

Fairbanks Morse Gasoline Wood Saw Outfits

We have just delivered another one of our standard 4-horse rigs, and the purchaser thereof will certainly get the most profit and satisfaction out of it from an out of two steam rigs. The Fairbanks-Morse engines are reliable sort. Any amateur, with little instruction, can take them and anywhere, with the assurance that they will continue to run. They are the best of everything that constitutes good material and workmanship, and they are built by a firm that has over 40,000 engines in use. They are no experiment. Call for a catalogue and inspect the engines.

WAGONS AND BEADER GEARS

Last week we told you all about how Studebakers are built, and what they are made of. We hope it "soaked in" for there's nothing in the wagon line that's just like a Studebaker, and the purchaser of a wagon should be interested in how it's put together. We have all sizes ready for immediate delivery.

SPECIAL SNAP

We have bought a few half truck wagons, 3 1/2 sizes, of a standard make, strictly first-class in every respect, heavy white-oak spokes, felloes and hubs, that we are selling at $60 while they last. This is from $15 to $26 less than this type of wagon usually sells. Come and see why it's good.

CITY NEWS

A Collection of Important Paragraphs for Your Consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Bernardi and their son, Freddie, expect to leave for Nye Creek tomorrow, to be gone a month or six weeks. Joe and Freddie are enthusiastic fishermen, and it goes without saying that they will put in full time with the hook and line.

Cures dizzy spells, tired feeling, stomach, kidney and liver troubles. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, tea or tablets. Stone's Drug Store.

No race suicide there: A family of movers passed through Salem yesterday afternoon. There were an even dozen children in the bunch, besides the father, mother and a good sprinkling of dogs.

Comforts the heart, strengthens the mind. Is good ill or well. Makes the face bright as the summer morn. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Cures when all else fails. 35 cents. Dr. Stone's Drug Store.

John Holm, the blacksmith, at 781 Center street, has lately built a new building to accommodate his increasing business. He has a number of good rigs and gentle horses for hire.

Tender meats and right prices at Farrington's cash market.

Central Lodge No. 18, K. P., tonight. Work. Something new. Visiting members invited. O. G. Schellberg, C. C.

About the hottest job these days is the one the telephone line men have up on the poles, putting on the finishing touches to the new system the company is installing.

When you feel a sense of weight and oppression after meals it means indigestion. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea positively cures indigestion, constipation and stomach troubles. 35 cents, tea or tablets. Stone's Drug Store, Salem Oregon.

Some horse owners do not seem to care much about their own stock, or that of others. A horse nearly covered all over with mange was hitched on Court street yesterday afternoon for several hours.

Yesterday afternoon the following persons were made glad through the office of the county clerk, via the marriage license router: Fred Horner and Alpha Stout and Homer Saunders and Lillian Lewis.

A slight blaze on the top of a box car loaded with lumber was discovered yesterday afternoon as the northbound freight pulled into the yards. The car was pulled up to the south tank, and the fire put out.

This is a pretty hot day, but the bill collectors are getting there just the same, though somewhat warm under the collar.

In the probate court yesterday afternoon the last will and testament of Phillip Petzel was filed, with Charles A. Petzel named as executor. The personal property is valued at $500, and was bequeathed to a son of the deceased, Charles A. Petzel. Judge Scott appointed John Painter, Charles Worden and W. B. McCornick to appraise the estate.

Regular drills have been suspended for the next two months by Lieutenant Holman, commanding Company M of this city.

There are now twelve men of Company M doing guard duty at the Exposition grounds at Portland.

J. W. Shattuck of Gresham, George W. Jette of Baker City, R. A. Harris of Portland, W. K. Newell of Dilly, and A. B. Cavender of Brownsville, were yesterday appointed by Governor Chamberlain as state road commissioners to look into the matter of using convict labor for building a state road from Portland to the southern part of the state. The commission is required to report to the next legislature.

Mrs. Mary T. Knighton, the woman who was arrested Saturday night on the charge of stealing various articles from the Cottage hotel, was adjudged insane before the county judge yesterday afternoon, after an examination made by Dr. F. E. Smith.

The following dates have been set for hearing of final accounts in the probate court: Wednesday, September 23, at 1 o'clock, W. O. Hawley as administrator of the estate of Myron E. Baker, deceased; W. J. Culver, as administrator of the estate of Louisa J. Culver, deceased; and Kate Coyle, as administrator of the estate of A. H. Coyle, deceased. Friday, September 4th, at 1 o'clock, Ellen O'Neill, as administrator of the estate of Michael O'Neill, deceased.

Some people have a habit of wanting something for nothing in this world, and a prominent lawyer in Salem has been repeatedly bothered by persons stopping him on the streets and asking his advice on different questions. He decided to put a stop to the practice, if possible, and this morning, when he was stopped on the corner of State and Commercial streets by one of "get something for nothing" people, who asked his advice, he said: "My friend, I know no law outside of my office." The man looked at the attorney for a moment, and replied: "Yes, and its d--d little law you know in your office."

Yesterday was a hot day, and in order to make himself as comfortable as possible Sam Miller "histed" in a number of beers, and then began to switch off onto nose paint—and that is where he fell down, and landed in the strong room at the city hall. This morning he was assessed five plunks or 60 hours in which to think the matter over. He took the fine, and promised to stick to one beverage in the future.

Death of Mrs. H. K. McCully. Mrs. H. K. McCully, one of the old pioneers of Oregon, and widely known throughout the Willamette valley, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Crossman, in Portland, Monday evening, July 31, 1905, aged 77 years, of paralysis.

Deceased came to this country in 1853 with her husband across the plains and settled in Linn county. Later on they moved to Salem, where her husband and the late E. N. Cooke and Stephen Church operated a line of steamers between Portland and Salem in anti-railroad days.

After the death of her husband, over 15 years ago, she continued to reside here, until a few years ago, when she went to Portland to live with her daughter, Mrs. Crossman, who at one time also lived here. She was one of the best known and highly respected women of the state. She was a member of the Christian Science church, and a woman of lovely character and disposition.

She leaves numerous relatives, among them in this city being Mrs. E. E. Waters, a sister-in-law; Mrs. A. N. Gilbert and Mrs. Mary Croighton, nieces, and Uncle David McCully, a brother-in-law.

The remains will be brought to this city Thursday morning on the 11 o'clock train, and the funeral services will be held at the grave immediately upon the arrival of the train. The interment will be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. P. S. Knight will have charge of the service.

JUDGE GALLOWAY'S COURT.

Two Small Orders Made, and Adjournment Taken for the Day.

Judge Galloway today held a short session of court in Department No. 2, and, after making a couple of orders, adjourned court to 9 a. m. Wednesday.

In the divorce case of McEae vs. McEae, the motion for default was overruled, and defendant given until August 10th to file amended answer.

In the case of Foley vs. Brentano, demurrer overruled.

President Gives Cup to Baby.

Oyster Bay Dispatch. The president yesterday presented a silver cup to a baby boy born to James O. Brzezinski, one of the secret service agents stationed here. It happened like this:

Last week the president read of the event in the Brzezinski family in a newspaper.

"Who is Brzezinski?" he called from the library window to Secretary Loch, who was just then mounting his horse preparatory to leaving the grounds. The secretary described Brzezinski.

"I don't seem to remember him," said the president, "but anyhow, you'd better order a nice silver cup for the baby. It may encourage some of the other boys."

Ice Cream Social.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give an ice cream social at Mrs. J. M. Martin's, on Court and Twelfth street, Wednesday evening. Everybody invited. Refreshments and music on the lawn. 8-1-2f
