pearance, and became more and more in favor with each new turn. The champagne dance especially was a hit and several encores were responded to. Fred Freeman as "Donald Gregor," although handicapped by a severe cold, also scored a hit in "Tessie," and was forced to repeat the chorus several times before quiet could be restored.

"Soldiers of Fortune."

White Whittlesey, who created so great an impression when he was seen here last November in "Heartsease," has been secured for a return engagement at the Grand opera house on Saturday evening, February 4, and will be presented by his managers, Belasco, Mayer and Price, in a big scenic production of Richard Harding Davis' famous American Drama, "Soldiers of Fortune."

"Soldiers of Fortune," dramatized for the stage by Augustus Thomas from Richard Harding Davis' thrilling story of adventure, has proven to be a universal success, because it combines all the necessary elements of tragedy, love, comedy and the peril of armed conflict, all employed with excellent effect in marked contrast and striking situations. "Soldiers of Fortune" tells the story of the young civil engineer, Robert Clay, the hero, who goes to South America in the interest of his employers, some New York capitalists, becomes embroiled in a revolution, is proclaimed dictator, and in the end comes out victorious and marries the girl of his choice.

Seats on sale at box office Saturday at 9 a. m.

Edison Theatre.

The Edison received its share of theatre-goers. There was a change in the acts. Elliott sang and played harp melodies. Harvey Steele, as an old woman, roller skated, Harry Moyer sang and LaMont's Australian cockatoos acted. The Edison-scope showed clever pictures from life's darkest side. Next week another big host of novelties.

Help the County Schools.

H. B. No. 180, by Carter, to provide for school district libraries, was made a special order for Monday at 2 p. m. The Carter bill levies a tax of 10 cents for each child to furnish libraries for country schools.

In this day and age of the world school children should not be limited for reading matter to the contents of their text-books.

Boys and girls in cities have the benefit of libraries, and why not give the same privilege to them in the country, asks Mr. Carter?

Bunch of Five.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dunn, who are tenants on the E. M. Croisan farm, on route No. 3, south of the city, were in town today, and had with them their children, a bunch of five little boys and girls, all as bright as they make them, that would have done the heart of President Roosevelt good to see them. Only two of the five were over five years old, and they have a right to be proud of their little family.

BRANCH LINE BILL

Was Discussed - Members of the House Tabled it

The special order for consideration of the Killingsworth bill, to secure car privileges and rates for connecting lines of railroads, arrived, and the author took the floor for the bill in a spirited speech and demanded that the house come to a vote on this bill. He said 500,000 people demanded that the members go on record for or against this measure.

Smith, of Josephine, made an earnest plea for control and regulation of rates. This bill was only a small step in the right direction. He opposed the reference of the bill back to the committee again.

Bingham said, in a spirit of fairness and justice, the committee should consider the bill and hear both sides.

Mears said it was a bill to help out Mr. Reed, of Portland to build a road to Nahalem. The proposed road was on paper. The Harriman system was willing to give track privileges to any connecting lines.

McLeod opposed reference. It meant burial and premature death. They should not strangle this bill in its infancy.

For reference 22, against 27.

So the bill was read the third time.

Mr. Killingsworth asked that the courtesy of the house be extended to Mr. Fenton, to make any argument he might see fit.

That gentleman declined, and the author of the bill took the floor for the bill. He recited the history of the Oregon & California railroad.

Smith closed the debate in an earnest plea for the bill.

Kay made a strong plea for sending it back to the committee. He wanted to know if there was any branch lines in the state that did not get rates from the connecting lines, or were discriminated against. This bill would grant no relief to the people or give them any rights they did not now possess.

Linthicum said, like Kay and Bailey, he did not understand the bill.

Mears moved to lay on table until next Friday. Carried.

"That means the death of the bill," said Killingsworth.

MUSIC FOR FAIR

Portland, Feb. 3.—With four world famous bands already engaged, and negotiations with several other noted organizations progressing favorably, the success of the musical feature of the Lewis and Clark exposition is assured.

The famous Frederick Innes band has been engaged to play for four weeks, beginning June 1, the opening day of the exposition, and Liberatti's and Ellery's bands have also been secured. Charles Dierks, of Portland, will organize a band to play a four weeks' engagement, from July 27 to August 23. Negotiations are pending for the appearance of the famous United States Marine band of Washington, D. C., the official Mexican government band of the City of Mexico, and a band from Honolulu, H. T.

Three official, or administration bands, will also be engaged. These bands will take turns in escorting the governors of states state delegations and distinguished personages from the union depot to their hotels, and subsequently to the exposition grounds; to play at receptions and banquets, and furnish part of the orchestral accompaniment for serenades in festival hall. The bands will be under the leadership of Charles L. Brown, of Portland, leader of Brown's Park band; Alberto de Caprio of Portland, a native of Italy, who conducts De Caprio's band, and Will McElroy, of Salem, Ore., who is said to be the best bandmaster in the Upper Willamette valley.

American Squadron.

Manila, Feb. 1.—The American squadron, consisting of 15 warships, called today from Luzon for the waters of the southern archipelago, to maintain strict neutrality in American waters between the Russian and Japanese fleets.

The Oregan Chamber of Commerce has decided to turn the management of the Oregan county exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair over to a central organization of seven members, one to be named from the towns of Bandon, Coquille, Myrtle Point, Marshfield, Empire and North Bend. The provision is to be 50x50 feet.

DIRECT LAW MAKING

Program by Champions of Initiative and Referendum

Having defeated the calling of the constitutional convention, the advocates of direct law making have undertaken to supply all needed amendments to the constitution. At least six sections will be amended by the Direct Legislation League at the next election. These amendments will be got ready and petitions got out for them under the leadership of Mr. U'Ren, of Oregon City. Mr. U'Ren is attending this session of the legislature, and has secured the co-operation of the churches and labor organizations on whatever may be undertaken. The presence of a large number of ministers at the sessions of the legislature to defeat any amendment of the local option law, and the fight of the Portland churches on the proposed revision of the constitution indicated the line-up or program.

Another bill passed by the people was the direct primary law, and it is understood that Mr. U'Ren has consented to some minor amendments to this law. But the Direct Law Making League will have a list of bills that are to be killed by the referendum if they pass.

The friends of the initiative and referendum confidently assert that if rightly applied it will cure all the defects of the constitution and the law-making power.

Fiendish Suffering

is often caused by sores, ulcers and cancers, that eat away your skin. Wm. Redell, of Flat Rock, Mich., says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Ulcers, Sores and Cancers. It is the best healing dressing I ever found." Soothe and heal cuts, burns and sores. 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store; guaranteed.

PROTECTS HOTEL KEEPERS

Bill to Enable Them to Punish Dead Beating

The bill to protect hotelkeepers against dead beating of bills for board has passed the senate and is to be favorably reported in the house. County Judge Booth, of Grant's Pass, is in the city and says: While he is no longer in the hotel business, this is a measure of justice and protection to which the hotelkeepers are entitled. He says that in 20 years as hotel proprietor he lost $4000, and other hotel men can tell similar experiences. There should not be a vote against the measure in the house.
