CHICAGO TEAM OWNERS

Have Decided to Send An Ultimatum to the Labor Dealers

Chicago, May 13.—Two hundred additional wagons were put in service this morning by employers because of subsiding violence. The police force on duty as a result of the teamsters' strike is reduced by 1000 men. The unions this morning distributed 50,000 buttons with a black border, inscribed: "We mourn the loss of a dead brother." The caption is supposed to refer to the death of George J. Prince, the union teamster, killed by Deputy Sheriff Waldron. The team owners' association held a special meeting at noon today, to consider their position in the teamsters' strike, and decided to deliver to the strikers' committee tonight their ultimatum, that the association insist on their contracts with "struck" houses being observed. Unless the labor men at Sunday's meeting recede from their position, that the team owners' association remain "neutral" in the present trouble, this action means one of two things, a spread of the strike, or its practical abandonment.

President Shea of the teamsters' union, said this afternoon that the unions will never comply with the requests of the employers, that union drivers be allowed to deliver to strike-bound houses: "Any concern that wants a lookout of its teamsters can have it by delivering goods to these firms." The death of Harry Grady at the Provident Hospital today makes the eighth victim of the teamsters' strike.

GLENNON RECEIVES PALLIUM

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—Distinguished prelates and members of the clergy of the Roman Catholic church are gathering from all parts of the country in anticipation of tomorrow, when Archbishop John Joseph Glennon, the new metropolitan, of St. Louis will be invested with the pallium in mark of his ecclesiastical office. Seldom in the history of the church in the West has there been so distinguished an assemblage of Catholic prelates as is now here. They include more than a score of archbishops and bishops in addition to a host of clergy.

The sacred vestment will be placed on the shoulders of the Archbishop by Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore. Previous to the ceremony pontifical high mass will be said by one of the distinguished visitors, and Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, will deliver the sermon. The ceremony will take place in the old cathedral and admission will be had by ticket.

The pallium, meaning literally a cloak or mantle, is a band of white lamb's wool, embroidered with purple crosses, and is worn about the neck by the pope and all prelates and metropolitans. In former times it was made of purple embroidered linen, and was worn by all bishops. It has two pendants, one hanging down the breast and the other down the back of the wearer. The pallium is worn at all times by the pope, but only on solemn occasions by others. It can never be transferred to another person, and it is always buried with the body of the man who wore it during life.

Right Rev. Joseph Glennon, who is to be the recipient of the distinguished honor tomorrow, was born in Kinnegard, County Meath, Ireland, June 14, 1862, was graduated from All Hallows College, Dublin, in 1883, and was ordained priest a year later. He came to America soon after his ordination, and became assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church in Kansas City. From 1887 to 1892 he was pastor of the cathedral there under Bishop Hogan. In 1892 he became vicar-general of the diocese, and two years later administrator. He was appointed coadjutor bishop of Kansas City, with the right of succession, and consecrated titular bishop of Pinara in 1896. Later he was appointed coadjutor to Archbishop Kaine, of St. Louis, and succeeded to the archbishopric on the death of the latter, two years ago.

Bishop Will Preach.
Bishop Breyfogle, of Redding, Pa., will preach at the 17th and Chemeketa street Evangelical church Monday evening, May 15th, at 8 o'clock. This is the presiding bishop at the conference now being held at Lents. Everybody is invited to hear him, as it will be a fine talk.

Marriage License.
A marriage license was issued today to Miss Anna Knutson and Mr. Edward Wormsahl.

JACK MATHEWS HAS BEEN REMOVED

From United States Marshalship at Portland to Make Place for Chas. J. Reed

Washington, May 13.—The President today appointed Chas. J. Reed United States marshal for Oregon, vice Walter F. Matthews.

This virtually amounts to the removal of the last obstacle in the way of securing the conviction of Mitchell and Hermann, so far as having one of their personal friends in an office that could give them fair play, as that term is understood in politics. Matthews has been under suspicion of being a friend of the entire delegation, and it is well understood that Editor Scott, of the Oregonian, has spent some of the past few months in Washington to secure the removal of "Jack" Matthews, who was the local manager of the Scott senatorial campaign when Fulton was elected. Scott always blamed Matthews for the collapse of his ambition, but, in reality, the management of the matter was in the hands of Senator McGinn and his own son, Leslie, far more than it was in the hands of Matthews. Matthews desired in the state convention to put friends of Scott on the state ticket, in place of Dunbar for secretary of state, and Moore for treasurer, and play "politics" according to the approved rules of the game. Scott would not listen to that, and then Matthews told his managers to do their own managing outside of the Multnomah delegation.

Reed is almost unknown in Salem, but is believed by some to have been a former representative of the Olsen Harvester Co., and now in the insurance business.

C. J. Reed was perhaps the most intimate personal friend of Judge Bellinger had in the city, and he was probably recommended by the late judge.

Meeting of Salem Bar Association.
The Salem Bar Association met this afternoon in the county court house, at 3 o'clock, to adopt resolutions in honor of the late Judge Bellinger.

MISS PATTERSON HOME AT LAST

Safe in Her Mother's Arms Let Her Drop Into Obscurity

Washington, May 13.—A crowd of 1200 greeted Nan Patterson when she arrived at the Pennsylvania station at 7:20 this morning. Nan's brother was the only member of the family at the station to welcome the actress home. The crowd cheered as the Patterson-Smith party walked through the station and took a carriage for her Howard avenue home, where the sorrowing mother was waiting for her daughter. Arrived at home Nan jumped from the moving carriage and rushed to the veranda, where her mother was standing. The two were soon clasped in each other's arms. Others of the party followed and the family reunion was complete.
