Too Cheap To Be Good

In buying vehicles the purchaser should stop short of trying to get something good for a price that's below reason.

Most persons can judge somewhat of the grade of a piece of cloth. Most persons have a fair knowledge of leather in a shoe, and so on through many commodities, but when it comes to a vehicle, paint and varnish "cover a multitude of sins," and you buy them on faith; faith in the man who made them and the man who sells them.

The Studebaker vehicles are built on honor. There's no doubt as to what's in them. Every person who has ever visited the factory at South Bend, Ind.—and visitors are always welcomed—has come away convinced of the real worth of Studebaker vehicles. Sixty acres of lumber sheds, where every stick of timber is season dried from three to five years in the air; fifty acres of factory buildings, where everything that Studebaker makes is built under the supervision of expert mechanics. An inspection system that is so rigid that any flaw, if it occurs, is placed to the man who permitted or overlooked it.

These are the things that make Studebaker goods so satisfactory.

An incident: A gentleman came in yesterday and bought one of our celebrated Studebaker village wagons, 1 1/2-inch axle, three springs, two seats, etc. He said he was offered a "similar looking" wagon for less money, but it was too cheap to be good.

He was right. There's a limit at which to expect good quality and service. Call and see our line of spring work.

It needs but little foresight to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by J. C. SALTON SEA IS RISING

Salt Water Fish in It Indicate Underground Connection With Ocean

Riverside, Cal., Aug. 4.—Barracuda in Salton Sea! This is the latest development in the phenomenon that is attracting the attention of half a continent. C. V. Piper, government officer in charge of seed and plant introduction, reports that a barracuda a foot long has been caught in the waters of the great inland sea, and that there have been catches as well of perch, a fish never before seen in Colorado rivers. Schools of fish four or five inches long can be seen from the ear windows of the Southern Pacific in the shallow waters of the lake.

Barracuda were never before seen in Colorado river waters. The waters of Salton Sea are more salty than the ocean itself. The salt deposits of the Salton basin would hardly impregnate the entire lake with salt. Fresh water fish from the Colorado river have died immediately on striking the sea.

Whence, then, come the barracuda and the schools of little fish that are so plentiful in the lake? The water has been rising in the lake at the rate of half an inch a day, and the engineers admit that the big salt lake is rising faster than the waters of the Colorado river flow in. For years there have been fears expressed that some day there would be a subterranean connection between the Gulf of California and the immense Salton basin, which at the deepest point is nearly 200 feet below sea level. Many believe that this is already happening.

X-RAYS

The Williamson case is now "A Trice Told Tale."

Goode's addresses of welcome begin to have a rich chestnutty Chauncey Dewey flavor.

The Lewis and Clark management is decidedly a close corporation, but not the Siwash "close."

There are more people visit "The Oaks" than the fair. The laboring man can enter the former in the evening.

The land fraud principals and witnesses should remember that poem of Kipling's:

"Lord, God of Hosts, be with us yet. Lest we forget, lest we forget."

Why are the receptions to visiting orders given in the New York building, instead of the Oregon building? No doubt there are Goode and sufficient reasons.

Judge Bennett abused Heney for abusing Biggs, and Heney abused Bennett for abusing him for abusing Biggs and all because one lawyer should show profound respect for members of the profession, according to the legal code of ethics.

Astoria is going to have a Sacajawa at her regatta. If she will get a genuine one from the aboriginals down that way, visitors from the East will get a realistic conception of the beautiful Indian maiden that will remain and abide with them.

The Lewis and Clark press bureau is so greedy for newspaper space (free of course) it sends out two and three-column articles, too long for use, and so gets really nothing for its trouble. If it would send out some short stuff with life enough in it to justify resuscitating it, the country papers might rewrite it, and make it at least readable.

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of undigested food—or manny back. 25c at J. C. Perry's, Druggist, Salem, Oregon.

The ordinance at Pendleton closing the stores has angered the farmers, and they are arranging to put up a co-operative store outside of the city limits.
