

CHICAGO STRIKE SERIOUS

Employers Will Ask for Restraining Order From United States Court

Chicago, April 27.—Five hundred policemen were detailed this morning in the storm center of the teamsters' strike. It is expected that the spread of the strike to several large houses will be accompanied by violence. The police are escorting the wagons to and from stores and freight houses.

The drivers of Marshall, Field & Company, the Carson, Pirie Scott Company and John V. Farwell Company joined the strike this morning. None of these concerns sent out wagons from their barns. One hundred and ninety drivers of the Forbes Company went out. This strike affected 60 firms to which the concern furnishes wagons. The drivers of the railway express companies refused to haul goods for the companies against which the teamsters struck, thus further complicating the situation. Labor leaders claim there will be 3000 teamsters out by night.

Labor leaders threaten to call out every unionist, if necessary, to win the strike which now hangs on the employment by Montgomery, Ward & Company of the former union teamsters. A special meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor will be called to empower the business agents to order strikes according to their discretion.

Chicago, April 27.—One hundred and sixty drivers of the United States Express Company refused to deliver goods to boycotted firms, and struck when one of their number was discharged. Their action affords the opportunity desired by the employers to ask the federal courts to enjoin the strikers from interfering with interstate commerce.

This is in addition to any work now being carried on, or any that has been up to this time completed. It includes a long list of improvements extending along the main branches from Ashland to Portland, and embracing in extent the construction of bridges, buildings, new tracks and the blasting of old roundhouses, stockyards and general work. Of the total sum mentioned it is estimated that perhaps $871,658.30 will be expended for labor.

SEVEN BROTHERS DINE

Portland, April 27.—Seven brothers, hale and hearty dined together for the first time in 36 years yesterday at the Imperial hotel. They were attending the session of the Oregon Development League. Their two sisters were present at the dinner, and around the table tales of years were told, and old incidents recalled. Although the ages of the "boys" range from 71 to 53 years, they were as playful and happy as children.

The brothers represent the Coopers, one of Oregon's most prominent families. All are delegates to the Development League, from various towns in the state. W. H. Cooper is aged 71, and is from Stayton, where he is engaged in the business of harnessmaking. D. J. Hails from The Dalles. He is aged 69, and is a farmer.

J. S. Cooper, the well-known Independence banker, is aged 64, and has the distinction of being a member of the legislature. J. C. is aged 60, and is a surveyor of McMinnville. R. D. is a hop grower at Independence, aged 55. J. E. is a stockman at Albany. He is aged 53. E. W. is J. E.'s twin, and is engaged in the mercantile business at Independence.

All of the brothers are blessed with excellent and are enjoying life to the fullest extent. They have lived in Oregon for from 37 to 42 years. Of five sisters born but two survive. They are Miss Patience Cooper, of Portland, and Mrs. S. J. Gildow, of Silverton. The parents are buried at Zena, Or.

Frederick Cooper, great-grandfather of the brothers and sisters who met here yesterday, fought with General Washington through five enlistments, being with the army at the surrender of Cornwallis. W. H., D. J. and J. E. served in the Union army during the rebellion. J. C. held the office of department commander of the G. A. R. of Oregon.

"We had a great time at luncheon today," said J. C. Cooper, spokesman for the brothers, after the group was photographed. "The family had not been together before for 36 years. That was a long time ago, when father and mother were alive. We met then at Salem. We have all been moderately successful in business, and none of us have ever been in the penitentiary. J. S. came the nearest to it when he was a member of the lower house in the legislature."

Following the slaughter of a part of a band belonging to Klum & McKendree, April 13th, a gang of nine masked men went to David Elber's camp and burned his buildings and corral. Elber is said to have armed his herders on receipt of the news of this outrage, and instructed them to defend his property by force. The clash is supposed to have taken place between Elber's men and the cattlemen.

The sheriff of Klamath county and a deputy are now in the vicinity of the trouble, but nothing has been heard from them.

London, April 27.—The markets are weak this morning, on the reported cutting of the Hainan cable, and an unconfirmed rumor that a great naval battle had been fought, in which several Japanese warships are said to have been lost. Heavy selling of international securities by Paris forced the prices down sharply.

GUNS ARE NOT GOOD

London, April 27.—The Daily Graphic this morning commences a series of articles calling in question the duration of the armament of a modern British fleet in a manner which, if the facts should be substantiated, is calculated to cause a great sensation. The writer alleges that 15 warships, unfit for action, have been discovered, as the 35-calibre and 12-inch guns constituting the main armament of three vessels are incapable of firing full charges.

The latest Woolwich pattern 50-calibre six-inch gun has also failed under experiment, and the question naturally arises as to the endurance of the armament of the whole modern fleet. The article states facts unfortunately beyond dispute, and points out that the present is the time for action, and not for blarney.

The facts came to light through developments of weakness in new long guns under experiment and the simultaneous failure of the 12-inch guns in the Majestic class of battleships, and through the bursting of shells in seven out of 16 British-made guns on board of Japanese battleships.

The writer points out further that Great Britain is the only power that has adopted the manufacture of the wire gun.

Milwaukee, April 27.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in the United States district court by Frank G. Bigelow's indebtedness, according to his own confession, is between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. His creditors are from all over the United States, and the filing of the petition in bankruptcy will necessitate the return of securities amounting to $300,000, turned over to the First National Bank. This amount will be equally distributed among the creditors.

According to the schedule filed by Bigelow his total liabilities, including notes endorsed, are $3,000,000.
