Irish embroidery, real and imitation, is a great deal used. As to the chemisettes, their kinds are legion. They inelude everything from small Vs to long, wide fronts. They are also found in sets of a great variety of other toggeries, such as lapel-shaped collars for the open coats and bodices and long. straight bands for shirtwaist use over the front plait.

One of the newest fads for evening gowns is the little Louis XV, jacket of lace worn over lace or silk skirts. These jackets, to be quite up to date, must be made of deep eeru lace over a colored silk lining or of colored lace which matches the skirt in hue. They are a survival of the pretty dinner conts of brocaded and flowered or plain silk worn over gauze skirts during the

The Empire modes which the fashion mongers are eyeing with admiration are nore pronounced in coats than gowns. In the smartest wraps designed for mmer butterflies there is a marked decrease in the width of the shoulders and a decided suggestion of drooping arm tops. Not that the langerous styles of a year or two ago are back. But the tide of wide shoulders has abated and the present finds them, as has been aid, leaning more to drooping than military squareness.

Among little summer wraps, none is more popular than the cape which is apringing up in all sorts of funtastic shapes. Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are enused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous sur-

Send your old cook stove to the scrap heap and you will save your wife many moments of ill temper. With a gas stove there is no kindling to worry about; no coal or wood to carry in. No cleaning of stove pipes that blacken your face and darken your temper- It does not burn fuel when not in use and is more economical than your old wood stove. It never smokes or objects to burn and it will heat water before you can get your old wood stove going. What a blessing in case of sickness to say nothing of the economy of time in every day use. Summer is coming and you do not want your kitchen heated.

We can give you any number of reasons why you should use a gas stove and only one why you should not-the woodman might object, and if your woodman is no relation of yours his objections are invalid. Call on us and let us show you our stock of gas stoves and ranges, explain their workings to you and why they are better and more economical than a wood stove.
