Edison—Vaudeville.

CHANGE AT THE EDISON.

A Performer Injured, Byrd and Vance Entertain Instead.

Those who saw the performance at the popular little vaudeville theatre were somewhat surprised to see the team of Byrd and Vance in their clever specialty, as this turn had not been announced. They were forced to put on their act, as one of the performers, Mr. Maurettus, was very badly hurt by falling down an air shaft, as he was entering the rear door of the theatre, to get ready for the evening's performance. He will be unable to act for some little time, as his back, shoulder and head are injured. Mr. Byrd will fill the place left vacant by Mr. Maurettus, and will put on an original three-act comedy that is as funny as funny can be, in addition to an act with Helen Vance, which they made very popular in Salem some time ago. Mr. James B. Walker will appear in his very clever musical comedy specialty, in which he introduces the saxophone and trick playing on the violin. Tomorrow night two special feature acts are announced to appear. Mr. George C. L. Snyder, the popular basso, will sing "The Holy City," illustrated with colored motion pictures, and Ted McKenna and his $5000 dog, Ted, and will no doubt make a sensation in Salem, as they have wherever they have appeared.

Preacher vs. Phonograph.

He preached about the pleasure
That there is in doing good,
He held the Scriptures sacred
And he did the best he could;
He consoled the weeping widow
And he dried the orphan's tear,
He made his sermons scholarly
But few turned out to hear.

He preached about the danger
That there is in doing wrong;
He held that being righteous
Goes for more than being strong.
He preached that men should follow
The Lord's teachings day by day,
And presently he noticed
That the people stayed away.

He bought a brand new phonograph,
With records for the same,
And announced that he hereafter
Would be up with the game.
And then he studied slang instead
Of conning ancient lore,
And then the crowds are long began
To line up at the door.

He ceased to warn his hearers that
They ought to change their ways;
He ceased to preach the gospel and
He studied to amaze.
He says they're coming easy—
He's cock sure as can be;
They've given him a paragonage
And raised his salary.
