BASKET BALL TONIGHT

"Eat Em Up" Win From Bookkeepers 22 to 19-Varsity and All Stars Battle for Championship

The next game to be played in this city will be tonight, when the first team of the University meets the All Stars of the Y. M. C. A. in the 'Varsity gymnasium to battle for the basket ball championship of Salem. A hot game is expected by the enthusiasts as the Y. M. C. A. team has met and defeated some of the best teams in the state, while the representatives of the school are not to be despised as opponents. Pollard and Judd have once more come to the rescue of the Cardinal and Old Gold and will appear for the first time this season in the basket ball field. This leaves four of the old team in their original places and only one new man, Simpson taking the cold station filled by Matthews, the latter being too busy this year with his school work to take up athletics. The lineup of the two teams is as follows:

Varsity.	Y. M. C. A.
Forwards.	Rhodes
Miller	Allen
Judd	Center.
Pollard	Yantis
Guards.	Jones
Whipple	Steinbach
Simpson	Referee—Matthews.

A closely contested and exciting game of basket ball was witnessed Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium when the Capital Business College team went down to defeat before the second 'Varsity aggregation, more commonly known as the "Eat 'Em Ups." The game was hotly fought throughout and more than once the backers of the 'Varsity were in doubt as to their ability to carry off the honors of the evening, but after 40 minutes of hard playing and harder strategy the score was chalked up as 22 to 19 in favor of the "Eaters."

Rader, who replaced Hunt in the second half distinguished himself as of old when seen upon the gridiron, when he threw three field goals and a like number were scored by Moore and Price for the university, while Humphreys threw a like number for the business college. The lineup Saturday evening was as follows:

"Eat-'E-Ups.	Business College
Forwards.	Phelps
J. Moore	Humphreys
P. Hunt-Rader	Center.
A. Price	Manston
Guards.	C. Hunt
O. Forbes	Hewitt
R. Price	Referee, Simpson.
Umpire, Fechter.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown returned last night from several days in Portland.

Tonka, the usual cheat for vanilla, costs one or two cents for a certain amount. Schilling's Best vanilla a dollar.

One is strong; the other is fine. One is rank; the other is delicate. Nevertheless four-fifths of "vanilla" is tonka. The 98 cents accounts for it.

ROBERTS WAS NOT DOPED

Says Police Judge Moores---Water in Basement Will Stay

R. Roberts, who claimed he was doped, but who Police Judge Moores concluded was drunk, was this morning fined $3, and will spend 1 1/2 days in jail, rather than pay the fine. Roberts is an old offender, and every time that he is arrested for drunkenness he puts up the same plea, i. e., that he had been drugged, and had not drunk to excess. The judge evidently knew of his former misdeeds, and also knowing that he had in his possession $8.10, when arrested, concluded to let him off light, so that, after paying his fine, he would still have one-half of his money left. Roberts did not look at things in this light, and thought that he could not earn $3 easier than by staying in jail for the greater part of two days, consequently he will work on the streets today and tomorrow, and board at the expense of the city.

The city hall today is not the warmest of places, it being in the same predicament as many other buildings in the city the basement is so full of water that a fire cannot be started. A rumor has been afloat this morning that the men charged with vagrancy the fore part of last week, were to be put at bailing it out, but this seems to be without foundation, for Engineer DeLong, of the fire department, says that at one time he worked for two days and one night trying to keep the water out of the basement of the building with an engine, but without success, and it is not likely that the job will be tried by hand.

A demurrer has been argued in the case of Elsworth Nichols, charged with vagrancy, and, by consent, the case has been continued until later in the week.

COLLECTOR STOLE MONEY

Governor Chamberlain last night issued a warrant and requisition for Samuel H. Hooper, who is now under arrest at San Francisco on the charge of larceny by embezzlement. Hooper, who was a driver of one of the Portland Troy laundry wagons, is convicted in Judge Hogue's court of stealing the funds, which he collected from customers on his route, which money he was supposed to turn over to the cashier. John Tate manager, of the laundry, makes the complaint, and states that although Hooper received the princely salary of $12 per week, this did not seem to satisfy his wants, and he helped himself to the funds belonging to the company, and then departed for a healthier climate. Detective Dan Werner, of Portland is named in the warrant as the officer to go to San Francisco and bring back the prisoner. As Hooper is not wanted for anything in California, Governor Pardee will doubtless recognize the requisition, and the prisoner will be sent back without any trouble.

She Was Mad.
Myrtle—Why, Maud, what is the matter; you look all upset.
Maud—Yes, Myrtle, I am real angry. You see the store where we trade has no bicycle rack, and I had to put my wheel down in the gutter, and that always makes me angry. I feel that it is an insult to my nice new wheel to put it in the street gutters, which are intended for filth and dirty water. I am going to ask papa if we can't trade where the merchant has some consideration for the three thousand bicycle riders of Salem. I don't intend to be compelled to lift my wheel up and down, in and out of gutters, every time I go shopping. 1-20-1m Oregona at Peoria.

The steamer Oregona, under the skillful navigation of Captain Raabe, was yesterday taken up the river as far as Peoria, but was unable to load 1500 sacks of wheat which are at Fisher's mill, at that place, awaiting shipment, on account of the extremely low water. It was possible to take the boat into the mill, but the good judgment of the captain would not allow him to load her on account of the many snags that lay between the mill and the open channel. The boat was brought to Salem this morning, where she took on a large cargo of flour at the Salem mills, and then pulled out for Portland.
