Sunday School Workers.

Monteagle, Tenn., July 15.—Beginning tomorrow and continuing for two weeks there will be a school for Sunday school workers here. Many visitors are already arriving and the success of the gathering, which is the first of its kind to be held in the south is assured. The programme provides for lectures each day by leading Sunday school workers of the country.

Albany Democrat: Several years ago two members of the state legislature were S. P. Houston, democrat, and Bob Smith, republican. At the last session it was S. P. Houston, republican, and Bob Smith, democrat. Both are now prominently mentioned for congress.

OREGON EDITORS OPINIONS

On Political and Personal Matters of Some Importance

Home Market Never Better.

(D. C. Humphrey, Editor Lebanon Criterion.)

The clamor for radical tariff reform is simply another symptom of the reform epidemic which is just now infesting the country. The home market was never better than it is today and American labor was never more profitably employed. There is no occasion for stirring up a disturbance and unsettling values.

Coos Bay Courtesies.

What do you think of the cur who sneaks around and tries to hire another man's help away from him?—Coast Mail, July 7.

The Coast Mail is mistaken when it insinuates that the Harbor tried to hire away some of its help.—Coos Bay Harbor, July 8.

When the Coos Bay Harbor says that it has been cut off the exchange list of the Coast Mail, the Harbor lies.—Coast Mail, July 11.

Geer Resumes Making Hay.

(W. J. Clark in Gervais Star.)

Ex-Governor Geer recently spent a day in the haying fields, on his Waldo hills farm. He now recommends the farm and farm life to that young man who has many and divers kinds of ills. His intimation that such a life is far better than to have the governing power over a state is timely, yet it must not be taken seriously, because our ex-governor has no intention of quitting politics, no not yet awhile.

A Crazy Idea.

(Herbert L. Gill in the Woodburn Independent.)

There is a probability that the woman suffragists will win at the next election, when the question will be placed before the voters through the initiative. They have been almost promised the unexpected aid of the saloon element, which can throw thousands of votes into the scales. The liquor men would not act unselfishly, for they would hope with women suffrage to gain enough women's votes from Portland's "North End" and elsewhere to repeal the local option law. If the saloons were to side with the woman suffragists, it would give the suffrage exponents the appearance of siding, even temporarily, with their allies, the saloonkeepers.

Democrats Still Love Hermann.

(Eugene Daily Guard, Democratic.)

Four Republicans down in Marion county have made it known that they would willingly take the seat in congress now held by good natured, smiling Binger Hermann. No use. When Binger was kicked out of the big position of commissioner of the general land office back at Washington by a Republican president what did he do? Just came back to his dear old Oregon, got the nomination for congress against a lot of clean candidates in the convention, and then—the Republicans whose president had kicked him out of office just sent him back to keep at least official company with that president. Few more could withstand such political jolts as have at one time and another fallen to Binger's lot.

Candidates for Congress.

(A. W. Prescott in Oregonian.)

Charles B. Moores of Salem has entered the race for the Republican nomination for congress from the First district, thus giving Marion county four aspirants. The others are: Walter L. Tooze, though the latter two have not yet declared their intentions. What the aspirant for a nomination thinks or knows about national questions and what he can do for Oregon will receive the consideration of voters when they go to the primaries. After a candidate has been nominated and the Democrats try to defeat him, the fight on party lines will begin. Marion county has more than half the probable candidates for the congressional nomination. The others who are counted as candidates are: W. I. Vawter of Jackson county; P. R. Kelly of Linn, and I. H. Bingham of Lane. All of these gentlemen are good public speakers.

The Late Judge Bellinger Had a Heart In Him.

(Eugene Guard, Dem.)

The most pathetic incident of the land fraud trials is connected with the death of the late Judge Bellinger. When Judge Bellinger fully understood the magnitude of the cases against his life-long firm and faithful friend, Senator Mitchell, he asked the President, under the circumstances that they had been virtually raised together, were the best of friends and fellow lodge members, to excuse him from sitting in the trials. The President firmly refused and upon receiving the word, tears fell thick and fast from the late honored judge and burying his head in his arms between his sobs he said: "They should have granted me this one favor. I would rather die than to hear those trials." Such was the noble, honored character of the deceased judge, who was maligned and misrepresented by a few Oregon papers before his death, and who has been followed to his grave by vituperative unprincipled few writers of Oregon.

A MEASURE OF MERIT.

Salem Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Salem. Is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Salem people.

That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Salem citizen.

William H. Spayd, living at the corner of North Winter and D streets, says: "Words cannot express my opinion half strong enough of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have known their remarkable merits for the last eight years having used them in Clinton Co., Mich., where I was living. My kidneys were a source of annoyance for quite a number of years. I had much pain across my loins and the secretions from the kidneys were irregular in action, causing me to rise often in the night, and at times there was a scalding. I also had more or less dizziness. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from Dr. Stone's drug store and gave some to a person visiting us and they gave her wonderful relief, and in my case I was benefited in every way. My backache was relieved and the trouble with the kidney secretions was corrected. You are at liberty to refer to me as one who can endorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills and I also know of a great many others who have used them with the best of results."

From Marion.

Forest P. Buerer was born near Clay Center, Neb., in 1886, and was drowned near Veal's mill, Marion, Or., at the age of 19 years 11 months 17 days. Rev. Metzker of Dallas, assisted by Rev. B. F. Henshaw and Rev. William McCloud conducted the funeral services. The remains rest in the Marion cemetery. Forest was converted in 1899 and remained a member of the United Evangelical church at Dallas, Or. He had just received a diploma from the Marion school. The following verse, which seems almost prophetic of his death, was found on the back of one of his examination papers:

"The shortest life is longest if its best; 'Tis ours to work, to God belongs the rest. Our lives are unsecured by deeds we do, The thoughts we think, the objects we pursue. A fair young life poured out upon the sod In the high cause of Freedom and God. Though all too short his course and quickly run Is full and glorious as the obdurate sun, While he who lives to hoary-headed age Oft dies an infant, dies and leaves no sign, For he has writ no deed on history's page, And unfilled is Being great design."

Forest leaves a sorrowing mother, five brothers and two sisters to mourn his death. His father died in 1897 in California. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the neighborhood.

The first load of this year's crop of turkey red wheat was brought to Pendleton Wednesday. The wheat will go 28 to 30 bushels to the acre, and tests 63 pounds to the bushel.
