THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

In New York.

New York, April 21.—Good Friday was generally observed in New York. The six exchanges of the city—New New York Stock, Consolidated, Produce, Coffee, Cotton and Metal—suspended business, and most of the larger financial houses were closed. The New York Stock Exchange will be the only exchange to resume tomorrow, the others having adjourned until Monday. Special services were held in a majority of the churches.

Heavy Hail Storm.

Tuesday afternoon a very severe hail storm occurred on the McKenzie, extending from about Leaburg to the McKenzie free ferry, says the Eugene Guard.

Stephen Smeed who resides a mile above the ferry, was in town getting sashes refilled with glass, and from his account it was a good deal like the storm that came from that locality four years ago, occurring at the same time in the day. It passed over Mr. Smeed's place at 4:10 o'clock, hailstones there falling to a diameter of an inch and a half, and extended to the ferry, a mile farther down the river. His fruit trees were stripped of their blossoms and the few hop vines battered.

It fills the arteries with rich red blood. Makes new flesh and healthy men and women. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Stone's Drug Store.

A POOR IMITATION

Is weak flattery—style and quality are lacking and prices are less. Must be, because the genuine article costs more to produce. If you really want good, serviceable shoes you'll discover real economy in the sort we sell. You see, we've been in the shoe business for years; expect to continue along that line many a year to come, and we must suit you to hold our trade. Sense in that.

JACOB VOGT

MONEY IN BABY DUCKS

At the end of three weeks after ducks are hatched, the hen can be taken away unless the weather is very cold, in which case leave her for another week. Never give ducks intended for eating, the range; it toughens and prevents them from fattening, but those intended for stock do best when allowed plenty of room to roam in after they are six weeks old, to insure strength and growth. Young ducks must starve during the first twenty-four hours of their existence, says a writer in Pearson's Magazine for May.

For the first week their bill of fare is as follows: Half a pint of rolled oats; cracked wheat or stale bread crumbs; two hardboiled eggs chopped fine; half a cup of coarse sand moistened with scalded milk. Feed four times a day as much as they will eat in 10 minutes.

Second and third weeks: Half a pound of ground oats, the same of wheat bran, a quarter of a pint of corn-meal, the same of coarse sand, two tablespoonfuls of beef-meal, a pint of finely cut green clover, rye, or cabbage moistened with scalded milk. Feed four times a day

Four to six weeks: Boil a quart of hulled oats for an hour, add one pint of fine grit, the same of beef scraps, one quart of clover, or any green food. Feed four times per diem.

Six to ten weeks: One quart corn-meal, one pint wheat bran, a pint of boiled oats, pint of beef scraps, half of grit, tablespoonful of charcoal, pint of clover. Feed three times a day—then they should be ready to kill.

Those to be kept for stock have the same rations until three weeks old; then they are given equal parts of ground feed and bran moistened with milk, or water. Feed twice a day, if on free range; if yarded, add half a cup of beef scraps, cut clover, or vegetables to double the quanity of grain.

Young ducks are very nervous and will not forget a scare for weeks. You can persuade them to go in any direction if you work slowly and quietly. Hurry excites them, and they will rush shrieking in every direction except the one you would have them go. Don't allow anyone to run them, for it will put them back from one to two weeks and waste just that amount of feed. This is a point on which positive and repeated demonstration enables me to speak with special authority.

One summer we had a yard of youngsters almost ready for market, when a friend came down to spend Sunday with us, bringing a young fox terrier with her, to give him a day's exercise in the country. Our own dogs are taught to take their exercise in the woods, but Mr. City Terrier evidently found it slow, for during dinner there was a great clamor. On a poultry and pet stock farm if one bird or animal sounds the note of alarm everything joins in, and there is a conglomeration of pea fowl, guinea fowl, hens, ducks, geese and dogs all shrieking in fright and in different keys.

We laid down our knives and forks, looked at each other in horror, rushed wildly out to locate the trouble and were met by Rover, the head of my four-footed police, and piloted to the duck's quarters to find the terrier visitor in the pen of the ducklings to his great amusement and their distraction. Needless to say that was the end of his day's healthy exercise; he was securely locked up until it was time to go home. It took all the motherly days, and it was fully two weeks before they got back to weight. With the old ducks there is the danger of their rupturing an egg, which is sure to cause trouble, perhaps death, or of breaking a leg, which means killing.

When they have to be handled to weigh or kill, a small portable "yard" three feet by two and a half, made of laths and wire netting, is used. It has a gate at one end, which is placed at the gate of their inclosure, and those wanted are driven slowly into it. The space being small, it is comparatively easy to capture them. To avoid alarming the whole farm you take them up bodily and hold their bills.

Do all work of this sort among your stock as gently as possible, talking to them in a soothing, reassuring way all the time. Nothing averts so many accidents as accustoming your stock to associate your voice with safety. This is not only true with poultry and pet stock, but with all animals generally.

No mercury, no minerals, no danger in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The greatest family tonic known. Brings good health to all who use it. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Stone's Drug Store.

Plans for Duluth-Denver Line.

Omaha, Neb., April 21.—It is reported on high authority that the Hill system will this year construct a line from O'Nail, Neb., to Thedford, Neb., on the Omaha-Billings line, and thence southwest to some point on the Omaha-Denver line. This will complete the Nothern Securities route from Duluth to the Twin Cities and Sioux City to Denver. The new route will be the shortest between these points.

Full of Tragic Meaning

are these lines from J. H. Simmons, of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which completely cured me." Instantly relieves and permanently cures all throat and lung diseases; prevents grip and pneumonia. At J. C. Perry's, druggist; guaranteed; 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
