RIOTS IN RUSSIA AFFECTING THE ARMY

Japanese Make Night Attack, Outflanking Russians but were Finally Repulsed With Heavy Losses.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—The Japanese made a night attack on the Russian position at Chenlai Lin pass, and outflanked the Russian detachment. Reinforcements compelled the Japanese to retire with a loss of 100 killed and many wounded. The Russian casualties were 15 killed and 37 wounded.

London, Feb. 3.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Daily Chronicle wires that General Kuropatkin has sent a message to the Czar, asking him for advice and guidance. The Japanese, Kuropatkin reports, according to the correspondent, have succeeded in distributing among the Russian troops detailed accounts of the events of the bloody Sunday at St. Petersburg, and in consequence the temper of the troops is ugly in the extreme.

For the present General Kuropatkin reported to the Czar, according to the correspondent, the troops may be relied upon to stick to their posts, but it is difficult to forecast their future actions. It would be useless, at any rate, to command them to resume the advance, as the result of such an order may prove disastrous.

Join Rojestvensky's Fleet.

Jibuti, Feb. 3.—Admiral Rojestvensky's division of the second Russian Pacific squadron sailed from here yesterday to join Rojestvensky's fleet, off the east coast of Madagascar. Eighteen German colliers will follow.

Will Receive Laborers.

London, Feb. 3.—A St. Petersburg dispatch states that the Czar has decided to receive the deputation of workmen from the government printing works.

Fourteen Thousand Struck.

Liège, Belgium, Feb. 3.—Fourteen thousand coal miners struck today for higher wages. The national congress of miners will meet soon to consider a general strike.

Will Submit New Protocol.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Notwithstanding the reports from Santa Domingo that the United States had taken over the management of the customs in accordance with the recent agreement, the mystery of the "Dawson," and Commander Dillingham, of the state department announces today that the agreement has been rejected by this government. It is stated, however, that a new protocol will be submitted to the senate for ratification, covering the main points of the first agreement.

Senate Sets as Court.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The senate at 10 o'clock resolved itself into a court of impeachment and received the formal reply to Judge Swayne's impeachment charges. Senator Thurston was counsel for Swayne and read the answer of the respondent to the charge of returning an expense account of $10 per day while outside of the district. Respondent declared that he believed the law intended to allow that amount as a reasonable compensation. As a proof of his construction of the law, proper copies of similar charges were made by the judge of the third, fifth, seventh and ninth districts appended.

Probably Murdered.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 3.—Joseph Raciel, a wealthy Californian, who has been securing options on farm property in this section, mysteriously disappeared, and his friends believe that he has been killed by highwaymen, and his body hid in the woods. He is said to have had a large sum of money on his person when he disappeared.

$100,000 Fire.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—A fire today destroyed Tuckett's cigar factory, Merchants' Telephone Exchange and the Peerless Gaslight Companies' establishments. The loss will reach $100,000.

GETTING AFTER BIG CARRIERS

Interstate Commerce Commission Announces Opinion

Washington, Feb. 3.—The interstate commerce commission today formally announced the opinion in the Santa Fe rebate case, holding that the company for the last five years has "wilfully and continuously violated" the provisions in the law which requires all carriers to publish and adhere to their tariffs. The statement calls attention to the fact that after the company had been enjoined, in 1902, to observe this feature of the Elkins law from that date to November 27, 1904, the company has continued to disregard the court's order. The opinions also charge the Colorado Fuel & Iron company with systematically violating the provisions of the act in accepting a tariff on coal less than the published rates.

Secretary Morton's name was not mentioned in the opinion which was prepared by Commissioner Prout. The entire matter has been placed by the commission in the hands of the attorney-general for such further proceedings as he may deem proper under the law. The opinion says the evidence produced will show that competition was shut out by the agreement of the railroad and Colorado Iron & Fuel Co., and that the railroad and coal company are virtually partners in the business.

LABOR TROUBLES SUBSIDING

Minor Clashes Continue-Manufacturers Cut Off From Coal Supply

Warsaw, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Modz states that a large body of strikers, while attempting to compel the employees of a lace factory to quit work, were fired on by troops. It is reported the fighting continues this afternoon. The coal miners struck this morning in the district of Dombrowa and Sosnowice. It is feared this will have a serious effect on the industrial situation generally, as many manufacturing centers were dependent upon these districts for coal. The number of lives lost as a result of the rioting here is now estimated at 300. The unidentified dead will be buried tonight.

In the fighting at Lodz six strikers were killed and 48 wounded. The shooting occurred at the Kounitzer factory and the Keller lace factory.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—Kuropatkin reports that the Japanese attack on Chantan was repulsed, and stated on reliable authority that General Gripenberg was asked to resign his command. He refused, and therefore will be recalled.

TIDE LAND RIGHTS

Of Riparian Owners Have Been Made General by an Amendment

An innocent amendment of a Columbia river tide land act has been extended to the whole state.

The senate amendment to the terms of house bill No. 57, establishing riparian rights to tide land owners by adding the words "provided that owners of tide lands which have been sold by the state of Oregon should have the exclusive right to use the waters fronting the same from such tide lands to the channel of said river for the purposes aforesaid."

This amendment extends exclusive rights of fishery to owners of all tide lands, and reverses the action of the house of a few days before. It makes tide land rights of riparian owners uniform for the whole state.

The Fadeless Flower.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Feb. 3.—Luther Burbank, the horticultural wizard, has given the refusal of his wonderful fadeless flower to the Paris, London and San Francisco millinery concerns. It is understood that no price is set, and that Mr. Burbank did not do so until the flower was brought to a full state of perfection.

PROTECT STATE FUNDS

Important Bill Prepared by Senator Kuykendall President of the Senate

One of the most important bills of the 23d session of the general assembly is the one to provide for safe keeping of the state funds. The bill takes effect in 1907, and will yield a large revenue to the state if enforced. In Wisconsin, Minnesota and other states, loaning of surplus treasury funds is one of the chief sources of revenue to the state.

The bill provides that all unused state treasury funds shall be loaned to any national bank or chartered banking institution having a capital stock of $50,000 paid up, and giving the best rate of interest for the money and putting up ample security for the handling of state funds.

This is one of the best propositions brought before this legislature, and is now in the hands of the committee on banking and insurance of the senate.

Guard Shot Man.

New York, Feb. 3.—One man was shot dead by Private Lawrence, and three others narrowly escaped the same fate while attempting to steal metal from the Brooklyn navy yard early this morning.

BIGGEST FIGHT OF SESSION

Between State Department and Representatives of Miners

A square issue has been joined between the department of state, headed by Secretary Dunbar, and the representatives who favor the Bingham law to exempt unproductive mines from its operations. The Bingham bill has passed the house and will be pushed to a finish by the mining interests in the senate.

Secretary Dunbar was represented in the house by Representative Kay, who made an able effort to prevent passage of the bill. The opponents of the Bingham bill claim its passage would be the first step to destroy the usefulness of the Eddy corporation tax law.

The battle may involve the defeat of some of Fish Warden Van Dusen's legislation. The Von der Hellen bill in the house, for another state deputy in Southern Oregon for Van Dusen, was defeated in the house, and it is said no more appropriations for the fish warden will be allowed to go through unless the miners get some relief from what they claim are the unjust provisions of the Eddy law.
