Wheeler County for Goats. F. S. Matteson, Antone, Wheeler county, Oregon, writes: Seeing in the Capital Journal that your club is desirous of information regarding suitable land for Angora goats, please allow me to say a word about this locality. It is rough and mountainous, and nearly devoid of timber, and supports tens of thousands of horses and cattle, and hundreds of thousands of sheep. Mr. M. Milton Perr, my nearest neighbor, has 1400 sheep on the range that have not been fed a bite, and yet nine-tenths of them are good mutton. No other parties around here are feeding sheep yet, and there are thousands of colts and young horses on the range here than don't know what hay or grain is. There are no goats here. One or two in a band of sheep now and then, no more.

Now a horse will live where a cow will starve, and a sheep will live where a horse will starve, and a goat will live where a sheep will starve, therefore, I conclude that this is a good country for goats. There is lots of wild sage here—that isn't sage at all, only it looks a little like sage, which cattle don't eat, and horses and sheep eat in the winter sparingly, but of which goats are fond. This region is sparsely settled. There is some government land, and many homesteaders who would relinquish for a reasonable consideration, as is usually the case in new countries.

No man should expect to find homestead land convenient to railroads, towns, etc. My homestead is five miles from a school house and ten from a postoffice. All these "modern conveniences" came in due time. If they were here now there would be no vacant land. Land is worth from $2 to $5 per acre without improvements. It is steadily raising in value. I am about 70 miles from a railroad, on The Dalles military wagon road.

The soil here is good. Hay, grain, etc., can be raised in abundance. It will pay this Nevada gentleman or any goat men to look at Wheeler county before locating.

Indianapolis, March 21.—This is a red-letter week for the Masons of Indianapolis and vicinity. During the spring convocation, which began today, Vice-President Fairbanks will take the degrees in Free Masonry between that of Master Mason and the 32d degree. Killed a Cougar.

A large cougar was killed the other day near the end of the Oregon and Southern railway, above Cottage Grove. The beast was seven feet from tip to tip. When Arthur Vancourt found that two sheep had been killed in the corral he took dogs and treed the animal near the red bridge, where a shot quickly brought it down.

"Tony" Pastor Jubilee.

New York, March 21.—In the little green room off the stage of Tony Pastor's theatre today were a few baskets of flowers, and on a desk scores of letters and telegrams. "Tony" Pastor had received these, and also the personal congratulations of many friends, upon completing 40 years of active theatrical management. Mr. Pastor is dean of New York managers, and if it would not be giving too fine a line on his age, it might be added that he was a legitimate actor, circus clown and variety performer for quite a few years before he became a theatre manager in 1865.

Among those who sent letters or telegrams of congratulation were Nat Goodwin, who was one of Mr. Pastor's early variety performers; May Irvin, formerly of the Irwin Sisters; Daniel Frohman, Klaw & Erlanger, Hyde and Behman and Montgomery and Stone. Mr. Pastor became the manager of a road company on March 21, 1865. He opened the Bowery Opera House in August of the same year. In 1875 he moved over to Broadway, and on October 21, 1881, took possession of the present house, next door to Tammany Hall.

THIS ONLY WAS THE WITCHCRAFT SHE USED

You'll find the secret of her successful baking to lie in the fact that she uses Wild Rose flour. Makes tempting, toothsome, wholesome bread, cake, pastry. Goes farther and is cheaper—because much better—than other brands. Always uniform in quality, reliable, economical. Best on the market for the money. A family flour that once tried becomes the household favorite.

EASTERN OREGON LAND

The throwing open to entry of thousands of acres of timber and agricultural lands in this portion of the state, will, in all probability, bring thousands of people into Northern Lake county during the coming summer. The only valuable tracts of lands that have been restored to entry out of the Warner Mountain withdrawal lie in the northern part of Lake and Klamath counties, and the southern part of Crook. There are two great drawing cards now open for Central Oregon, that will cause perhaps one of the greatest rushes in the history of the state. Timber men are now locating on the lands, awaiting the time when the government will begin to accept filings, and a number of people will endeavor to head off the scrippers by squatter rights, which is believed will entitle them to first say. The desert lands in this locality are already being filed on by homesteaders, who expect to develop for themselves homes in a country that one time was considered worthless. It is only a matter of a very short time until the great desert will be taken out of the wilderness, and made the foremost farming belt of the great Western country. The government reclamation service will undoubtedly begin operation on the Odell irrigation project some time during the present year. This canal will cover a large portion of the desert northeast of Silver Lake, which is considered the most valuable body of land awaiting irrigation now under consideration by the government. We hope to see the government take hold of this great irrigation scheme, which is, without question, practicable from every standpoint.—Silver Lake Oregonian.
