THE SWORD VERSUS THE PEN.

"More fame for C. E. S. Wood."—Salem Journal.

"That undeveloped jumble of intellectual confusions labeled C. E. S. Wood, of Portland, has been lecturing to the Woman's club of that city. What have the women of that town been doing to deserve such punishment? Besides, he discussed national banks and the tariff. That is the limit, and we look for arrivals at one of the state institutions."

The above was taken from the editorial page of the Oregonian (reproduced from the Salem Journal). The fact that it refers to me is wholly immaterial. I reprint it to show the intolerance which those armed with a printing press show to difference of opinion. This courteous and dignified utterance does not attempt either a statement of views or a discussion, and is only worthy of notice as illustrating the essential blackguardism which exists in this particular case, and the cowardly bullying which often characterizes those who feel secure in spilling ink upon the passerby. I understand it was written by one Colonel Hofer, editor of the Salem Journal. He evidently believes that the pen is mightier than the sword, and a great deal safer. I do not intend to intimate that there are in the journalistic profession many of so coarse a fiber. From such a kernel we must expect shaft.—Colonel C. E. S. Wood in the Pacific Monthly for December.

The above is making serious matter of a little manifestation of humor on the part of this paper.

Colonel Wood is hereby notified that the above headline in quotation attributed to the Salem Journal belongs to the Oregonian.

As a literary man, Colonel C. E. S. Wood should appreciate the pointed, glittering style of writing employed on this paper.

The paragraph quoted from The Journal is what appears frequently in this paper under the column entitled X-Rays.

It is a style of humor that should never be taken seriously, and is generally taken as irony and burlesque by our well-informed readers.

Colonel C. E. S. Wood is said to be a noted sword fighter, and probably considers that a safer weapon for him to engage an ordinary journalist with. A man who cannot see anything funny in discussing national banks and tariff before such a delightful body as a woman's club certainly has an undeveloped sense of humor.

The Journal regrets that Colonel Wood has taken offense at a perhaps too scathing application of the X-Ray. Once in a while that X-Ray process burns the victim's hide, and that is always regretted by this paper. It offers Colonel C. E. S. Wood due and humble apology, but is not afraid of his sword.

EXPENSE, EXPENSE.

That is now the howl to keep the Salem school board from putting up a creditable school building.

That is the old cry in some parts of this state. No matter what is needed the cry is expense, expense.

At San Diego, Cal., on the Mexican line, stands a state normal school that is a finer building than our state capital.

It has never been occupied, but soon will be. It has polished granite columns, and cost the state $300,000.

That state has lower taxes than we have, and there is no continual cry about expense, expense.

The best and most progressive government is not inconsistent with low rates of taxes.

The Capital City cannot afford to have any more cheap, combustible buildings for its public schools.

Let there be one modern, model, fireproof school building erected, and cut out every dollar of graft.

Those who howl hardest about expense are nine times out of ten the beneficiaries of grafts that have made them rich.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC LANDS.

The speaker named Representative Bingham of Lane county as chairman of this important committee.

Mr. Bingham is a sawmill man, and above all is a very fair-minded man.

He will be charged with the important duty under the Cavender resolution of investigating the methods by which a great corporation acquired title to about 400,000 acres of timber land in this state.

A large amount of these Northern Pacific lands have recently been sold to the Weyerhaeuser syndicate for $5 per acre. At this price the Northern Pacific railroad lands in Oregon are worth from two to four million dollars.

Just what extent this investigation will take cannot be foreshadowed. The impression is that title to these lands was obtained under acts of congress, and therefore the state is not responsible, unless it was done by securing base from state authorities.

THE OLD STATE TEXT-BOOK COMMISSION.

Governor Chamberlain deserves commendation for reappointing the entire present school text-book commission.

The members are Harvey W. Scott, Wm. S. Ladd, F. L. Campbell, Wm. Colvig and C. A. Johns.

These men deserve credit for having rid the state of the most obnoxious text-book monopoly that ever cursed a commonwealth.

That was made possible under the Daly law that was enacted by the legislature six years ago, and made reform possible.

Prior to the enactment of that law there was a terrorism exerted over the educators of the state that made them fear the book trust.

Under the new text-book commission law this pressure has been relieved, and each teacher feels free to express their honest opinion of text-books.

By continuing the old text-book commission, Governor Chamberlain has shown his freedom from trust influences, and his friendship for education.

The old commission will not make a new adoption for two years, but, in the meantime, the state board of education can take steps to improve the adoption made three years ago.

In a number of instances there are books that can be lopped off, and the system of text-books improved and made less expensive. The state board of education should take steps to that end.

Governor Chamberlain deserves credit for making this appointment of a text-book commission outside the party lines, and against a great deal of pressure from politicians for places.

X-RAYS

Some of the members of the house think that if prisoners set fire to jails they ought to take their chances of getting burned.

Senator Hobson's joint memorial to prohibit combinations between fire insurance companies was unanimously adopted, and is a good move in the right direction.

Brownell's bill requiring the state laws to be published more generally for the benefit of all citizens is meeting with general approval. This will give the people of the state all the laws in such shape that no man can plead ignorance.

ANARCHY REIGNS

Czar Receives Workmen.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—The Czar received 33 workmen at Tsarskoe Selo, at 3:30 this afternoon. He listened to their complaints and demands.

His majesty then listened to the narrative of the committee of workmen and their demands, and the deputations promised to hold an inquiry into the affairs brought forward. The Czar said: "We shall meet revolts by military force, but we are sure the workmen are devoted to us, and we pardon them. We promise we shall try to improve the conditions of labor." Upon withdrawing the delegation went to the church, where they gave thanks for having been granted an interview.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—The deputation was accompanied by the minister of finance, Kokovsov, Governor-General Trepoff. The Emperor entered the hall accompanied by the Grand Duke Mikhailovitch, General Hesse, minister of the imperial court. Addressing the workmen, the Czar lamented the recent events which led to bloodshed. He said it occurred because the workmen allowed themselves to be led astray by traitors and enemies of the country. He kne wth the lot of the workmen was not easy, but the needs of the country and the conditions of the industries must be considered. To come to him as a rebellious mob to declare their wants was a crime. After promising an official investigation, the Czar advised them to return to work, dismissing them with "and God assist you."

Berlin, Feb. 1.—It is rumored that Count Wolken, the prefect of Warsaw, has been assassinated.

Chief of Police Shot.

Odesa, Feb. 1.—Chief of Police Galovino was shot in the shoulder by workmen while in his carriage in front of the police station today. The assailant was arrested.

Thomas Balmer, advertising manager of the Butterick publications, says: "You cannot kill an elephant with a popgun. Neither can you get a page effect with an inch advertisement."

Which is just another way of saying you cannot do justice to your new stock with a small ad. Suppose you try a page ad. in this paper.

FIRST BLOW STRUCK

House Goes on Record Against Fishing Monopoly

Bill for a Constitutional Convention May Be Reconsidered

The house today, by a nearly unanimous vote, passed the bill to destroy the Hume fishing rights on the Rogue river.

A bill is now to be put through to sweep the Columbia river of all traps, wheels and fishing wires the length of the state.

The first body blow has been struck at the vested interests in this industry that represents millions.

An effort will be made to revive the bill for a constitutional convention. The pledge of a Democratic senator that Mr. U'Ren has all the needed amendments to the present constitution under preparation on the initiative and referendum plan has caused comment.

Under the decision read by Senator Brownell in his speech there is not an appropriation for an institution outside of Salem that is not open to attack in the courts. It has been decided whether the motion to revive the matter will be made in the house or senate.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME
Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR and MRS. SCHWANDT, Sanborn, Minn.

MR and MRS. JOHN O. ATKINSON, Independence, Mo.

Remarkable Cures Effected By Pe-ru-na.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life.

"In June, 1896, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me. Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more."—John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

Mrs. Alla Schwandt, Sanborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. Having used Peruna I can sleep, nothing bothers me now. If I ever affected with any kind of sick Peruna will be the medicine I use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Peruna."—Mrs. Schwandt.

Why Old People are Especially Prone to Systemic Catarrh.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people. This explains why Peruna has been so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the remedy yet devised that entirely cures these cases. Nothing but an effective systemic remedy can cure them.

A reward of $10,000 has been deposited in the Market Exchange Bank, Columbus, Ohio, as a guarantee that the testimonials are genuine; that we in our possession authentic letters testifying to the same. During years' advertising we have never in part or in whole, a single spurious testimonial. Every one of our testimonials are genuine and in the name of the one whose name is appended.

A Short History of OREGON

COMPILED BY SIDONA V. JOHNSON

According to the Oregonian, "she has covered the ground thoroughly"

EARLY DISCOVERIES THE LEWIS AND CLARK EXPLORATIONS SETTLEMENT GOVERNMENT INDIAN WARS PROGRESS

FROM HENRY E. BOSCH, author of "History of Oregon" and "The Lewis and Clark Expedition."

"The school children of the state are entitled to an opportunity to study it, to the end that the history of the state and the great and memorable achievement of Lewis and Clark may be intelligently understood and appreciated by every man, woman and child in Oregon before the opening of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition."

FROM THE PORTLAND JOURNAL

"Miss Johnson has succeeded in her noble task in a manner most creditable to her talents and promise of a new writer. The charm of the Oregon story has been maintained in a happy sympathy with the history and painstaking research which she has worked, and give the reader a comfortable feeling of confidence."
