The Funeral of William Feidt.

The funeral of the late William Feidt was held from the family home on Liberty street yesterday, and was largely attended by the friends of deceased. The Odd Fellows' lodge, of which he was a member, conducted the services and Rev. P. S. Knight preached the sermon.

William Feidt was born in Dauphin county, Pennsylvania, October 19, 1826, and died Friday evening, August 18, 1905. The cause of his death was old age. He was well known in this community, having come here in 1887, and has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the city. He was a retired farmer, and he and his wife, who survives him, have led a happy existence, making many friends.

The interment was in Odd Fellows' cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest with appropriate services. The floral tributes were many, and showed the love and respect in which he was held.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Coffey, of Portland visited Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Pierce, at "The Oaks."

Lieut. J. D. Scott, of the Nevada state militia, of Reno, Nevada, who has been visiting at Onigum, Minn., Indian reservation, is in the city, visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mitchell.

Woolen Mills Win Again.

Tom Kay's baseball team added another scalp to their already long list Saturday afternoon. The victim was the Capitol team, and the score was 9 to 8. This was the closest game played last week, and the smallest number of people were out to see it.

Kozier, the Capitol pitcher, was certainly in the game at all times. He not only pitched a good game, but pulled in hot liners and grounders in a manner that would be a credit to a professional. "Euby" Benson, the center fielder, also distinguished himself by swatting out two three-baggers, and then being compelled to die on third both times.

There were no particular stars among the men in red, but every fellow did his best. Tom Kay was especially clever in stealing bases. The one thing that characterizes the playing of the team is their enthusiasm, which is manifest at all times.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by J. C. Perry, Druggist, m, Or., at 50c a bottle.

OBJECT TO THE ACCOUNT

Mrs. Russel L. Haley, through her attorney, M. E. Pogue, this morning filed an objection to the final account of E. A. Pickins, as the administrator of the estate of the late D. B. Pickins, deceased. In the objections Mrs. Haley alleges that she and Mrs. Mary Arnett, of Klamath county, are heirs of the estate of Melbourne Hill, deceased. It is also alleged that D. B. Pickins was the guardian for Hill, and that he pretended to file a certain pretended final account of his guardianship, and asked for his dismissal in 1895. She alleges further that Mrs. Arnett objected to the account at that time, and that the matter was continued from one term of court to another until 1897, when the court found that D. B. Pickins was indebted to the wards in the sum of $2303.60. She claims that no part of this amount was ever paid, and that in 1896 the said D. P. Pickins, for the purpose of defrauding the wards, transferred to his son a number of lots in the city of Salem. She asks that these lots be considered as part of the estate, and that the administrator be ordered to so include them in his accounting.

Salem Has an Inventor.

A Salem man has made application for a patent on a steam engine, which, he claims, will not only utilize every pound of pressure generated in the boiler, but will get 225 pounds of work out of every 100 pounds. This would seem like an impossibility on the face of it, but the inventor has made a model engine, and demonstrated the feasibility of the plan. The invention is all the more remarkable from the fact that all engines now at work fail to get the full 100 pounds of work out of 100 pounds of pressure. The new engine will have no cut-off, no pulsations, and there will be no limit to the number of the revolutions, except the natural limit to a wheel's turning.

The inventor has been working nine years on his invention, and refuses to have his name published until he has secured the patent.

An Enjoyable Lawn Party.
