FARMERS VISIT PARKER

Esopus, Oct. 25.—A delegation of farmers and merchants, from Orange and Rockland counties, came by boat to Rosemont this afternoon to see Parker. The nominee hands with the visitors and made a short speech. Senator Knox reiterated the charge that the trusts were the heaviest contributors to the Republican campaign funds. He said he believed the present laws were adequate to deal with illegal combinations, if Parker was elected, and if he found out they were not he would seek the enactment of better ones.

Montana Air Ship.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Floating gracefully in the air at an average height of 30 feet above the heads of several thousand spectators, the airship designed and built by T. C. Benbow, of Columbus, Mont., made what the inventor declares was a successful trial flight in the aeronautic concourse at the world's fair yesterday.

The big cigar-shaped balloon, bearing its burden of car, motor, machinery and operator, rose from the ground at 5 p. m. and, after navigating the air for 15 minutes, during which time Benbow directed the prow of his vessel towards all points of the compass, slowly descended to the ground near the starting place, and was secured by the attendants without a break having marred the success of the flight.

While Benbow appeared to have perfect control over the machine, an anchor rope, about 15 feet long, was used, one end of which was held by an assistant during the entire flight.

FIFTY CENTS

A MONTH

A small bottle of Scott's Emulsion costing fifty cents will last a baby a month—a few drops in its bottle each time it is fed. That's a small outlay for so large a return of health and comfort.

Babies that are given Scott's Emulsion quickly respond to its helpful action. It seems to contain just the elements of nourishment a baby needs most.

Ordinary food frequently lacks this nourishment; Scott's Emulsion always supplies it.

PAIN SUFFERED BY MR. MARSTON AS GREAT AS MORTAL CAN STAND.

For Six Months He Could Not Turn in Bed—He Tells of a Remedy Which Has Given Perfect Relief.

Most sufferers from the acute and persistent tortures of sciatica regard themselves as prisoners to pain for life. The case of Mr. Marston shows that sciatica can be cured, and no one afflicted by it should allow himself to be disheartened. He was first stricken about a year ago, and for six months he suffered pain, which he thinks the most intense that any man could possibly stand.

Asked about the details of his remarkable recovery, Mr. Marston gave the following account: "I was attacked by a numbness or dull feeling just back of my right hip, and every step I took after that caused me pain. I didn't know what the matter was, but thought it was simply a stiffness that would wear away in a short time. It didn't, however, and soon the pain became so very bad that every step was torture for me. When I finally succeeded in getting home, it was just as much as I could do to reach my room and get to bed.

"The doctor was sent for, and when he had examined me he said I had sciatica. He prescribed for me and advised me not to try to leave my bed. The advice was unnecessary, for I couldn't get out of bed if I wanted to. It was even impossible for me to turn from one side to the other. The moment I attempted to move any part of my body, the pain became so excruciating that I would have to stop and lie perfectly motionless.

"I suffered this torture for six months without getting any relief. Then I discharged the doctor, and on the advice of a friend I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them, three at a dose, three times a day. I was determined to give them a thorough trial.

"Two months after I began to use them I was able to leave my bed and walk about the house, and a month later I was entirely cured and able to go about my work as usual. I honestly believe that if I had used them at first, I would have been cured still more quickly. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine I ever used, and I heartily recommend them to anyone who suffers from sciatica."

Mr. Marston is a prosperous farmer and may be reached, by all who desire further particulars, by mail addressed to Charles P. Marston, Hampton P. O., New Hampshire.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally successful in curing other painful nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia, and diseases of the blood, such as rheumatism. They are sold by all druggists.

Columbia 150 Years Old.

New York, Oct. 25.—The commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of King's college (Now Columbia university), for which preparations have been going forward for almost a year, was begun today with a reception in honor of the alumni and friends of the institution. Many noted educators from various parts of the country are here to take part in the celebration, which will last several days. Tomorrow the visitors will attend the football game between Yale and Columbia and in the evening a smoker at the Columbia university club will be a feature of the program. Services of praise and thanksgiving will be held in the university gymnasium on Sunday, with Bishop Doane, of Albany, as the preacher. Monday will be the big day of the celebration. On that day the cornerstones for the several new halls and dormitory buildings of the university will be laid. These ceremonies will take place in the forenoon and will be followed in the afternoon by the university convocation, with a commemorative address by President Nicholas Murray Butler and the conferring of honorary degrees upon distinguished alumni.

Interstate Commerce Convention.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Delegates representing commercial, mercantile, agricultural and manufacturing organizations throughout the country, assembled at St. Louis today to attend the interstate commerce law congress, a call for which was issued recently. The purpose of the meeting is to devise measures to secure the enactment of legislation at the next session to give greater effectiveness to the interstate commerce act.

The convention will discuss House Bill No. 6275, introduced in the house of representatives December 8, 1903, by Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, which is identical with Senate Bill No. 2439, introduced in the senate Deember 12, 1903, by Senator Charles Charles, of Wisconsin. This bill is to define further the duties and powers of the interstate commerce commission, giving the commission power, in some instances, to make and enforce rates, and providing that the order of the commission shall become mandatory within thirty days, and so continue until suspended or set aside by the courts upon review or repeal.

A Giant Office-Seeker.

(From the New York World.) Ben Parker, owner of 35 saloons in Des Moines, Iowa, and candidate for Republican nomination as mayor of the city on a wide-open policy, has challenged Dr. I. N. McCash, state superintendent of the Iowa Anti-Saloon League, and for many years pastor of one of the most fashionable churches in Des Moines, to a joint debate on the liquor question. The challenge has been accepted, and the debate is scheduled for the largest auditorium in the city, and on the night of November 1st.

Ben Parker, in more ways than one, is the biggest saloon keeper in the Middle West. He not only represents a large number of brewing and malting concerns, conducts a grain brokerage office, owns and operates 35 saloons in the city and numerous others in other cities, but he weighs 400 pounds. He is as big as his business. He has a voice that is reminiscent of John L. Sullivan in his prime days.

"I'm a-going to name my next saloon Bishop Potter's Place," said Parker. "Why, he's a wonder. That saloon of his will skin the others to death. I'll do more business in my Bishop Potter saloon than in any two of my 35, because of the advertising he has given the whiskey business."

About the same time the Iowa state fair was held, the trustees of a prominent church asked Parker if he had a room they could use during the week. "No room empty," replied Parker, "but there will be by Saturday evening." The trustees left well satisfied, and that night Parker commenced moving the liquors out of one of his largest saloons. By Saturday night every bottle and barrel was out, and Monday morning the church people moved in. When they were through with the room Parker moved his saloon back, and refused to take a cent of rent.

This world is a contradiction. Poverty has a "V" in it.
