A small army of artists and florists. painters and decorators were busily employed in the Pension building today putting the finishing touches to the work of preparing for the inaugural ball. The decorations are on the most elaborate scale ever attempted here. The wall and columns and the windows and every nook and corner will be filled with greens and cut flowers, palms and ferns, flags and banners and bunting. Tiny electric light bulbs have been grouped in arches. circles, semi-circles and squares, and designs of every conceivable description and shields and coats of arms of the various states hang in conspicuous

The committee on arrangements report that fully 12,000 people will gather in the great ballroom to do honor to the newly inaugurated President. The chief attraction, of course, will be the Presidential party. Second will come those prominent in the affairs of the nation, such as cabinet officers, members of the diplomatic corps and senators and representatives. The third class will include all not mentioned in the first two.

The Marine band, reinforced by sev eral other organizations of almost equal fame, will furnish the music, As an additional attraction there will be a mixed chorus of 6000 voices that will sing patriotic songs in greeting to the new chief executive and the guests of the evening.

The President will be officially received at 9 o'clock, and from then until midnight he will receive informally. The day being Saturday, in def erence to the religious scruples of the American people, it has been decreed that the Sabbath shall not be desccrated. Hence all of the festivities will come to an end premptly at mid-

Detectives at Washington.

Detectives have been brought to Washington from all the principal cities of the United States for the protection of the tens of thousands of inaugural visitors. Many of the visitors here to see President Roosevelt take the oath of office are simple-minded people from the rural districts of the country-the very kind the crooks and pickpockets of the large cities follow. West Point eadets arrived today It is wellknown that several of the the naval cadets will come over most dangerous confidence men of the Annapolis in the morning in time country have been attracted to Washtake part in the inauguaration palington. Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. O., says: "For years my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and credit, or otherwise, unless contracted healthy." J. C. BRONCHITIS

Everybody Knows What It Is-But Everybody Does Not Know What Will Cure It.

GEO W. PUTNAM TELLS THE PEO-PLE OF SALEM.

Asked one day in his store the question, "What is good for bronchitis?" Mr. Putnam, our, our well-known druggist, answered, "The best way I can tell you is to ask you to read this letter from Miss Anna Ray, of Bangor, Me. We have lots of such cases right here at home."

It read as follows:

"For five years I was troubled with terrible cough and bronchitis, tried a great many different preparations without getting relief. I could not sleep, and I became so weak I could hardly walk, and coughing day and night. Then I took Vinol. What a godsend that first bottle was! I had not taken half of it before I noticed a change for the better. I took four bottles in all and am entirely cured, and in perfect health."

"Now I have been talking up Vinol to the people of Salem for a long time," continued Mr. Putnam, "and I suppose some people think I am crazy on the subject, but really I hear such time that I believe it to be the greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchilike to sell a thing that gives satisfaction. Vinel is cod liver oil mediwill do good, Vinol will do more good. for it is delicious to the taste and powerful as a curative agent.

"I wish every person in Salem who every old person, every weak woman, every sufferer with fall colds, bronchisuffering with stomach troubles, would monials. take advantage of my guarantee to refund the money if Vinol does not help them and restore them to health. Please call at our store and learn more of it." Geo. W. Putnam.

Spray Your Pruit Trees.

Persons having fruit trees and ornamental trees that, under the state law, are required to be sprayed at this season of the year, are requested to leave their orders at F. A. Be On Time.

The management of the Grand Opera House requests all those who attend the theatre this evening to be in their seats before the curtain rises, 8:15 o'clock. Owing to the length of the play, there must be no delay, and all who come after the curtain rises will hive to stand during the act. No one will be seated while the curtain is up.

Compliments for a Quality That Is Sometimes Expensive.

Ed. Journal: I haven't always agreed with The Journal, but I am brought foreibly to the conclusion hat it is the only paper Salem has which stands for the people. A number of times I accused The Journal of too much personality, and have heard others do so, but being an organ for the people it now appears The Journal would rather overstep the customary bounds of personal mention than si lently sacrifice the interests of the community, And on top of this "bouquet" we can add something more, substantial, if you want. The Journal has championed more legislation for the people than any other newspaper in Oregon, and it has been successful in its campaigns. The Jour. nal has never stood silently by and watched the community get soaked without raising its voice. It can never be accused of waiting for the procession to start and then make a public spectacle of itself rushing after the bandwagon. If it gets licked, it swallows it, and says all right. If it wins out, it claims the credit, and then is informed by its contemporaries that it must divide the honor with them. had no idea how things stood in regard to the new school building until I got wind of it in The Journal. A paper calling itself a newspaper which pretends to represent the community and derives its support from this same community, should be willing once in a while to take the bull by the horns and by giving the public the report which rightfully belongs to it, show up the competitor and open up the game so that the people can not only see the workings of the graft, but they can form some pretty good idea of where the paper stands. I am always adverse to getting into print, but in times of public danger it is not entirely out of order to compliment so open and fair treatment accorded the public by The Journal, Salem's free tongued newspaper.
