AMUSEMENTS.

TONIGHT.

Grand—"Who's Brown?"

Belshazzar.

The second rendition of the sacred opera "Belshazzar" was heard at the Grand last evening. The audience was small, a fact much to be regretted, considering the splendid work in solos and choruses.

The deep, well rounded voice of Geo. C. L. Snyder was never better handled by that popular young singer than it was last evening, and in the solo "Woe Is My" he was at his best.

Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, as the angel, in the solo "Arouse Ye, Arouse," received hearty applause, and her rich, melodious tones filled the large auditorium with their sweetness.

Miss Ethel M. Lytle, of Portland, is a charming soprano, with a wide range and perfect control at all pitches. She sings without affectation or display, and her audience is in perfect sympathy with her. Her rendition of "Rejoice, Oh Daughter of Zion" was one of the best things ever heard in Salem.

The Jewish quartet, consisting of Mrs. Myra Wiggins, Miss Ida Stege and Messrs. H. S. Gile, D. E. Ehmer and F. E. Snyder sang "Oh Holy and Most High," and it was one of the most charming and inspiring numbers of the evening, their perfect voices blending in the sweetest harmony.

Mrs. Etta Squiers-Seely and Mr. Chas. Glos, of Portland, were excellent. The Egyptian ballet dancers received two encores, and the drill by the maidens was another very pleasant specialty.

The chorus was prompt and snappy, giving the whole a very entertaining effect.

Mr. Marin E. Robinson, who directed the opera, showed marked ability in that capacity.

The music was faultless, and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

DON'T WAIT

Because you haven't the money entire to buy your Christmas present. A small payment down, and we will lay any article aside for you. This gives you the benefit of a large assortment and early choice, and better pleased mind and purse. We are doing this every day. There are now eleven ladies' gold watches laid away for Christmas, several gents', a number of small articles to be engraved. By the way, we do engraving free. We have some beautiful silver toilet sets, finest ever. Other useful things too numerous to mention.

TELEGRAPH

The fire in St. Mary's Hospital, in Pueblo, Colo., yesterday afternoon was subdued without the loss of life, although a number of patients suffered from the shock.

Register Bridges and Receiver Booth, of the Roseburg land office, announce that they will not resign, in spite of the reports. Inspector Greene intimates in his public statements that his reports will implicate these gentlemen in the land office.

Senator Fulton is quoted by a Washington dispatch as favoring a revision of the tariff, providing a policy against government improvements is to be adopted. He is otherwise opposed to any tariff tinkering at the present time.

The case of Senator Burton, of Kansas was argued in the United States supreme court on Wednesday. The case was appealed from one of the Missouri districts.

Hon. Thos. E. Watson, in an address to the voters of Crawfordville, Ga., delivered yesterday, says that the Democratic party has lost its place as a national organization, and is nothing but a sectional party. The hypocritical cry of "negro rule" is the only thing that gives it the least chance of success in the South.

The St. Louis fair will close this evening in a blaze of glory. It will be known as "Francis Day," and it is expected that almost the entire city will attend the closing exercises.

The official canvass of the vote in Maryland gives the Democrats seven electors and the Republicans one. Chas. J. Bonaparte, the Republican elector, carried the state over the highest Democratic elector by a plurality of 51 votes.

Albert Johnson, a laborer, was held up and robbed in a feed yard at The Dalles in broad daylight yesterday morning. The highway induced the victim to a secluded spot in the yard on the pretext that he would give him work.

The Northern Pacific railroad company refuses to pay taxes on its land in Linn county, amounting to about $10,000. The railroad secured the land by means of scrip received from worthless sand dunes in Eastern Washington about five years ago. The filings have been accepted, but the patents have not been issued, consequently the company insists that the land is not liable to be taxed by the state. As the county officials contend that they will collect taxes, it is presumed that a suit will result.

Sale of New Stamps Ends.

Washington, Dec. 1.—The postoffice department has ordered that the sale of the special issue of Louisiana Purchase exposition stamps shall be discontinued throughout the country today, in accordance with the original plan. Beginning with the Chicago world's fair in 1893 the government has issued four sets of these commemorative stamps in compliance with the request of the managers of the exhibitions held at Omaha, Buffalo and St. Louis. It is probable, however, that the custom has now come to an end. The elaborate designs of the special issue necessitates a stamp of twice the ordinary size and this has given rise to a general complaint from business men throughout the country who find that the large stamps entail considerable extra trouble in their use. Postmasters also complain of the stamps because of the large size of the sheets they are obliged to handle. For these reasons it is likely that the exhibitions of the future will meet with a rebuff when they ask for special issues of stamps to advertise their shows.

Impulse of Anger.

An atrocious murder was committed in San Francisco on Saturday last by Joseph Smith, a retired capitalist, aged 60 years, as the result of a petty quarrel over a worthless dog, says the Sacramento Bee. And the man killed was not the one he shot at, having had nothing to do with the quarrel.

This crime, like many other homicides, was the result of ungoverned anger. Many boys and men, by constantly giving way to ill temper, are on the way to the gallows. The impulse of anger is always to injure or destroy its object, and unless this savage instinct be kept in subjugation it sooner or later results in violence.

The common school education of the day teaches many things, but none more essential than the control of temper, which as a rule is not taught at all. Both the physiologists and the moral philosophers say, with good reason, there is no enemy so dangerous as a bad temper is to its possessor. And such a temper is the result of lack of self-control. There is no such thing as "ungovernable" rage; it is simply the culmination of a long course of wilful indulgence in foolish passion.
