

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Canoe Launched.

Chester Cox and Russell Smith, two young men of this city, have just finished the construction of a handsome canoe, which they intend to use on the river here, and in making excursions up the different creeks in the vicinity. The handsome little craft was launched last Sunday, and attracted the notice of many by its graceful lines. The boat is very light, weighing but 78 pounds, so that two persons can easily transport it for a distance over any obstructions, such as are apt to be encountered in passing up shallow streams and the like. The canoe will hold two people and a reasonable amount of baggage, thus making it an ideal pleasure craft. The boat is made of three-sixteenth spruce and is 15 feet long and 30 inches wide at the center, gradually tapering toward the ends. It is easily propelled through the water with the aid of paddles, and will no doubt afford the greatest pleasure to the owners.

There will be a fine exhibit sent to the Lewis and Clark fair from the Bohemia mines. Ashland people are enthusiastic over the exhibit, and propose to make it one of the best mining exhibits in the state. W. H. Shane has been elected to take charge of it, and explain its worth to the fair visitors.

Hood River business men have raised $15,000 of the $20,000 necessary necessary to secure a woolen mill there.

HONORED PIONEER

E. Wolfard, Who Appears Very Prominently Among Oregon Pioneers

Another of Silverton's most venerable and honorable citizens may be found in the person of Erhard Wolfard, and no history of Silverton's early settlers would be complete without biographical mention of this pioneer. Mr. Wolfard was born in Alsace, a province between Germany and France, December 22, 1818, making him nearing the age of 87 years. He is probably the oldest citizen living in this vicinity and one of the very earliest settlers of Silverton. Few people had settled in this territory when Mr. Wolfard took his donation land claim near where the town of Silverton was later started, and few people have tilled the soil with a greater degree of success. At the age of 10 years Mr. Wolfard came to the United States with his parents. The family settled in Ohio, near Canton, where the subject of this bought a squatter's right, which he afterward proved up, and upon which he instituted many fine improvements. E. Wolfard, for some time past retired, was formerly one of Marion county's most prominent agriculturists, and is today recognized by all as a capable and careful manager of agricultural interests. On his farm he had a little blacksmith shop which he conducted for many years with considerable success, until 1887, when he moved to Silverton. For a short time he was engaged in the mercantile business with his son, John, but later purchased a ten acre tract of land just outside of the city limits and erected a modern and comfortable home where he is now apparently enjoying the evening of a useful and worthy life. Mr. Wolfard still owns 316 acres of sketch resided until 1833 when the family again moved to Scioto, Ohio, where the mother died two years later, and the father died at the age of 68 years. At an early period in life after having obtained a common school education, Mr. Wolfard learned the carpenter trade and later entered a blacksmith shop where he learned the trade and became a skillful workman. These combined trades he followed for many years in the east. September 14, 1830, he married Miss Armatha Shope, a native of Ohio. In 1853 he started across the plains with ox teams, being six months on the road. His was a fairly pleasant trip considering the disadvantages connected with the methods of transportation in those days. The Indians were not particularly troublesome, nor were the ranks of the little party disturbed by illness common under such circumstances. The family settled about five miles south of Silverton where Mr. Wolfard his original claim, which nets him a handsome income each year. In politics Mr. Wolfard is a Republican. Since 1849 he has been identified with the Masonic lodge. After moving to Oregon he became a member of the Silverton lodge when it was first organized. While he is feeling the natural effects of many years of hard labor, he is still very active and well preserved. He is apparently in good health and has always been well and hearty. He possesses an extraordinary strong mind, and it is always a pleasure to meet the friendly old gentleman and listen to his interesting remarks about Oregon in the early fifties. The development of Silverton and its tributary country depended largely upon Mr. Wolfard and a few others who had settled here, and the present conditions go to prove that they were possessed with the right mind and will that leads to achievement.

Although a permanent injunction prevented the issuing of saloon licenses in Forest Grove, it did not make Grove a dry town. The building which was to have been occupied by a saloon, is now used for the operation of a "commercial club," such as the one which evaded the prohibitory ordinance last year. The club has a good sized membership list and will make a hard fight if any attempt is made to suppress it. It is understood that the temperance people are planning to attack the club in the courts.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.

Daring Aerialists With the Norris & Rowe Greater Circus.

There is no more attractive feature under the white tents of the circus arena than that of the graceful, clean limbed flying aerial performers. The most daring of these exponents of the flying trapeze are at present conceded to be the Flying Victorellas. This thrilling act has never before been given in this country. Three graceful athletes perform high in the air over the heads of the vast audience. Long twisting somersaults from finish bar to cradle bar; double giant swings from bar to bar; double somersaults through space from a catcher to a cradle 11 feet from bar, are but a few of the many intricate and breath compelling acts of these graceful acrobats. Their wardrobe and contests are all made of the finest silk and they perform upon nickel plated rigging 22 feet long. In presenting this special feature to the public for the first time, Messrs. Norris & Rowe, the energetic young circus owners, are confident that their efforts to please will meet with the hearty approbation of their many thousands of patrons. Another novelty offered is that of the celebrated Traviola Troupe who give a most skillful exhibition of juggling. Hoop rolling is their specialty together with hats, paper wads and bottles, all juggled in apparent confusion. A barrel keg, a bottle and a paper wad are tossed about with ease and accuracy. Then they reserve the program by balancing upon one hand and juggling all sorts of objects and rolling hoops with the other. It is marvelous display of intricate expert feats which must be seen to be appreciated. The Norris & Rowe greater circus will give exhibitions at Salem Monday, May 8, at 2 and 8 p. m.
