CHINESE BABY IS CHRISTENED

The home of Hop Lee, the well-known laundryman, two doors south of The Journal office, has been the scene of much celebrating and feasting during the past three weeks, by the birth of a little daughter to the family. Thursday, December 15th was the day set apart for christening the little one, and the preparations were elaborate in the extreme. A magnificent feast was prepared, but, instead of inviting the relatives and friends to the home to partake of it, a bountiful portion was sent to the homes of the favored ones who were overjoyed to have this share in celebrating upon such a notable occasion. The only guests of the happy parents was an uncle of Hop Lee one American woman, besides the nurse, who is an American woman. Before christening the babe's head was shaved, and it was robed in American garments, except upon its head was placed a Chinese cap, richly trimmed with silk tassels and tiny mirrors. It was then laid in the father's arms, who bowed the proper number of times, and knelt before the feast table, then prayed in his native tongue, which, he explained, was the same as an American grace before eating. He then handed the baby to the nurse, who, in turn, gave it into the arms of its mother. The food was next removed from the table, none of it having been eaten, and the christening was completed, though the name for the little one was not received from his grandparents in San Francisco until the next morning. It being the custom for the parents of the mother to send a name for the new babe. Presents, more or less valuable, have been pouring in in great numbers ever since the arrival of little 'Fung Wa Lee' was made public, consisting of gold bracelets, caps with solid gold ornaments, and clothing of every sort, both American and Chinese style. Hop Lee is proud of this addition to the family, and proudly shows his little girl to his interested friends who call.

Home of Legislators.

The members of the twenty-third legislature are all ready beginning to gather into Salem to make arrangements for headquarters during the coming session, and other matters of minor importance. The Metschan house, on the corner of 12th and State streets, will be the home of Senators Dr. C. J. Smith and Walter M. Pierce, of Umatilla county, and Hon. Schiller B. Hermann, of Coos county. Senator George C. Brownell, of Clackamas, will again hold forth at his old headquarters, the Willamette Hotel, as will Hon. William T. Muir, of Multnomah. Hon. V. A. Carter, of Benton county, has also made his preparations for the coming session, and will be found at the Cross residence, 429 Chemeketa street.

Why Diamond Sales Are Slow.

The main reason why there are not so many diamonds sold this year as last is because the price has so materially advanced. The fact is also apparent that last year's heavy sales included many customers who are now supplied, but still there are some gems changing hands. One Salem man made a good trade the other day by getting a rare stone left over from last year's stock at the old price. There are still a few such to be obtained, as it is understood that C. H. Hinges, the State street jeweler, was fortunate enough to have a few left over.

AWARDS COMPLETED AT POULTRY SHOW

The judges at the poultry and dog show, by swift and efficient work, succeeded in finishing the work of making the awards last night. The dog awards were as published in The Journal yesterday, and the awards on poultry are as follows. The show will remain open until tonight, and a large crowd of dog and bird fanciers are expected to attend today from all parts of the country. This show has the finest exhibits of this kind ever gathered together in the Willamette valley.

HENRY N. THIELSEN DEAD

Wealthy Uncle of Salem Man Passes Away

H. B. Thielsen, of his city, received the sad news today of the death of his uncle, Henry N. Thielsen, of Flensburg, Germany. He had been previously advised of his serious illness by cable, and the news was not entirely unexpected. Mr. Thielsen was 86 years old, and leaves but three heirs in this country—H. B. Thielsen, of Salem; Horace W., of Hubbard, and Julius S., of Providence, R. I. Deceased leaves an estate of nearly $100,000, including considerable valuable property in this city which is disposed of by will. H. B. Thielsen leaves this afternoon for New York, and will probably go to Germany before his return. Henry N. Thielsen was a guest of his relative at Salem during the summer of 1899 and spring of 1900, and made many friends.

Indigestion, insomnia, overwork, may be the possible cause of your headache, but Wright's Paragon Headache Cure is as certain as the sun rises. No scientific truth more wonderful than the amount of positive relief contained in one small wafer or tablet. Down goes the cure, away goes the headache, up go your spirits. That is the process. The most desirable feature of this medicine is in its immediate action, as it will generally relieve the most severe pain in five minutes, while at the same time it is harmless, tasteless, will not purge or disturb the stomach, and has no unpleasant after-effects. Wright's Paragon Headache Cure may be relied upon as being free from anything of an injurious nature, and is absolutely without a rival. When you think of Christmas, think of Hinges.

Our Holiday Sale Is a Phenomenal Success

Not only the goods specially mentioned but our whole stock has got a move on. We have a lot of Juvenile Suits ranging from four to nine years old, that we offer while they last at 50c on the dollar. Bring the little fellows to us. We will fix 'em.

Salem Woolen Mill Store, C. P. BISHOP, Proprietor

Two in Court. John W. Gilpin who was before the police court last night, charged with disorderly conduct, was given his choice between 30 days in jail and a $40 fine, and took the days. T. C. Lenine was given 21-2 days on the same charge. This morning two vagrants, who were taken up during the night, were arraigned and given their walking papers, with instructions to take a tie-pass out of the city, and the promise of a nice vacation in the jail if they returned. New Proceedings Necessary. Attorney-General Crawford is working on new condemnation proceedings against O. R. & N. Co. land which was condemned for The Dalles-Celilo canal about two months ago, but the government has changed the description of the property, and the new proceeding must go through the courts on account of obstacles in the way of mortgages on part of the land. These new proceedings are not being fought by the company, and it is thought that the matter can be closed by the first of next week.
