SALEM KEEPS GROWING

Just a Few Improvements Noted by the Journal Reporter in His Rounds

William Gilson, the new owner of the Ryan Barber shop has bought the Goodell property on Chemeketa street, and is having the house remodeled and a large porch and addition put on. It will be a fine residence when completed.

Miss Libby Watt is having a small cottage put up on Chemeketa street, which will soon be ready for occupancy.

J. W. Young, the well known contractor, has renovated his home on Cottage street, and now has a fine, modern house.

C. G. Worrick, next door to Mr. Young, in North Salem, has also made a great many fine improvements. The house has been enlarged and Mr. Worrick will have a very pretty place.

The fine new home of Henry Wenzel, also on Cottage street, will soon be ready for occupancy.

H. M. Buell, corner of Cottage and Market streets, has moved his house back on the grounds, and has built an entire front addition, which will greatly improve his property.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowe, of Englewood have gone to housekeeping in their new home, which is now completed, and is quite a modern little building.

J. A. Taylor, of the Capital Improvement Co., has a fine modern home just east of the state house, which is nearing completion.

ALMOST A MILLION

At the end of the eighth week of the Lewis and Clarke exposition, yesterday at 11 p. m., the total admissions had already aggregated nearly 900,000, going above that figure today. The eighth week of the exposition was remarkable for its large attendance, being second only to the fifth, in which came the record day of the whole exposition, July 4th. Even more remarkable than the large aggregate attendance of the week just ended is the fact that the attendance was well sustained, three days being over 20,000, and only one day, besides Sunday, under 17,000. The excellent program at the end of last week, concluding with the sham battle and the German day celebrations Saturday, is responsible for this record, Saturday being the third largest day in point of attendance of the entire exposition.

River Low—Fishing Good. The Willamette river is as low as ever known at this season, and within one inch of low water mark. Boats are running regularly to Salem and run up to Independence on Sundays. The traffic on the river is unusually heavy for the dull season. Fishing for bass and trout in the river is being pursued with great success, and many piscatorial cranks are thus spending their spare hours with profit.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Uterine Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous? How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children. The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the ovaries and between the shoulders. Loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia. A tendency to cry at the least provocation. All this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night."

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me."

"I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

LICE ONLY IN PLACES Where Spraying Has Been Done the Crops are Good, Otherwise Not

Reports come from many yards that the hop louse is practically dead, but that in yards where he was not cleaned out by spraying his carcass is so numerous that there will be no hops. In short, the yards where thorough spraying has been done are apparently all right, but where this cleansing process has been neglected there are, as a rule, few good hops. The honey dew on the vines holds fast the dead vermin to such an extent that perfect stagnation prevails. On top of this the green blowfly has appeared to feed upon the dead remains of the aphid, and is gradually destroying what remains. As a result, there are some yards that will produce nothing, while others will have crops as large as have ever been produced.

A Great Convenience. The Salem-Independence auto car line is again about ready to resume service with its roadster, which was laid up for a few days. In the meantime they have kept up the service with rigs. The business worked up by these people is proving a success, and will be of a permanent nature. Trips are being made on time, and passengers are well satisfied.

To Bridge Willamette. A committee was appointed by Governor Chamberlain today to examine the cost and feasibility of the construction of a bridge across the Willamette river, from a point in the county of Clackamas to Multnomah county. Those appointed as committeemen are: Senator C. W. Nottingham, J. P. Linton, J. M. Bramhall and S. B. Linticum.

A Pleasant Way to Travel. The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information. W. C. M'BRIDE, Gen. Agt., 124 Third St., Portland, Ore.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. AT IT AGAIN.

Binger Hermann Is Out for Re-Election, According to Friends.

Friends of Binger Hermann, the indicted congressman from the First district, have launched his boom for re-election, and predict possible victory on the ground that the opposition will be split up and that he will be able to enter the gates as in the past. However, many incline to the belief that this is a remote possibility at best, inasmuch as Hermann is liable to be too busy trying to crawl out from under the load of indictments hanging over him to make a congressional fight possible. And also, it is urged, he may be away at Washington fighting another indictment or undergoing trial at a time when, if he is to be a candidate, he would necessarily have to be on hand to supervise his campaign. Hermann is looked upon by most people as the last man in the First district likely to cut a swath at the political harvest next year.—Banner Democrat.

Fish and Ducks.

"No fishing or hunting upon these premises." This is the notice which may be seen in the show window of the Brewer Drug Co's store. Mr. Brewer has the novel window. It is a miniature hunting grounds, inhabited with ducks and fish, with plenty of water and grasses to live in. It is a pleasant sight to see the two little white ducks swimming and diving in the large tank which is set in one of the show windows. The little fellows are seemingly content with their new home. The red fish are also another pretty sight; they look like crimson coral in the clear water of the tank, and the fish and ducks together sometimes make the water boil with their play.

Hood River Property.

A Hood River preacher of the Holy Roller variety, has concluded that Mt. Hood is going to erupt between now and August 10th. A lava flow, he says, will fill Hood River valley, and consume everything down even to Portland. He has a number of converts, and with them he has gone to the summit of Mt. Defiance, the highest peak between Mt. Hood and the Columbia river, to await the outbreak. There are, of course, the usual number of hard-headed unbelievers who refuse to take less than the usual prices for their lands.

IDAHO EDITORS ROBBED

Smooth Thieves Get Away With Both Money and Clothes

There was wholesale robbery on the Oregon express, which arrived here at 8 o'clock last night from Portland. Pending a thorough investigation of the sensational looting of two Pullman cars, the Southern Pacific officials and detectives are making every effort to suppress publicity of the affair.

It is known that four men in the special Pullman car chartered by the Idaho State Editorial Association, and attached to the rear of the train, were despoiled of money, jewelry and clothing. In the Pullman next to it two Eastern passengers were robbed.

The Idaho editors, with members of their families, number 40 persons. They have been visiting the Portland and have come to California on a sight-seeing tour. Last Sunday morning, between 2 and 6 a. m., four of their number were robbed. One of them, Editor Bert Mills, of the Idaho Falls "Times," was robbed of $140 in cash a watch and ring, and most of his clothes. D. L. Badley, of Boise City, grand secretary of the Idaho Odd Fellows, and editor of the Idaho "Odd Fellow," lost nearly all his clothes and $90 in cash.

Another editor, who refused to give his name, lost his trousers, with his false teeth in one pocket. L. J. Weaver, of Mountain Home, lost his trousers and $50 in cash. C. E. Jones, of the "Idaho World," had $40 in cash stolen from him, together with his coat.

In the next car a man said to be C. E. Blackley, of Columbus, O., was robbed of $65 in cash. Another man in the same car was robbed of an overcoat of considerable value. His name is the only one the railroad people have succeeded in impressing. About 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon his overcoat was found on top of the special Pullman of the Idaho editors, where it

CHRONIC SORES

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903. Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were healed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated, nor have the sores ever broke out again. Some 12 years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so significantly benefited by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier. JOHN W. FUNDIS, Care Schmulback Brewing Co.

Chronic sores start often from a pimple, scratch, bruise or boil, and while salves, washes and powders are beneficial, the unhealthy matter in the blood must be driven out or the sore will continue to eat and spread. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood, removes all impurities and poisons, builds up the entire system and strengthens the circulation. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic combined. Contains no mineral whatever but is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you have an old sore write us and our physicians will advise without charge. Book on diseases of the Blood free.

The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

was evidently secreted by the robber or robbers. The two Pullman porters are suspected of knowing something about the robberies, and the railroad detectives, who were advised by telegraph of the thefts, were at the Oakland mole last night on the train's arrival to question the negroes.

The loss of the clothes by the Idaho editors is presumably due to the haste of the robber or robbers, they grabbing the clothes and after rifling them out on the platforms throwing them away. The editors say that the robberies took place after 2 a. m. Sunday morning, because a number of them were up until that hour. They say the porter in their car told a story of going ahead on the train to get more ice after that hour, and therefore was not in the car when the robberies took place.

They are not prepared to accept the story he tells. They also say the porter in the next car acted in a strange manner, and was nervous all of Sunday, after the news of the robberies spread through the train. This fact, together with the finding of the overcoat stolen from his car on top of their car, causes them to think he knows something about the wholesale robbery.—San Francisco Examiner, July 27th.

A SALEM CASE.

Many More Like It in Salem. The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Salem. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Jacob E. McCoy, bridge builder and contractor, residing on Capital street, Salem, Oregon, second house beyond Mill Creek, says: "I have always enjoyed good health up to five or six years ago. Along about that time my kidneys commenced to bother me. There was not so much backache, but the principal symptoms were in connection with the kidney secretions. A strain or over-exertion very often caused hemorrhages of the kidneys. I cannot say that it was so very painful, but it was very annoying. I used various remedies, and while some gave relief, others were worthless. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, and when up town I procured a box, taking them as directed. A few doses gave me very convincing proof that they were going to the right spot, and I can state that they gave me wonderful relief. I have a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, and cheerfully recommend them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
