COMING COLLEGE EVENTS

The month of June is always a lively one in college circles. Commencement days are upon us, and the long months' of hard study are over, and the students are looking forward to the many interesting events. The Willamette University commencement began Monday evening, May 29th, at the graduate recital of the College of Oratory, and from this on there will be something of interest every evening. The track meet Saturday, June 10th, will be a big event, as large numbers of students, as well as friends, from the U. of O., O. A. C. and Pacific College will be here. It is to be held on the fair grounds. Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Bishop David N. Moore, D. D., at the First M. E. church, at which time the entire Willamette University will be present. In the evening at the same place the Rev. D. H. Kimball, pastor of the Vincent M. E. church of Spokane, Washington, will preach. Next week will be Commencement week proper. The most important day to the students will be Thursday, June 15th, which is class day. The exercises of the day will be on the campus. In the evening at the Methodist church will occur the sixty-first annual commencement graduation of the '05 class of the College of Liberal Arts of the University. The class roll is as follows: Ezra Kinney Miller, Edgar Francis Averill, Lila Vinson Swafford, George Eugene Whipple, Burgess Francis Ford, and Paul Worth Beach. The address of the class will be given by Hon. C. E. Wolverton, LL.D., chief justice supreme court of Oregon.

SOUTHWICK COMING

Great Shakesperian Interpreter to Appear in Richard the III, June 9

Salem is to be congratulated in having the opportunity of hearing Henry Lawrence Southwick. There is no other Shakesperian reader before the public today who holds as high a place in the estimation of the people. Unfortunately when he appeared here last year, only a few availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing him, but those who did could not say enough in praise of his work. Here is what the press and some of the great men and women say of him: Mr. Southwick held me spellbound.—Mrs. Mary A. Livermore. Henry L. Southwick justly bears the reputation of being one of the most accomplished Shakesperian scholars and teachers of the present time.—Hon. John W. Dickinson. Professor Southwick held his hearers steadily under the spell of his matchless genius. He is more than a dramatic reader. In his work glows the deeper, steadier light of the artist with the loftiest conception of life's best culture.—Fort Wayne (Ind.) Sentinel. The "Richard III" might have been better done, but I cannot conceive it. It stirred and moved me more than I know how to express. I came away as from a most impressive religious service where you had been the eloquent preacher.—William J. Rolfe, A. M. Professor Southwick is a man of delicate, true and sure intellectual perception, a scholar as well as a student, a judicious expositor, a sound reasoner, and an inspiring teacher. * * * He has a convincing earnestness, a telling directness, and a kindly humanity.—Boston (Mass.) Courier.

TONIGHT. Edison—Vaudeville. SHOW A GREAT HIT. Every Act Playing the Edison is a Headliner.

Patrons of the Edison last night certainly got their money's worth, as the whole show is as good as any ever presented at this popular little playhouse. One of the acts did not arrive until the 8:19 train, so Manager Vance and his charming wife, who are known as Byrd and Vance, put on an act they played here some three months ago, and the crowded, yes, jammed house certainly enjoyed this clever act. The Alvinos arrived in time for the second show, and their act is one seldom equalled on the vaudeville stage. They almost make their banjos talk. Manager Byrd announces that tonight they would put on a comedy act in addition to their banjo turn, and they have certainly demonstrated that they are clever enough to do almost anything. The Dorel Sisters present one of the neatest sister acts in vaudeville.

SOCIAL EVENT'S

Musical Recital. The music lovers of the Capital City will have the opportunity of attending one of the best treats in the musical line this season, at the recital given by the pupils of Miss Beatrice Shelton, at the M. E. church this evening. Besides the instrumental numbers, Miss Lois Peebles, one of Salem's sweetest singers will render a vocal solo. The second recital will be given tomorrow (Wednesday evening) at which time the Misses Vercler, two talented young violinists, pupils of William Wallace Graham, will assist. Miss Bertha Hewitt, reader, will also be on the program. Both the recitals begin at 8 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited to be present.

Musical Recital.

The seventh annual recital of the College of Music was held at the First M. E. church last evening, and was attended by a large crowd of music lovers. The program, under the direction of Dean Seley and Prof. Newberry, was very entertaining, and each number was rendered in a most satisfactory manner, showing the result of careful study. In the rendition of the numbers the clear technique and the correct interpretation were wonderfully displayed. Special praise is bestowed upon the instrumental numbers given by Miss Chloe Bashor, Ethel Thomas and Lena Heise. The other instrumental pieces were given by Olive Metcalf, Lucy Parsons, Anna Hume and Frances Newcombe, and were also very good. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Mary Davidson, Miss Minnetta Magers, Arthur Grinnel, Arthur Boeschman and Ralph Zercher, and were listened to with much pleasure.

Entertained Friends.

Mrs. N. H. Looney, of the reform school entertained about 25 of her lady friends today. They went up on the noon train, and will return on the afternoon train. Mrs. Looney is an ideal hostess, and a very enjoyable time will be had.

A. O. U. W. Election.

Protection Lodge, No. 2, A. O. U. W., held its semi-annual election Monday night, electing the following officers, whose terms will begin July 1st: Past-master, Emil Donaldson, M. W., S. A. McPadden; Foreman, D. P. Wright; Overseer, G. J. Donaldson, Recorder, J. A. Sellwood; Financier, John Moir; Receiver, J. S. Pemberton; I. W., Frank Davey; O. W., R. O. Donaldson; trustees, F. H. Raymond, William Buck and G. Stok. This election followed close on the consolidation of the two lodges, and the new officers are from both old lodges.

W. B. Parker, deputy stock inspector for Eastern Oregon, performed the unequalled feat of dipping at the McCarty place near Baker City, 6000 head of sheep from Harney county in one day.
