over Queen Victoria's jubilee presents which are displayed in 25 large glass cases on the upper floor of the Hall of Congress. She doubtless expected to see an array of sugar spoons, salad forks, clocks, card trays, linen napkins and other useful things such as are commonly bestowed upon the brides of our town. John thought they "might have given her a manicure set or autograph album just to make her thing of old times."

But here are over four hundred presents, mostly from the Queen's subjects in her colonies, and not one of them of any use except a sumptuous carved ivory chair, the gift of the Maharajah of Travancore. This chair is valued at $250,000, and yet I doubt if the Queen ever sat in it. The other presents consist largely of silver and sandalwood caskets, richly carved, and many of them inlaid with ivory. Many of them are cylindrical in shape, doubtless containing scrolls of parchment upon which the Queen's subjects wrote their felicitations and good wishes. A particularly costly and beautiful casket came from the Sardar Edalji Khurshedji Motti and the Parsi community of Surat. One naturally wonders why the Sardar and the Parsi community didn't send an automobile coat or a necklace of pearls or something real swell.

There are caskets galore from Allahabad, the Dewan of Palanpur Assam, the Maharajah of Orcha, the Rajah of Bobbili in Vizagapatnam, Madras, and a whole lot of Indian Rajas and Princes. There are also royal saddles and elephant tusks. The Indian Rajas and Princes meant well, but some one should have passed the word around not to make any more caskets or music cases. The two swarthy British officers who are guarding these presents are the biggest men I have seen at the exposition. The Patagonian giants are small beside them. I asked one of them what the jubilee presents were valued at. He said that no one had undertaken to estimate their value and that they were not insured. I also learned that the presents shown are only a tenth part of what the Queen received, and that their value had been estimated by American silversmiths at five million dollars.

John's step was elastic, and his face lighted up with pleasant expectancy as we climbed the hill to the Japanese pavilions and pagodas. John swears by the little Jap. He wants to see everything he does and everything he makes and I must admit that these little "Yankees of the East" are by far the most interesting people at the exposition. It is hard to think of them shelling Port Arthur and pounding the Czar's army out of its boots, so gentle, unobtrusive and mild-mannered are they. Not content with occupying a large portion of each exhibit palace with the products of their skill and industry they have thrown in this exhibit on the hill for good measure. Passing through the great carved wooden gates we sat down in a near-by tea house to rest and to drink some Formosa tea served by the little Japanese maidens who, Jane says, "are just too cute for anything."

Testimony of a Minister.
Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for 12 years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by J. C. Perry. Only 50c.
