Hoch Gets Reprieve.

Chicago, June 22.—Following the refusal of State's Attorney Healy to agree to the arrangements giving Johann Hoch another week, in which to raise funds to appeal his case, Governor Deeney today withdrew the order for a stay of execution, and it is likely that Hoch will hang tomorrow. His attorney and religious adviser are at Springfield making a final appeal to the governor. Hoch is in a state of nervous collapse as a result of the withdrawal of the stay of proceedings.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—Governor Deeney today granted Hoch a reprieve until July 28th, in order to permit him to take his case to the supreme court on a writ of error.

Tozier Imports Buffalo Meat.

Albert Tozier arrived home from attending the National Press Association Oklahoma yesterday. He went as far East as New York, was gone 20 days, and never slept in the same state two nights. He brought back some samples of buffalo meat from the "feast," which he gave to his friends. Our only Stinson says he also has the horns in his gripack, but whether buffalo horns or just the kind usually found in grips, deponent sayeth not.

FELL FROM THE HEAVENS.

And Finally Brought Up in the Oregon Supreme Court.

The famous Oregon City meteorite case was argued before the supreme court yesterday afternoon. This is the case in which Eli Hughes, who lives near Oregon City, discovered this curio on a piece of wild land belonging to the Oregon Iron & Steel Co., of Portland.

From two Indians, one a surviving member of the Kljkitat tribe and the other a representative of the Wasco tribe, Mr. Hughes learned that the interesting subject of this controversy had belonged to the Clackamas tribe of Indians and was considered by them as a sort of a spirit being.

When discovered by Mr. Hughes, it was standing upright on a little knoll, and very strongly resembled a huge mushroom or inverted bell. The top or flat surface is about 10 by 4 feet, and is about four feet thick. Its weight is estimated at from three to four tons, and its specific gravity is that of soft iron. The composition of the strange meteorite is 90 per cent soft iron and 10 per cent nickel, with a trace of cobalt, all fused together, and giving the surface a reddish cast.

According to the legend of the Clackamas Indians, this huge piece of iron came from the moon, and was called by them "Monokowo." In its upper surface they had dug out wash bowls in which the rain water was collected, and this fluid was supposed to have supernatural powers. The young warriors of the tribe were compelled to visit this relic on the darkest nights to wash in this water, and to fall to dip their arrows in it before going into battle with their Indian foes, meant certain defeat.

But all this has changed, the Clackamas tribe is a thing of history, for many moons have come and gone since the last member took his departure for the happy hunting grounds. Abandoned by those who worshipped it, this visitor from the stars was fast being hid from the eyes of man by the surrounding brush.

Being convinced that it was an abandoned Indian relic, and therefore the property of the first to discover it and consider it of any value, Mr. Hughes constructed a rude wagon, and carted it to his home, about three-fourths of a mile distant.

When the Oregon Iron & Steel Co. heard of the find they immediately took steps to secure possession of it, on the ground that they are the possessors of the land upon which it was found. They deny it was an Indian relic any more than Mt. Hood is, for they argue that the Indians worshipped that, and if they could claim this meteorite they could also claim Mt. Hood. The company secured the verdict and possession of the strange object in the lower court, and Mr. Hughes appealed. His attorneys are Hayes & Latourette, of Oregon City, while Lithium, of Portland, appears for the Oregon Iron & Steel Co.

While both parties to this suit agree that this strange piece of iron came from the heavens, no testimony has yet been introduced to show when it concluded to take up its abode on earth.

Baseball News.

Pendleton has organized a strong baseball team, and, if possible, will play the rest of the season in the Inland Empire league, composed of Boise, Spokane and Salt Lake, taking the place of the team which disbanded at Ogden.

The Baker City Athletic Club baseball team was defeated by the Payette team last Sunday afternoon, in one of the fastest games ever witnessed in that city, the score being 8 to 5.

Marshfield was defeated by Bandon, 13 to 11, Sunday, and North Bend lost to Coquille City by a score of 4 to 0.

The Pacific National League has proved a failure, and has disbanded on account of being unable to pay expenses, and it is rumored that it will be formed over again with Baker City in the league.

The president of the Boise club says that his team will finish the season with Spokane, if agreeable. The plan is to organize Boise and Spokane with Pendleton and Walla for the second half of the season.

They All Got Doctored.

Williamstown, Mass., June 22.—President Roosevelt received the degree of L. H. D., Doctor Human Letters, from Williams college this morning, and made an address to the graduates. Jox Choate and Elihu Root each received the degree of L. L. D. The President was up early at the home of President Hopkins, where he spent the night. After breakfast he took a carriage ride about the village, and at 11 o'clock was escorted to the Congregational church, where the commencement exercises were held. At the close of his address the President made a brief speech to the town people, from a stand in front of the church. He was then hurried to the train and left for Washington at 1:30.

Goes With the Tigers.

Invitations have been received by friends in this city, announcing the graduating exercises of the June class of the State Normal school, of San Jose, Cal., which takes place today, June 23d, at 10:30 o'clock. Elmer Emerson, of that place, is one of the graduates. Many will remember him in this city, having played on the Salem "Raglan" a short time last summer. Since then Mr. Emerson has gained quite a reputation for his speedy twirling. He has signed with the Tacoma Tigers for the remainder of the season. His many friends will also be glad to hear of his success at school.
