JUDGE BELLINGER DEAD.

This occupant of the federal bench was appointed under the Cleveland administration.

He has lived almost continuously in Oregon, and brought up his family here.

He leaves three sons and two daughters, besides a wife, to mourn his untimely death.

He died Friday at 4 p. m., after a short illness that was called septic poisoning, but in reality could not be exactly defined.

He was given the best of care and treatment, after consultation of the ablest physicians, who did all that medical skill could accomplish.

As a law lecturer and literary man Judge Bellinger made quite a name for himself. He was naturally a student, and loved the social side of life.

THE CYCLONE SEASON.

It has arrived. The newspapers are full of it. One would think everybody would want to leave a cyclone country.

But, compared to the total area of the country, and the total population, not as many are killed by cyclones as by railroads or runaway teams.

The people who live in a town that has never been struck by a cyclone never expect to be, and live in security until they are struck.

A town that has once been hit by a cyclone will probably never be struck again. Cyclones are like lightning in this respect.

But it seems the town of Snyder, Oklahoma, has been struck the second time within forty-eight hours.

THE LAND TRIALS.

The death of Judge Bellinger will have a material effect on the land fraud trials.

A different political bias will be given to the trials. It is useless to deny that politics cut some figure in the matter.

The Democratic judge will be succeeded by a Republican, and there will be a Republican clerk.

There will be Republican commissioners to select the grand jury and the panels for the trial juries.

This is not saying that Republicans will not do their duty, and convict men regardless of politics, if guilty.

But those who imagine that federal courts are elevated into an atmosphere where politics does not reach are inexperienced.

That there are many looking for Judge Bellinger's place no one can doubt. It is a fat place for life.

The destruction of political influence of the Oregon delegation has been systematic and wholesale. Who will be appointed no one knows.

It is just as liable to be some one like John Barrett, or some other outrageous misfit that is not representative of Oregon.

But the land frauds will go. The Heney program is well in hand. Its only object is not to save the lands, but to destroy a few of the old political leaders.

The grabbing of timber land is going right on. When the great corporation influences back of the forest reserve policy get ready those reserves will be opened and the vultures turned loose.

THE RAILROAD SITUATION.

The decision of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York bankers, is that there shall be no railroad extension in the Northwest.

In the interest of a Mr. J. J. Hill, a kind of second Andrew Carnegie, this announcement is made.

Hill is a foreigner, and has not a particle of interest in Oregon, except to sell tickets East over his railroad.

To protect himself, he forces Harriman into an agreement to not extend any lines in this section of the United States.

This is virtually an extension of an agreement that has lasted for several years.

There will be extension of railroads in Oregon whenever these corporation managers can see a chance to issue more stocks and bonds.

If Harriman could find a way to float $100,000,000 of stocks or bonds on the Oregon properties, and pocket half the amount, he'd build lines.

The Hill-Harriman pretext is not the real reason. Are the Oregon properties watered so heavily that they cannot float more securities on them? Frenzied finance may not permit any further watering.

The people of Oregon should adopt railroad policies of their own, and not be at the mercy of non-resident gentlemen who are only operators on the checkerboard of Wall street.

Now the newspapers are asked to publish that Oregon and the Northwest must not expect too rapid development. We should be glad to develop in two thousand years, and not try to go faster than Egypt.

OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY.

The Jefferson Review well says: "A meeting should be called and arrangements made for the observance of Memorial Day. The old soldiers who have answered the order of 'lights out' should ever be remembered by a grateful people, and on May 30th not a single grave of a departed veteran should be seen without a wreath of flowers. The few gray-haired, bent and crippled veterans who annually assemble at the graves of their departed comrades to perform their simple yet pathetic ceremonies, reminds us that in a few more years the last of them will have marched down into the dark valley, and the great war between the North and South will be but a memory. On each recurring May 30th the Union and Confederate veterans may be seen side by side walking to the 'silent city' to jointly honor departed comrades, showing that all bitterness is forgotten and that each honors a brave foe, whatever may be their different opinions regarding other matters."

CURED WHEN OTHERS FAILED. 1056 Winnemac Avenue. CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 25, 1902. Wine of Cardui can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails. It is a certain cure for female diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration. Intense pains in the womb and ovaries and dreadful headaches unfitted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill that I had to keep to my bed. The pains were so intense at times as to cause spasms and a disagreeable discharge drained my life forces. In my extremity after all else had failed, I tried Wine of Cardui. After using it for two weeks I began to improve so rapidly that I felt encouraged to keep up the treatment, which I did for eighteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was entirely cured. What a relief was mine and how new and beautiful life looked to me when my health was restored. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Wine of Cardui. It is indeed a boon to sick women. Frances Mitchell, Secretary, North Chicago Frauen Verein. Every weak woman needs Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui cures disordered and painful menstruation, periodical headaches, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea. It cures extreme cases of these troubles. It strengthens girls approaching womanhood, helps bring children to barren homes, makes pregnancy and childbirth easier, prevents miscarriages and is the best medicine ever made for use during the change of life. Why permit the good women in your home to suffer another day? Every druggist has $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui. WINE of GARDUI

The fire department at Newberg has decided to buy a thirty dollar whistle to be placed on the electric light plant and used as a fire alarm. The fire boys think such a whistle would waken up a person even if they were sleeping as sound as iron.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Salem Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty.

When they fail to do this the kidney's are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary troubles, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Mrs. Conradius Arnold, of 440 East First street, Albany, Oregon, says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills did me considerable good. I used them for rheumatic pains across the small of my back and down through the sides which were very severe when I stooped to lift anything or sat in one position for any length of time. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and commenced their use. I began to get better right away and continued taking them. They soon relieved me and I have had very little trouble since. I shall always try to keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house and will recommend them at every opportunity.

Plenty more proof like this from Salem people. Call at Dr. Stone's drug store and ask what his customers report.

Man's Unreasonableness.

Is often as great as woman's. But Thos. H. Austin, manager of the "Republicans," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonableness when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, price 50c.
