AMUSEMENTS.

TONIGHT.
Edison—Vaudeville.
EDISON'S POLITE VAUDEVILLE.

The Popular Theatre Has Fine Business in Spite of Strong Opposition.

Maurettus and Hall, in a military sketch, entitled "obeying orders," made a good impression last night, Mr. Maurettus being a clever blackface comedian and his partner displaying some magnificent gowns. Walker, the musical rube, both amused and entertained with his specialty, his selection on the saxophone being well rendered. Helen Vance, singing the illustrated son, "Like a Star When It Falls From Heaven," received generous applause. The little comedy entitled "The Lottery Prize" was a laugh-producing number, and, as usual, the Edisonoscope has a fine lot of interesting motion pictures. The management announces two great features opening Thursday night, Ted McKenna and his $5000 dog Ted, and the well known and popular basso, Mr. George C. L. Snyder, singing the world famous song, "The Holy City," splendidly illustrated by colored motion pictures.

The late Jay Cooke was the son of Eleutheros Cooke and got his name in rather a strange way. His father was always in trouble getting people to pronounce his name and spell it correctly, so when his son was born he said he would give him a name which would spell itself, and so he called him Jay.

A log drive of 3,000,000 feet has reached Eugene. It came from above the mouth of the north fork of the Willamette, taking 20 men 46 days to land it. Another drive of 12,000,000 feet is well under way.

A young man named Mendel has been passing as Captain Baker, U. S. A. It is unnecessary to say he masked scores of Portland girls with his brass buttons, but at the theatre in Portland last night he ran across the real Captain Baker, and he is now in jail.

John U. Beer of Silverton met with a very painful accident last Sunday. His son was handling a gun, and while talking to his father who was only a short distance from him, he let the gun fall and it discharged and the contents penetrated the senior Beer's limbs, inflicting serious wounds.

The four-year old son of Mrs. Belt of Corvallis, who is visiting at the L. H. Fischer home at Silverton, was quite seriously injured Wednesday afternoon. The little boy was playing in the street when a team passed. A colt was following, and as it passed the little boy it kicked him in the head, inflicting a wound which rendered him unconscious. Dr. Byrd of Salem was sent for and the wound was dressed.

A Paying Crop.
Mr. H. H. Vandervort, who has a farm on top of the hills west of Salem, has tried an experiment this year which bids fair to pay him well for his trouble. Last week he bound about 20 acres of orchard grass, which, when threshed, will yield him about 3000 pounds of seed, which is now worth in the market from 10 to 12 cents per pound. It is not a new thing to raise orchard grass in this country, but it is a new thing to take care of it and thresh it for seed. Mr. Vandervort's 20 acres of orchard grass will thus pay him fully as much as if he had had it in wheat, and it was a great deal less trouble.
