FRED T. MERRILL WILL OPEN THEATER

Salem will have a popular-price amusement house, according to the statements made to a Journal reporter by Fred T. Merrill, of Portland, the well-known business man and politician of that city.

Mr. Merrill arrived in Salem Sunday night to look over the field, and announced positively this afternoon that he would be in a position to give complete details within a few hours.

Whether he will purchase the Edison theatre of Mr. Wilson, the present owner, or start a new house he is unable to say, but that he will open such a place in Salem is settled. He has made an offer for the Edison, and it is understood that it will be accepted.

Mr. Merrill said that the house will be placed on one of the best vaudeville circuits in the Northwest, and the class of attractions will guarantee the patronage of the best people in town. They will be clean, refined and high-class in every respect, and the prices will be placed at 10 cents for any seat in the house. Mr. Merrill is connected with houses in Portland, Spokane and other cities, and understands the business from every standpoint. He knows how to please the public, and, being on the regular circuit, is assured of good attractions.

Mr. Wilson has been handicapped on account of playing independent from the circuits, and at times was forced to take "any old thing" that came along.

These two words, Schilling's Best, are perfect assurance of getting your money's-worth.

THANKSGIVING DAY GAME ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Conservative Forecasters Give Willamette at Least Two Touchdowns Against Albany

Thanksgiving day will witness one of the greatest football games of the year. Willamette University and Albany college will battle for supremacy on the local gridiron, and the contest will be a royal one.

Football enthusiasts have studied the probable outcome of the game, as a victory means much prestige for the winner. Willamette, while expressing confidence in the outcome, has not played with either of the big teams this year, except the game that was forced upon them early in the year by the University of Oregon, when the local team was entirely out of condition, and not fit for a game.

Corvallis has refused to meet either Willamette or Albany, and recently turned down Multnomah, after tempting offers by the club men. Albany played the U. of O. to a standstill, and were only defeated during the last 30 seconds of play by a fumble and field goal which was kicked. The big 'varsity lads were unable to make yardage through the lines of the collegians, and were held many times for downs. Impartial observers say that Albany would certainly have won the game if their regular quarter, Coates, had been able to be in his position. He will not be able to play again this year on account of injuries received while with the Multnomahs during their California trip.

Coach Bishop has developed a wonderful bunch during the time he has been with the men, and if they lose the game on Thursday it will not be his fault. They demonstrated that they could hold their line well when they played the big husky Pacific squad last Friday, and they made savage assaults on their opponents. The one weakness that Willamette has is their tackling, and it will become necessary to get down to hard work along this line during the next few days, for the up-valley giants are a slippery lot, and can not be trusted.

The teams are of about the same weight, but Albany has a shade the best of age. Englehart, Saltmarsh, Underwood, Griffith, Leonard and Francis are old hands at the business, and have played together for three seasons. They lack a coach, the Albany management allowing them to work out their own salvation as best they can. They are apt students, however, and spectators can expect to see the best game ever played in Salem, as the rivalry, while friendly and in true college spirit, is up to the top notch.

Willamette has old men in the line, as the Presbyterians will find out before the whistle blows for the end of the game. The men are in the pink of condition, and they play together like veterans. They are vigorous and heady, using the valuable experience of their coach as a safe guide to victory. At the present time it appears that Willamette has a shade the best of it, and, on any kind of a field, will be able to make at least two touchdowns against the visitors.

SOCIAL EVENTS

A very happy event was the celebration of Miss Alta Jones' 11th birthday anniversary, which was in the form of a "Pink Afternoon," given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Jones, Saturday afternoon.

The house was aglow with pink. Streamers of crepe tissue was draped from the chandeliers to the wall, while hearts of all sizes were arranged very effectively.

The young hostess was assisted in entertaining by Misses Mabel Creighton, Katie Carmichael and Nan Wagner. Games of all kinds were indulged in, and a very pleasant time was had. Several guessing games were played, in which the prizes were won by Martha Swartz, Nellie Rowells and Nunda Lembecke, while little Mark Skiff received the consolation.

Refreshments were served, in which the color scheme was carried out, the ice cream being the colors of a La France roses. The favors were large pink pins, from which each child drew a doll.

About 50 were present, and a most enjoyable time was had. Miss Alta was the recipient of many pretty presents from her friends.

H. M. Branson and wife and their son-in-law, Clifford T. White and wife, have gone to Marshfield, Coos County, to make their future home. Mr. Branson has secured an opening for a wholesale flour and feed business, having rented a good location and a residence in that live town on Coos bay, where he will be backed by an advantageous connection with the big Allen & Lewis concern, of Portland. The family have been prominent in Salem society for the past 16 years, coming here from Dexter, Kansas. For 12 years Mr. Branson engaged in the grocery business, having for partners Fred Geibel and H. H. Eagan, and last February selling out to Atwood & Fisher. They have been members of the Congregational society of this city, and will be very much missed from all circles in which they were participants. The Journal and a host of friends wish them good luck in their new home.

Saturday Football.

The U. of O. A. C. football game at Corvallis on Saturday drew a great crowd in spite of the inclement weather.

The 'varsity made a touchdown within seven minutes, and Templeton kicked goal. Walker, the big college center, made a 95-yard run for a touchdown in the second half, but the farmers failed to kick the goal, the final score standing 6 to 5. Pilkington, Root and Bonday, star men of the Agricultural college, were unable to play.

MADE FIRST TRIP

The slight rise of the river yesterday enabled the steamer Oregon to make the run to Buena Vista, taking on 1000 sacks of wheat at that place and 400 sacks of flour at Sidney. The Oregon was the last boat to make the upper river last season and is the first to make it this season. This was possible, owing to her light draft and the skillful navigation of Captain Rabbe, her commander. The captain says that is the river continues to raise at its present rate he will be able to run to Corvallis tomorrow.

Taxes Go Up.

Enforcement of prohibition in towns heretofore "wet" will greatly curtail municipal revenue, and will necessitate higher tax levies. In several towns existing charters do not allow the extra levies needed to make up for the loss of revenue from saloons, such being the case in Corvallis and Marshfield. Abolition of Saloons in McMinnville will make necessary an extra 3-mill levy, making the total eight mills. Other towns plan to raise water rents and business licenses.—Oregonian.

Enjoin the Law.

Prohibition will be fought in Yamhill and Coos counties. In Coos the liquor forces will sue to enjoin the county clerk from proclaiming prohibition. In Yamhill an effort will be made to have the county court set aside the election, as being of no effect.

OH FUDGE
Another "card craze" upon us. It is "Bunco" and "Sherlock Holmes." Last year Pit, Panic and Fling had the rage, but it is different now. "Bunco" far exceeds "Fling"—more to it, more science, more fun, while "Sherlock Holmes" keeps you busy playing "Hawk Shaw" and capturing the various "Crooks." You'll want it. The craze is coming. We have them in abundance. Fifty cents per deck.
