CHRISTIA COLONY WORK

H. S. Wallace Explains Co-operative Federation Methods

"Progressive Christianity" was the theme of the sermon of Rev. H. S. Wallace, president of the Co-operative Christian Federation, recently organized, delivered last evening at the Central Baptist church. Mr. Wallace endeavored to show the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God, and to point to the account given at the address of the purposes of the Co-operative Federation in some of its details, which was distributed in the congregation. Mr. Wallace is enthusiastic for this great enterprise, which has been capitalized for $250,000, and which is now being conducted on a substantial basis.

Purpose of Organization. It is for the purpose of purchasing and mainly undeveloped properties, and to supply the necessities of life, and to establish a system of bond issues of a new kind, and to protect the bondholder absolutely from loss of principal, secure him interest for the first five years and to him no risk of loss of future earnings, considering that the revenues of all properties are to be paid to him, with the increased value of five years' development to him. To manage all properties for or by the federation by a competent, well-known man, placed in a trust for that purpose; and all the properties of that trust shall be managed by any or all members of the federation could be made; to supply the necessities for all such enterprises, so far as possible, from the active members of the federation, resident in the towns and settlements established.

What Bondholder Gets. The bondholder gets 5 per cent interest on his bonds fixed, but another 5 per cent contingent on profits. A bondholder gets the social advantages of the federation town at a price paid for on the installment plan. There will be free schools, medical attendance, provisions for widows and orphans, well-trained managers. Shares also in the profits from the whole enterprise, which will represent about 75 per cent of such profits. The principal of the federation is not paternal. It is no more based on the ethics laid down in the teachings of Jesus Christ. Disputes and differences arise they are to be settled by arbitration, for all arrangements are made in the constitution. If a member breaks the moral law, or becomes unfit for membership in the federation, he can be expelled, but he shall receive back whatever he has paid on his house. Any interference with any special religious tenets or affiliation of any members is expressly forbidden.

Rev. H. S. Wallace, the originator of the federation, is an Oregon man, and has brought the plan to its present standing. After full consideration with eastern upholders and friends of the enterprise, it was decided to issue $500,000 in bonds, the bonds to carry 5 per cent interest fixed and another 5 per cent conditional interest.

How Issue Will Be Made. This issue will be made by the Title Guaranty & Trust Company of New York, as soon as the necessary papers prepared by the Oregon counsel of the federation have been passed on by the New York counsel. The funds retained from the subscription for the guarantee of repayment of the principal of the bonds at maturity will be held and invested for that purpose by the Trust Company of America. The fund securing the payment of 5 per cent on the bonds for the first five years will be managed and invested by local institutions, in co-operation with the Commercial Trust Company of New Jersey. A strong New York syndicate has undertaken all the expenses of the issue, and a far-reaching work will be undertaken at once in advertising the advantages and resources of Oregon, which will be of great importance to the state. Large areas of land in eastern Oregon are to be acquired and developed by irrigation, cultivated and settled. Such settlements are to be brought into close communication with Portland.

In Western Oregon suitable lands will be acquired that can be selected as the center of the federation work. There the chief federation city will be established. Manufactures of diverse kinds will be set on foot there, which will give employment to the active members of the federation. There will be creameries, cheese factories, woolen mills, flax factory, clothing factory and kindred industries. These are the objects aimed at by Mr. Wallace, as set forth in the explanations given last evening, and which are now assuming form and substance. As soon as the $500,000,000 bonds are disposed of in the east then trained agents will purchase the tracts of lands needed for the settlements, and the working out of the plans of the Christian Co-operative Federation.

"Depew to the Bar." Nothing more is needed to bring Chauncey M. Depew, senator of the United States, before the bar of criminal justice, charged with a penitentiary offense, that that an alert and determined district attorney should present to a grand jury the senator's own testimony in the investigation of the Equitable society.

Depew's yearly salary of $20,000 for undefined legal services is trivial in the great volume of graft. His ready acceptance of $25 for each directors' meeting, whether he attended it or not, was shared by the other self-sacrificing financiers working for the dear poldy holders.

But the senator's description of the part played by him in foisting upon the insurance company the property of the now bankrupt Depew Improvement company is enough by itself to call the attention of the district attorney to his actions.

He was a director of the Equitable. He was also heavily interested in the improvement company—partly by direct purchase, partly by loans made to his associates on their stock.

The improvement company was embarrassed in 1901. At that time the insurance department of the state appraised its value at $150,000. Mr. Depew, acting in that "general capacity" which he thinks justifies his annual retainer of $20,000, wrote to the department asking a new and higher appraisal.

The reason for this request was quickly made apparent. The Depew Improvement company appeared before the Equitable, asking for a loan of $250,000. A complainant appraiser in the employ of the company, recognizing on which side his bread was buttered, appraised the property at $393,750.

The loan was made. Senator-Director-Borrower Depew voted that the loan should be made to his company. Moreover, he agreed to guarantee the loan to the society. When the company went bankrupt he repudiated his guarantee.

The company did go bankrupt. The Equitable foreclosed and the Depew property on which Depew had loaned $250,000 of the society's funds brought $50,000. The actual loss to the society is still greater, for the loan, with accrued interest, now represents over $275,000.

By letting Depew deal with Depew in this friendly fashion the society lost $225,000. Who got it?

To recapitulate: Depew as Equitable director voted to lend Depew as borrower $250,000 on property officially appraised at $150,000.

Depew as borrower guaranteed the loan and as borrower and director repudiated the guarantee.

The society lost $225,000 by the transaction.

United States senators from Oregon and Kansas are now under conviction of misdemeanors which are trivial in comparison to this colossal offense of Depew's. Is the state of New York going to let this juggle with the money of widows and orphans go scot free?—New York American.

Killed a Bear. The story reached Corvallis a few days ago to the effect that the 15-year-old son of Jack Ervin had killed a black bear on their ranch between Beaver creek and Grensy. The bear was fat as a result of the inroads made on the flock of goats owned by Mr. Ervin. The boy met bruin in the timber, and although he had not but a shotgun loaded with birdshot, he opened fire. The animal continued to come toward the lad after the first shot, but badly frightened as he was, the young hunter stood his ground and unloaded another barrel into the bear. This did the work and the lad had a dead bear to his credit.—Corvallis Gazette.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy. "I have suffered for 25 years with severe pains in my head, heart and back, and have tried everything I could get and could not find any relief until I got a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I suffered as long as 15 hours at a time with such severe pains that I feared I would lose my mind. The Anti-Pain Pills gave me relief in from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not care to use Morphine any more. I wish you would publish this so that other sufferers may find relief."

Climate and Crop Service.
The past week was dry and warm, but not so warm as the preceding week. All late crops would be benefitted by rain, but they are doing fairly well without it. The fall grain harvest is well advanced, and the yields generally are extra good, both as to quality and quantity. The spring wheat harvest is now becoming general, and whereas the yields were shortened somewhat by the preceding hot weather, the damage turns out to be less than expected. Pasture is getting dry, but stock as a rule continues in excellent condition. The second crop of alfalfa is being harvested with satisfactory returns.

Hops are doing well, and the hot weather, combined with more spraying of the vines than usual, has caused the lice to nearly all disappear, and the crop now promises to be a better one than expected a few weeks ago. Field onions are ripening rapidly and late potatoes are thrifty and promising. Some damage is being done in Washington county to late potato tops by army worms. Corn is tasseling and making good advancement. Early peaches are in the market. Apples are doing well, but Italian prunes are dropping more than they usually do at this season of the year.
