

ROSEBURG WOMAN DREAMS.

Sees Things That do Not Exist in the Great Western Country.

A Roseburg woman had the following dream:

I had a dream, and, in that dream, I thought I was in one of Oregon's beautiful cities, a county seat of one of our best counties. I thought it was a pleasant Saturday afternoon in early spring, and young leaves and bright buds were smiling forth their beauty, while the silvery notes of Oregon's famous songsters were thrilling and filling the air with the sweetest and most harmonious music.

In my dream I seemed to be walking leisurely along the principal street of the picturesque little city, and, in front of me, a few paces distance, were two ladies, whom I took to be mother and daughter. The ladies were neatly and tastefully dressed, and, in their walk, which seemed to be somewhat hurried, they were looking neither to the right nor left, but, rather, held their eyes upon the sidewalk near their feet. The two women almost suddenly stopped in the middle of the walk, and seemed to be looking for some way to escape what to me appeared to wholly an imaginary danger. After passing the two, however, I very quickly discovered the cause of their sudden halt and bewildered look, for, just in front of the place where they stood, a crowd of 10 or 12 men who were, for the most part, either smoking or chewing tobacco, the while their eyes were riveted upon the pair of modest women before them. I thought I saw the air polluted with the smoke from the pipes in their mouths, and, in my dream, I saw that the sidewalk was besmeared with slimy spittle that had been discharged in copious quantities from their ample mouths. Nor was this all, for, in my slumbers, I thought I could plainly hear language that would not grace a lady's parlor, and which was systematically interspersed with an occasional oath. Then I knew full well why the ladies in question had been so suddenly and effectually checked in their walk, though hurried as it was. The scene was so shockingly disgusting that I awoke, and congratulated myself, my home town and her people that our beautiful city of Roseburg has no such people on her streets as the men I thought I saw so plainly in my dream.

Late Easter Sunday.

Easter Sunday this year falls on April 23d. Only three times in this century does it have so late a date—April 23, 1916 and April 25, 1943. The earliest Easter date of this century is March 23, 1913.

Rheumatism

Like Neuralgia, is now known to be a nervous disease. The kidneys become weak through lack of nerve energy, and fail to filter the uric acid from the blood; this acid attacks and burns the nerves and muscles, and consumes the oil in the joints, producing inflammation, fever, swelling—pain.

To cure Rheumatism, then, you must restore the kidney nerves and muscles, and neutralize the effect of the acid upon the joints and tissues with Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, a nerve medicine, which has made many cures of this painful disease. Nervine strengthens the kidney nerves and increases the circulation, and relief is assured.

"Before I took Dr. Miles' Nervine, I had been looking for a cure for Rheumatism for 25 years. The last time I was laid up for several months, could not get out of bed or set foot on the floor. I tried remedies to rub in, to drink, doctors' prescriptions, etc., but none of them had any effect. One day I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine and got a bottle. After the first dose I had a good night's rest, and after taking half a bottle the pains disappeared, and I went out and walked all around the town. In a week I went to work, and was perfectly cured, but continued to take the medicine for a time, to make sure the pains would not come back."

Popular Preacher Stays.

The members of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, are rejoicing over the decision of Dr. E. P. Hill to continue his pastorate with them, in stead of accepting the position as head of the board of publication and Sunday School work in Philadelphia.

STATE NEWS

Mrs. Emma Hankins and A. H. Schrock, of Albany, were married at that place Sunday afternoon by Rev. G. W. Nelson. The groom is employed in the chair factory at Albany, and the bride is a highly respected lady quite well known in this city.

The Oregon Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, of Portland, have been holding a prize contest of three prizes, $25, 15 and $10, for the best essay by Portland children on revolutionary subjects. Elmer Young, of Portland, formerly of Albany, won the first. Rather Latourette, of Oregon City, the second, and Alberts Hart, of Albany, the third. All are high school students.

What might have been a serious accident occurred on the Sumpter Valley railroad Saturday afternoon. Two very large boulders rolled down the mountain side, and cut the track in pieces in several places, destroying rails and smashing ties into kindling wood. The boulders were as large as a goal-sized house, and fell just ahead of a train, which stopped in time to avoid being smashed. The heavy rains in that vicinity are supposed to have started the landslide.

Investigates Sister's Death.

Cottage Grove, March 21.—Whether Miss Eva Davenport died by suicide or murder is to be determined, if possible by C. F. Flaiskey, brother of the dead woman, who has just come to Cottage Grove from the Middle West to investigate her death. Miss Davenport died a little over two weeks ago, under very peculiar circumstances, a coroner's jury pronouncing death due to suicide. A local saloonkeeper was first to find the body, which bore a nasty wound on the head. Mr. Flaiskey has made no statement of his intentions.

I CURED MY RUPTURE

I Will Show You How to Cure Yours FREE.

I was helpless and bed-ridden for years from a double rupture. No truss could hold. Doctors said I would die if not operated on. I fooled them all and cured myself by a simple discovery. I will send the cure free by mail if you write for it. It cured me and has since cured thousands. It will cure you. Write to-day. Capt. W. A. Collings, Box 797, Watertown, N. Y.

Woodmen Rally.

On next Monday evening, in Portland, the Woodmen of the World expect to have their great log-rolling, similar to the one recently employed by that order in this city, and the indications are that the Portland affair will be equally successful. All of Portland and the entire West Side is taking part in the big Woodman rally, uniform teams and bands from all parts of the lower end of the valley will be present, and in some cases entire camps will attend, and the largest gathering of Woodmen in the history of the order in the state is promised for the day and evening.

A parade with illuminations and fireworks will be had, to be followed by a monster initiation, 1000 new members to be taken into the order, and given its protection, and a general good time is to be had.—Albany Herald.

Push for the Convention.

(Jefferson Review.)

Invitations have been received signed by a committee from the Greater Salem Commercial Club, requesting the appointment of delegates from Jefferson to the Willamette Valley Development League Convention, to meet at Salem next Thursday, March 23d. The object of the convention is to formulate plans for the improvement of the entire valley. Jefferson should by all means be represented, as it will deal with matters of much importance to all.

A Savings Bank

—Is a valuable servant of the people. It takes their small earnings and invests them safely, making them earn a reasonable income. It relieves the depositor of the worry and risk of managing his own funds; in other words it shifts the responsibility from his own shoulders to that of the bank.

Thrifty, careful people who prefer a safe, sure proposition to the many "get rich quick" schemes should take advantage of the facilities afforded by our SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT.

The Evans Potato Planter

The best potato planter on the market. Absolute force feed. Positive in action. Operation controlled by the machine, not by the size of the seed potato. Vibrating feed hopper bottom. No adjustment for large or small seed. Always an even and steady flow of potatoes. Drive wheels 36 inches in diameter, 3 1/2-inch tire, makes the machine run easier. Hand lever, governing depth of planting and covering; readily changed by operator. Drops 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 36 inches apart in rows. Driver can see potatoes dropping; this is a great advantage. Wide tread, 36-inch, will not turn over on hillside.

Reversible Disc Harrow

Four and 5-foot cut. Best reversible extension disc harrow in the market. A perfect hop, vineyard or orchard harrow. When the gangs are moved to reverse the machine, the levers move with the gangs. This is a decided advantage over most reversible harrows, which, when reversed, require a good deal of time in adjusting the levers. The only reversible disc harrow made which has perfect working mud scrapers.
