PERFORMANCE PLEASES ALL.

Bill at the Little Theatre is One to Satisfy the Most Fastidious.

Heading the bill at the Edison last night were Starkey and his popular wife, Ethel Cossette, in a sketch full of fun on the farm, consisting of clever songs, acrobatic work on the bars and comedy that is entirely original. They were given a great reception on their appearance at age performance, and they certainly deserved the applause they received. West and West, in a tramp act, pleased the audiences, Mrs. West being a very fine singer and singing sweet selections. Harry Cubey, in a high tramp act, entertained for about seven minutes at each performance. Jeanette Ormsby handled the illustrated song in a splendid manner, and the applause she received was deserved. The bull fight on the Edisonoscope was very realistic, and the whole show delighted the patrons. Prize matinee Saturday at 3:15 p. m.

Pickpockets at Work.
Pickpockets are believed to have commenced operations in the exposition grounds. Last night H. E. Brooke, of the Honeyman Hardware Company, reported to the police the theft of a gold watch during the afternoon at the fair. Josephine Wren, an exposition visitor, reported to the police last night that her gold watch was taken from her in a crowd around the fair entrance early in the evening. This will have the effect of all suspects being gathered into the city jail and ordered to leave the city or go to jail for vagrancy.—Oregonian.

DEAD BODY IN TRUNK

Awful Find Made by Tramp at Tunnel No. 3 Last Night.

The Dalles Chronicle of Wednesday says:

"A startling story comes to us this afternoon, tragic in the extreme and capable of developing into one of the most sensational ever chronicled by this paper.

"A trunk containing the dead body of a man was found at Tunnel No. 3, about seven miles west of the city, last night, is the report which Peter Henningsen of Mosier brought up this morning. It was discovered in some high grass north of the tunnel by a tramp, who, supposing he had made a great find, cut a large square hole in the top, and, to his horror, ran into the head of a man. Frightened out of his senses he ran to Section Boss Gardner and told him of his find. Mr. Gardner informed Mosier, who in turn sent word to the coroner and authorities. Henningsen, who brought up the news, says he went down and found tracks leading from the river up, but weakened when it came to examining the trunk, which he says was a new one. Captain Nelson says the trunk has been there for three days; that he has noticed it and wondered why it was not moved.

"It is supposed it was brought up the river by one of the boats, the crew little knowing the awful contents thereof.

"Sheriff Sexton, Marshal Wood, Constable Harper, Coroner Burget and Mr. Henningsen took the small launch down this afternoon and will investigate.

"The sheriff suggests that it may be the body of some of the men who have been missed in Portland recently.

A FOOLISH PLAN

"Tis a joy to eat—I welcome my dinner hour! Because I rout indigestion with August Flower
Constipation is the result of indigestion biliousness, flatulency, loss of appetite, self-poisoning, anemia, emaciation, uric acid, neuralgia in various parts of the system, catarrhal inflammation of the intestinal canal and numerous other ailments that rob life of its pleasures if they do not finally rob you of life itself.
"I'm bound in the bowels," is a common expression of people who look miserable and are miserable—yet who persist in "letting nature take its course."
What a foolish plan, when nature could be aided by the use of Green's August Flower, which is nature's own remedy for constipation and all stomach ills.
August Flower gives new life to the liver and insures healthy stools.
Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

"Boss" Buckley in Portland.

For many years C. A. Buckley, better known to the public as "Boss Buckley," dominated things politically in San Francisco. He was Democratic dictator, and made supervisors, legislators and judges of the court, and filled minor political posts with his own candidates at will. He was a saloon proprietor, and, although blind, was shrewd and calculating, and knew his political pawns better than any other of the clever politicians of the period. Wealth poured into his coffers and he grew rich, feared by his political opponents and called the "blind white devil" by denizens of Chinatown. In 1891 he made a hurried trip to Montreal during a session of the grand jury, and found the climate of the Canadian metropolis so agreeable that he remained there some time, during which his political power vanished, and, returning to California, he settled on a farm at Livermore.

Last night Mr. Buckley arrived in Portland, accompanied by his wife and son, Christopher Buckley, Jr., and is at the Hotel Oregon. The party will

A Woman Crusoe.

Beginning due west of Point Conception, on the California coast, and continuing at irregular intervals as far south as the Bay of Todos Santos, in Lower California, lie the Channel Islands. In this ideal region for the yachtsman, the fisherman and the hunter, one comes to feel like a new Crusoe on his primitive island. And in very truth Crusoe's semi-mythical story was enacted upon one of these same islands though minus the man Friday and the happy ending. The castaway in this case was a woman, a Danish emigrant left ashore through some mischance by the crew of a vessel that had sought shelter behind San Nicholas during a storm in the early '50s. For over 17 years the lone creature lived unthought and forgotten, though the time at length came when, on the day's the mist-clearing north wind blew, she would climb to the island's highest point and view the ranchers' herds grazing upon the mainland. And at last, when hope and reason had both long died, the poor, wild, gibbering creature was found in her wolf's burrow among the hills by the advance guard of the other hunters' fraternity, who had long wondered at the mysterious footprints they marked upon the lonely sands.—Field and Stream.
