May Form a State Organization.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 15.—This is the opening day of the Iowa State Fair, and, at the same time, the opening day of the convention of delegates, representing the various commercial clubs of this state. The convention, which opened here this morning, is of considerable importance and prove the entering wedge for a formidable state movement in the interest of internal development and extension of interstate interests of the commercial firms and corporations of this state. The convention was called by W. B. Bond, of Council Bluffs, who is secretary of the Council Bluffs Commercial Club. He is strongly in favor of forming a state league of commercial clubs for the purpose of mutual protection and with a view of securing more equitable transportation rates on the railroads.

There are about seventy-five commercial clubs in this state and most of them have sent delegates to this meeting. Although the matter did not come to a test yet, the indications are that an overwhelming majority of the delegates are either instructed to vote for forming a state league of commercial clubs or personally favor such a plan. The meeting today was of an informal nature owing to the fact that many of the delegates had not yet arrived. The actual work of the convention will probably not begin until next week.

Fired the Militia Men.

Salt Lake, Aug. 25.—As the result of internal dissension in the First Battery of field artillery, N. G. U., general orders were today issued by the adjutant-general discharging 15 enlisted men for the good of the service, and for violating the 23d article of war. The resignation of two officers were forced to resign for the same reason.

Reunion of the 19th Maine.

Clinton, Me., Aug. 25.—The thirty-third annual reunion of the 19th Regiment, Maine Volunteers, is held here today. Many of the comrades who are in attendance, are accompanied by their wives.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

Insular Ignorance.

I have been told by a Canadian that in discussing with an English general the possibility of sending troops from England to the far east via Canada the latter raised the objection that it would not be desirable for them to travel over United States territory! I have been told of an English official having consoled shortly after McKinley's assassination with a Canadian on the loss of his president. I have myself heard an educated Englishman express to a Canadian audience his surprise at finding modern civilization existing in a country which he had till then believed to be under permanent ice and snow.—Countess of Minto in National Review.

An Irishman's Retort.

Cyrus W. Field of Atlantic cable fame once stopped an Irish peasant to make inquiries about Blarney castle. Receiving the information he gave the Irishman the following conundrum: "Now, Mike, suppose that Lucifer was sure of us both, which would he take first, do you think?"

The Irishman looked thoughtful for a moment, he said, "Yer honor, I think he'd take me." "Why?" said Field. "Because he's always sure of you."

The Gullible Public.

Thomas W. Lawson was illustrating the gullibility of the public in accepting worthless stocks.

"It reminds me of Washington White and his watch," he said. "Washington is a Boston colored man. A friend met him in an elevated train where Washington was rocking back and forth like a man who has trouble in his midst.

"How do, Washington?" said the friend.

"How do, Calhoun?" returned Washington, continuing his rocking.

"You ain't sick, be you?"

"No, indeed, Calhoun; I ain't enjoyin' no bad health."

"Then why in the name o' common sense is you cavortin' back and forth dataway?"

"Not for a single beat did Washington check his regular oscillation as he answered:

"Calhoun, you know Jerome McWade? Well, he sold me a silver watch for three dollars, and if I stops movin' like dis yere de watch don't go no more."

Good Motto for Them.

"We've got a good motto for our paper," remarked Kildet.

"What is it?" asked the slight acquaintance.

"What we have we hold."

"Oh, I see, referring to your circulation. By the way, I didn't know you were a publisher."

"We're not; we manufacture newspaper."—Philadelphia Press.

Make a King of a Jack.

Stockholm, Aug. 25.—According to good authority, the feeling in government circles regarding the accession of a Bernadotte prince to the Norwegian throne has undergone a complete change. King Oscar no longer opposes the acceptance of the crown by his son, Charles.

As soon as the union between Norway and Sweden is dissolved, his answer will be given, and it is probable that it will be in the affirmative.
