The British, who have been preparing for war for months, are now ready to launch their invasion. The German press warned the British to expect trouble, but the British are determined to proceed with their plan.

English Fleet Warned Against Running Into Submarine Mines

The British fleet was warned against running into submarine mines off the coast of the UK. The Germans had set up a series of mines to prevent the British fleet from entering the harbor. The warning was issued due to the high number of new mines laid.

Oregon, Aug. 2.—The Legislature convened this morning in a large number of members present. The session is expected to be a short one, with the exception of the tax reform bills, which are being debated extensively.

Windows Suggest War Will Be Long

An exhaustively reported campaign by the United Press, based on reports from the field in the Northwest in most parts of the state, indicates that the war will be a long one, with both sides facing considerable difficulties.

Jury is Now Out

The final decision in the case of Lienhardt v. the State has been delivered, and the jury has reached a verdict. The case is expected to be appealed to the higher court.

Special to the Journal.

Pardons in the Legal Code

The pardon laws in the Legal Code are being considered for revision. The proposed changes are expected to be debated extensively in the coming weeks.

World Peace and War Will Be Long

The British fleet was warned against running into submarine mines off the coast of the UK. The Germans had set up a series of mines to prevent the British fleet from entering the harbor. The warning was issued due to the high number of new mines laid.