Twice the wear of a welt sole, is the report we receive from customers who are wearing them. That's much better than we expected, but actual service proves it to be a fact.

The sole is the ideal of flexibility and having no insole is lighter than a welt, but in appearance can hardly be distinguished from the "Goodyear Welt" shoe.

UNCLE COLLIS' METHODS

Do not Store Freight but Charge for Wharfage Cheerfully

Washington, D. C., June 19.—The interstate commerce commission has received a complaint from the Pacific Coast Jobbers' association against the Southern Pacific. It complains that the road formerly brought all freight originating beyond the boundary of California, and destined for San Francisco, to the east side of San Francisco bay, at Oakland, whence it was transported by ferry to San Francisco, where it had to pay a water front toll of five cents per ton for the use of wharves. This toll was charged to all shippers, and when the company completed its line to San Francisco it continued to collect tolls from all shippers, in addition to the regular freight rates. The complainants ask that the road be compelled to desist from charging tolls, and to make restitution of money wrongfully collected.

National Guard Officers Meet.

St. Paul, Minn., June 19.—The adjutant-general and militia officers of many states are gathering in St. Paul for annual convention of the International Guard Association. The convention will be in session three days, and from all indications will be of great interest and importance to those interested in the affairs of the national guard.

One of the most important questions before the convention is the advisability of asking congress to increase the annual appropriation for the maintenance of the national guard of the several states from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. Members of the national association maintain that an increase in the appropriation is necessary to put the guard in good condition. Under the Dick law, passed by congress two years ago, the national guard is made the second defense of the United States, ranking next to the regular army, and in conformity with its important standing it is deemed necessary that the guard be fully equipped and kept in an excellent state of discipline.
