

CLASSES BEER AS A LIQUID FOOD

DOES NOT TEND TO PRODUCE HABIT OF INTOXICATION. REPORT OF PURE FOOD INSPECTOR OF THE STATE OF KENTUCKY BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE.

Prof. M. A. Scovell, of Louisville, Ky., since 1885 chief chemist of the Pure Food Department of that state, made a positive estimate of the value of beer as an article of food, to the Congressional Committee last session during the discussion of the pure food bill. He favored a beer with as small a percentage of alcohol as would insure its preservation. He expressed the opinion that the six and one-half per cent of solids contained in the average beer are to be classed as food, and that beer of this description, when employed as a liquid food, DOES NOT TEND TO PRODUCE THE HABIT OF INTOXICATION.

The Professor did not consider the beer containing 4 or 4 1/2 per cent of alcohol as injurious, but would oppose the sale of beer containing more than 5 per cent.

Asked if he considered a beer containing not more than 5 per cent of alcohol, as proposed in the pending bill, to be a food, he replied: "CONSIDERED SIMPLY AS A CHEMICAL PROPOSITION IT IS A FOOD, THERE IS NO QUESTION ABOUT THAT. IT IS A FOOD."

The beer brewed by nearly all of the present day breweries does not contain more than from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent of alcohol. All the water used in brewing beer is distilled. The process of brewing absolutely destroys every impurity that may be in the material required, and every vessel or appurtenance used in its manufacture is chemically pure and clean. Every bottle of beer is pasteurized before it leaves the brewery.

A GREAT DAY AT CHEMAWA

Fine Program Arranged for Commencement Day—Trains to Stop for Visitors

2 COL A GREAT Chemawa will be in gala dress tomorrow, the occasion being commencement day. A fine program has been arranged and the occasion is one calculated to awaken the interest of all who take thought of the advancement, and uplifting of humanity. Beside there is an element of justice in the educating of the true American, for it is about the only thing beneficial he has ever received at our hands. We found the race simple-minded, generous, and hospitable when the first colonists arrived from across the ocean, and we have done practically everything in our power to teach the northern Indian all the white man's vices.

There be those who decry the education of the Indian, but could they see the bright faces, and understand the interest taken by the pupils in their studies at Chemawa, and the ambition awakened in them as the field of knowledge spreads out before them they would certainly indorse the good work being done at Chemawa.

Arrangements are being made by which those attending can get home on the overland train due here about 11 o'clock, thus permitting the enjoyment of the entire program. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance from this city, and this should be more than doubled by visitors from Portland and other points. The program follows:

STRAIN TOO GREAT.

Hundreds of Salem Readers Find It So.

The hustle and worry of business men, The hard work and stooping of workmen,

The woman's household cares, Are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, sideache, Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Salem citizen tells you how to cure them all.

Jacob E. McCoy, bridge builder and contractor, residing on Capitol street, second house beyond Mill creek, says: "I have always enjoyed good health up to five or six years ago. Along about that time my kidneys commenced to bother me. There was not so much backache, but the principal symptoms were in connection with the kidney secretions. A strain or over-exertion very often caused hemorrhages of the kidneys. I cannot say that it was so painful, but it was very annoying. I used various remedies, and while some gave relief, others were worthless. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, and when up town I dropped into Dr. Stone's Drug Store and procured a box, taking them as directed. A few doses gave very convincing proof that they were going to the right spot, and though I can't say they have cured me as I may never be cured, I can state that they gave me wonderful relief. I have a high opinion of Doan's Kidney's Pills and cheerfully recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

He isn't cutting up as though He were a colt set free. He has no wild desire to go Upon a foolish spree.

He hurries homeward when the day Has dwindled to its end; "Aha! the cook!" methinks you say— "Nay, 'tis not that, O friend."

She's gone away, his little wife, To stay a month or more; He leads a blameless honest life— Her mother lives next door.

Rising Up a Stranger.

He was a sporty-looking chap, and he was making a run through Kansas in his big red touring car. Reaching a small town, and seeing an officer mopping his brow under a friendly shade tree, he brought his machine up to the curb and said:

"I say, officer, can you tell a fellow where he can get a little gasoline in this town?"

"Gasoline, is it?" said the officer with a smile. "Well, that's a new one on me. But say, young fellow, this is a prohibition town, all right, and you couldn't get a drink in it for love or money."—Yonkers Statesman.

Three Western Magazines.

That California periodical, The Sunset Magazine, of San Francisco, has come out a brilliant number for August. It is permeated by the golden atmosphere of California, that hypnotizes all who come in contact with it even in the pages of fiction, and has poured more gold into laps of Californians at home and abroad than ever did their fabulous mines. There are special numbers this time on Bullfrog, Nevada, and the Forestry building at the Portland fair.

The Pacific Monthly for August is a Seattle number and all that term means. For an Oregon editor of a magazine to try to express the Seattle thought and portray the Seattle spirit is itself no small undertaking. He must be translated into a new world so to speak as the Seattle consciousness would speak. This William B. Wells has done to a surprising degree and Gone to See the World. A boy aged 14 years, living at Mill City, has disappeared from his home, and has left for Portland to see the sights of the Fair City. He was well dressed, and had money to pay his way. He was seen in Albany Saturday. Late that evening his father arrived at that place looking for his son. He is much distressed over the wayward youngster, and says that he will be sent to the reform school as soon as found.
