SOCIAL EVENTS

Watch Party.

A jolly watch night party was that given by Miss Margaret Lansing at the ome of her parents, Mr. and C. F. amsing, on the Garden Road.

About 30 of Miss Margaret's friends vere present, all of whom report a most mjovable time, and declare the hos ess to be a charming entertainer. Numerous leap year games were joyfully indulged in, and several entertaining pieno numbers were given by Miss irace Alderson and Miss Florence Lis-

Partners for the delicions supper vere chosen in a novel way. A sheet was bung between the double parlors, and the young men were ushered into the front parlor, while the girls reunined in the back parlor, and one at a time lined up in front of the sheet. The young man guessing who it was was permitted to take the young lady

Just as the old year died and the new ne dawned, a cannon, hidden on the lawn, was shot, and a number of songs were given by some of the guests in welcome to the new year. The hours were "wee sma"," when the merry crowd reluctantly dispersed.

Vacation Social.

A number of University students who were unable to go home for the holidays, very appropriately observed the death of the old year and the birth of the new, at the Young Ladies' Hall, In comparison to the large number of students who usually throng those coms when anything of this kind is going on, the gathering looked rather mall and lonesome. It was only in coks, however, for a jollier time was never had. A very interesting impromptu program was rendered, consisting of rendings by Miss Ruby Phelps and musical numbers by Miss Mae Phelps, Miss Mahaffie, Mr. Markell and Mr. Catlow. The young ladies did not forget that it was the last night of leap year, and apparently did not neglect my opportunities. Numerous games, mitable to the occasion were played, and when the new year arrived the usual quota of new resolutions were made. It was at a late hour, or rather an early hour, when the merry students departed, each wishing for every one that this new year might be the hap piest of their lives, thus fur.

Happy New Year

This has been a year kind to us not only in volume of trade, but in many encouraging words spoken in behalf of our efforts in bettering the furniture conditions of this locality. We appreciate good will and shall take advantage of every opportunity to promote it in our business. Notwithstanding the excellent results of this year's business, we are planning for greater and better service in the coming year.
