Mysterious Man Coming.

Del-a-delphia, who has puzzled thousands, will appear at the Edison tonight, Friday, Saturday matinee and night and Sunday. This is an attraction of unusual merit, and Salem theatre patrons are indeed fortunate to be able to see this wonderful exhibition for the ridiculous price of ten cents. The Richards sisters are a fine team of singers, and their wooden shoe dancing is second to none. Jayne Coyne some of you will remember, as he appeared here a few months ago, when he made a decided hit. He is a good comedian, and a wonderful paper-tearer. F. J. Byrd will sing a new song entitled "Martha Jane," illustrated, and the motion pictures are all new views.

School Board Can Dismiss.

Superintendent Ackerman today rendered a decision in the case of C. E. Hayward and others against Miss Nora Sanborn. She was a teacher in the Hood River public schools, and at a meeting of the local board, and on complaint of patrons of the school, she was, after due trial, dismissed for incompetency. From this decision she appealed to the county superintendent of Wasco county, who sustained the board, and she then appealed to Superintendent Ackerman. After carefully examining the evidence Mr. Ackerman sustained the action of the county superintendent. The main feature in the case was whether the board had the right to annul its contract with her, and pay her only up to the time of her dismissal, and the decision affirms that right.

Piano Recital.

The second recital given by the pupils of Miss Beatrice Shelton was held at the First Methodist church last evening. A large crowd had gathered to listen to the delightful program, which was well rendered and immensely enjoyed. The program the night before was given by the older pupils, and last evening the younger ones took part.

The first number was rendered by Florence Metcalf and Francis Pohle, and was good. Miss Jennie Pearce played "Harlequin March" with perfect time. Maude Durbin and Evelyn Riegleman, both little tots, each gave a pretty piece, which were rendered very accurately. Mabel Smith and Claudine Rose gave a duet, "Valse," by Bohm, in good style, and which was very pleasing.

The sixth number on the program was a violin solo by Miss Viola Vercler. She gave the "Sixth Air Variet," by Dancal, and the audience was delighted with it. She played the piece in perfect harmony, and showed much talent.

One of the best piano numbers was two pieces by Miss Gallatia Humphreys, for she deserves special praise, Helen Pearce and Mamie Pigler gave a duet, which was good. Mabel Smith and Dorothy Pearce each gave numbers which were rendered very accurately. Other numbers were given by Barbara Durbin, Gertrude Hunt and Blanche Knox, which deserve special comment. Eva McAllister and Bella Morrison gave a pretty duet, "Rustle Dance and Romance," by Eyer, which was especially good.

Miss Pearl Vercler gave a violin solo, "Traumerel," by Schumann, which won much praise. Both the Vercler sisters are talented young people, and are pupils of William Wallace Graham, of Portland.

There were two eight-handed pieces, which were good, and enjoyed by the audience. Those taking part in this were Gallatia Humphrey, Maude Durbin, Mabel Smith, Evelyn Riegleman, and Blanche Knox. Zoia Toothache, Mildred Perkins and Grace Byrd. These pieces are difficult, but the young ladies played them with perfect ease and time.

Miss Bertha Hewitt, a talented young reader, of Willamette University, gave a reading entitled "Poe's Raven in an Elevator," which was much enjoyed.

Both Miss Shelton's recitals have been entertaining, and the people are always interested in them. The pianos used were fine ones, Paul G. Mehlin & Sons, furnished by W. O. Nisley.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
