STRIKE GROWING WEAKER

Cold Weather and the President are in Town

One Colored Man Was Shot, Another Cut With a Razor

Chicago, May 10.—The visit of President Roosevelt to Chicago was the centering feature of the strike today. Recognizing the importance of showing the peaceful conditions, the labor union leaders made strenuous efforts to prevent their following from being responsible as the originators of any disturbances. The wet, cold weather did not materially help the cause. The plan of Presidents Taft and Shea, of the labor unions, to meet the President in Iowa, and ask him to mediate the strike, was abandoned. The two labor leaders will make an effort to see the President during his visit here today. The employers say they will not bother the President with strike affairs.

The plan to seek an interview with the President has been abandoned. It was decided that no good would be accomplished by a further effort to lay before the President the labor side of the situation. There was not a single serious disturbance reported to the police up to noon. Other than perhaps an extra number of police about the streets, the President will probably witness no unusual scenes in Chicago.

A crowd gathered about a wagon of the Walsh Boyle Co., at Clark and Lake streets this afternoon, and began throwing missiles at the non-union drivers. The police charged and dispersed the crowd. No new strikes were declared today.

CARRIED BROKEN ARM

A man who gave the name of Alfred Woolen, and claiming to have come Hastings, Nebraska, by way of Portland, was arrested in Woodburn yesterday afternoon on the statement of Tracy Poorman, the assistant cashier of the robbed bank, that he looked like one of the men who did the job.

An examination of the individual did not bring anything of an incriminating nature, to light, and he was later released. The man, upon arriving at Woodburn, inquired for a physician, saying that his arm was broken, and that he wanted the injured member set.

Marshal Cornelius, of Salem, says that last Monday this same person was in this city begging, and that his arm was then bandaged. Cornelius took him in charge, and, after questioning him as to his business in town, told him to leave town.

The fellow did not leave, however, and Tuesday morning was again arrested, and given another opportunity to depart, of which he took advantage. At the time the chief did not place much stock in the truth of the tale that his arm was broken, and on this account had no sympathy for the man.

The statement that he made to the Woodburn police, of having just come from Portland, is therefore untrue. What the man's object was in lying is not known.

ESTATE HOWARD FOOTE

Contest Over Guardianship Before Probate Judge

The objections to the final report of A. A. Johnson, as guardian of the estate of Howard Foote, a minor, was heard in Judge Scott's court today. The guardian was appointed in 1902 and received money due the minor amounting to $625. The money was a pension due the minor under the United States laws and the guardian, who is the mother of the minor, was appointed by the court to care for the funds.

The guardian, it is alleged, expended the funds of the ward without an order of the court and now the minor objects to the final account. An eastern surety company insured the estate against loss, and figures in the transaction, and it is said that an action will be brought by the ward, who has now reached his majority, against the company for the full amount.

The case promises to attract some interest on account of the fact that if the son wins it may result in the mother having to answer to another court for the funds, as the surety company will probably insist on a settlement from the guardian.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS

Woodburn, May 10.—(Special)—Constable Amos Bensch went to Albany Tuesday morning, and returned with Cliff Mosier, who was arrested on the charge of assault and battery on Mr. Allen Simpson, of this place. Mr. Simpson's testimony was that he was standing on the depot platform Sunday evening as the excursion trains were going through, and, seeing a crowd of boys talking, he went near them. One of the boys shoved another over on Mr. Simpson, stepping on his foot. Mr. Simpson said nothing, but merely pushed the fellow off his foot. At this, one of his companions, Mosier, who was intoxicated at the time, reached over and struck Simpson on the nose, just between the eyes, knocking him down and bruising his face very badly. The act was unprovoked and uncalled for. Mosier was tried before Justice Overton Tuesday, and plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery on Mr. Simpson. He was fined $50 and costs. He failed to have the necessary funds, and was committed to the county jail.

Alford Wollen, claiming to be from Hastings, Minn., who was arrested here yesterday morning as a suspect for the Woodburn bank robbery, was released after examination, and jumped the "blind" on the northbound passenger train today.

After due consideration the court decided to disallow Ridings' claim for damages.
