BY HOPER BROS. OFFICIAL CENSUS SALEM. MAY, 1904, 13,287.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

William A. Brady will produce "The Marriage of William Ashe" early in December with his wife, Grace George, in the principal part.

One hundred thousand dollars is the estimated cost of production on "Babes in the Wood," which is to be put on at the New York Casino during the Christmas holidays.

A novel entertainment has been introduced at the Coliseum in London. Longfellow's poem, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," has been set to music by Hamish McCunn, and while the work is being rendered by the choir, pictures of the leading incidents were shown on the curtain.

A spectacular extravaganza, entitled "Noah's Ark," words and music by Klare Sumner, is to be produced by Henry W. Savage.

"The Pilibuster" is to be produced soon in Chicago, with Charles E. Evans and Kate Condon in the leading roles.

WANTS NO OFFICE, BUT—

The editor of this paper is not a candidate for office of any description.

The reports that he is to have an appointment in the treasury department are without foundation.

HE DOES NOT WANT TO GO TO CONGRESS, OR ANYWHERE ELSE. OREGON IS GOOD ENOUGH.

He does not even want to be president of the Salem Commercial Club or the Willamette Valley Development League.

But those offices were forced onto him, largely because no one else wanted them.

Anyone can have those offices who will take them, but while he has them he will give them what attention he can.

So let all the politicians who are worrying about THE JOURNAL editor being a candidate for this or that cut it out, compose their minds, and go about their business.

The Journal does want and will fight for good government in every department.

IT WILL WORK TO GET THE BEST POSSIBLE CITY SCHOOL, COUNTY, STATE AND NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

Those who stand in the way of good government, who oppose reforms, who do not favor progress, are good citizens, living up to their highest conception of political conditions.

But they will not be found working for the common interest.

Government is for the masses of the people, not for any special class, not for the rich tax-dodger, not for the grasping grafter, or professional office-chaser.

THE JOURNAL'S PROGRAM IS OUT OUT EVERY DOLLAR OF GRAFT AND REDUCE TAXES.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and, unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. R. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation be over heard of—Roseburg Maindealer.

Properties of Gems.

It is difficult to define today, says Dr. George F. Kunz, in the State Mining Bureau's bulletin on "Gems, Jewellers' Materials and Ornamental Stones of California," what is meant by "a precious stone," for the mineralogist would give one definition, the jeweler another, the archaeologist still a different one, while the scientific collector, and the one gatherer of curios and souvenirs would not agree with any of the others. A gem-mineral, or a "precious stone," may be defined as a mineral of any sort, distinguished for its beauty, durability or rarity, especially when cut and polished. There are only a few really precious stones—the diamond, the ruby and sapphire (identical in composition), the emerald, and occasionally the pearl (which is of animal origin) is included; formerly also the opal.

Some twenty years ago jewelers sold only a few varieties of stones; today they keep in stock anything known to the mineralogist and demanded by the public. The consumption of gems is larger than most people realize. Take one trade alone, for example. The watches manufactured annually in the United States use from seven to twenty one jewels for each watch. The consumption annually amounts to over 5,000,000 ruby and sapphire watch jewels, and over 7,000,000 garnet jewels, while over 15,000 carats of bort diamonds are consumed in cutting these jewels.

In looking for gems the prospector should be provided with a few specimens representing the scale of hardness and have the means in camp to determine the specific gravity. In this way he can separate the positively worthless from the possibly valuable, even though he cannot fully identify the minerals.

A large number of the many varieties of precious and semi-precious stones and rare minerals are found in California, and systematic search will increase the production until California takes high rank as a gem state. In 1901 California produced quartz crystal to the value of $17,500, tourmaline to the value of $20,000, and turquoise, over $20,000; the lepidolite amounted to $27,500; gold quartz, etc., over $50,000; mother of pearl and pearls, over $15,000; and souvenir material, probably over $20,000. The grand total amounted to nearly $175,000. In 1903 kunzite was produced to the value of $20,000; tourmaline, $20,000; chryso-prase, $15,000; turquoise, $40,000.

New Ruling on Rural Mail.

The postoffice department has made a new ruling on mail matter addressed to patrons on rural routes which will be of great benefit to this country when the reorganization of the system goes into effect this fall. Under the new ruling postmasters are allowed to forward papers as well as mail matter from one office to another where the person addressed is on a rural route. In the many changes from one postoffice to another that will result when the new routes are established it will require several months for the patrons to have their mail properly addressed, and while there will necessarily be delays mails of every character will finally reach the party to whom it was addressed.

Hit the Trail on Sundays.

Commencing with Sunday, August 6th, the Trail at the exposition and all the amusement features, as well as the exhibit buildings, were thrown open, and hereafter will be running the same on Sunday as on other days. In fact the exposition will be practically as complete on Sundays as on week days. The Southern Pacific Company have on sale Saturday to Monday excursion tickets, $2.20 for the round trip, which enables visitors to go to Portland Saturday afternoon and remain until Monday night, or return Sunday evening, as they may desire. 8-7-1f

MOMUS TAKES THE SCALES

Beer, Cake-Walks, Jigs, Variety Performers, Brakemen and a Libel

A story from Seattle, that as told by the dispatches Thursday, is a genuine bit of legal humor. The story runs as follows:

Whisky and beer in copious quantities, cake walks, jigs and the efforts of three performers from a variety theater, a railway brakeman and a commercial traveler, were features in an evening's entertainment which led up to a libel suit that was peremptorily dismissed by the supreme court yesterday.

A necessary recital of facts in the supreme court's opinion reads like an extract from a humorous sketch, rather than a portion of the opinion of a staid supreme court.

Thomas J. Wright and Louise Wright were the respondents in the case, and they had obtained a verdict in the lower court against R. T. Daniels for $1500, which had been reduced by the trial judge to $750. In reciting the facts the supreme court says:

The Meeting in the Grill.

"The respondents were tenants of appellant upon the third floor of a building known as the Daniel block, in Spokane. About 10:30 P. M., December 7, 1903, one Rose, a commercial traveler, while in a grillroom in Spokane, met a man named Richard, accompanied by two women—one of whom he introduced as his wife and the other as a friend of hers. After drinking a while, these four persons started for the apartment of respondent, Mrs. Wright—Rose having been there before. On their way they fell in with a railway brakeman and took him along. They also took along several bottles of beer.

"Arriving at Mrs. Wright's rooms, they proceeded to have some music. After their arrival other parties also came in. To heighten the entertainment, some of the parties went over to a variety theater and brought back two musical performers, and a female impersonator.

Music and Much Beer.

"The company now consisted of about a dozen persons. Music upon various instruments was furnished and vocal efforts in many keys. Beer and whisky were summoned from a nearby saloon in copious quantities. They danced the waltz, two-steps, jigs, cake-walk and otherwise amused themselves, while the impersonator gave a variety of performances.

"There is some conflict in the evidence as to the amount of noise accompanying this entertainment—the respondents claiming that it was very orderly and comparatively quiet, while appellant's witnesses describe it as being exceedingly boisterous. Anyway, some time after midnight other tenants in the building complained vigorously to the landlord, this appellant, about the noise in Mrs. Wright's apartments, and finally appellant told respondents that the disturbance must cease or he would call in the police. Respondents fix the hour of this as 1 A. M. Other evidence places it at about 2 A. M."

The opinion then relates that the next day Daniel left in Wright's room a letter, which is given in full. The leading feature of this letter is the statement that "last night you held a war-dance and carried on at a rate that would be a disgrace to the 'Comique,' or the worst dance hall in the city."

This letter Daniel showed to another lodger, and the Wrights, hearing of it, concluded that they had been libeled by the reference to the dance halls, and brought their suit with the above result in the lower court.

No Authority on Dance Halls.

The supreme court modestly confesses to a lack of information "as to the character or reputation of the 'Comique,' or as to how bad the dance halls are in Spokane, or as to whether there are any." There was nothing in the complaint in the nature of inducement, colloquium or innuendo, so the supreme court concludes as follows:

"Owing to the character of the facts revealed in the evidence in this case, we do not conceive that a discussion of them would be edifying or essential.

"In view of the form of the complaint and considering merely the evidence adduced on the part of respondents, and that on appellant's behalf, which was uncontradicted, we are led to believe that the ends of justice will be subserved by a dismissal of this action. The judgment of the honorable superior court is reversed, with directions to dismiss the action."

IN NEBRASKA.

Six States Traversed in Two Weeks and Transcontinental Automobileists Now in the West.

Omaha, Neb., Special: The "Reo Mountaineer," en route from New York to the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland and thence back home by way of "Prisco" arrived here yesterday afternoon. The transcontinentalists will leave for Cheyenne early tomorrow morning. At Omaha a complete stamping outfit was added to the equipment of the car. Blankets, firearms, and a cooking outfit, as well as a complete line of canned provisions have been placed in the tonneau of the car. It is expected these will be found a necessity in crossing the desert tracts of Western Nebraska, Wyoming, and Idaho. An extra gasoline tank holding 20 gallons has been strapped on the side of the car.

Percy F. Megargel, of the American Motor League, who is in charge of the "Reo Mountaineer," has compiled a very accurate road-book of the states already traversed, and is prepared to map out the best automobile road all the way across the continent. The A. M. L. in sending out this expedition is doing a work that will be of untold benefit to tourists in the future. At the present time the league has some ten thousand members scattered throughout the United States, all of whom are enthusiastic automobilists.

The automobile used for this long and hazardous trip is a regular stock Reo of 16-horse power. It is expected that before the trip has been completed a total mileage of some ten thousand miles will have been covered by this car. One thousand seven hundred and forty miles is the distance registered between New York and Omaha. The roads thus far have proved very good, and 140 miles a day has been the average day's run. The hard rains the last twenty-four hours may delay the expedition somewhat in traveling in Nebraska.

The towns that will be visited by the tourists this week are Fremont, Schuyler, Columbus, Central City, Grand Island, Kearney, Lexington, Cozad, North Platte, Ogallala, Julesburg, Chappell, Sidney, Potter, and Kimball in Nebraska, and Laramie, Cheyenne, and Rawlins, in Wyoming.

IT TAKES TIME, REPETITION AND COMMON SENSE arguments to make people believe in buying your goods and come back for more. Too many advertisers empty their appropriation and boxes on the first grade, and the road to advertising success is strewn with the bleaching skeletons of the victims of one insertion.

John Wannamaker once said, "To discontinue advertising is like taking down your sign."

You have a sign above your door to let people know who you are and what you are doing. That's what your advertising does. It merely multiplies your sign. It lets thousands of people know what you have to sell.—M. L. Corey, Secretary National Retail Hardware Dealers' Association in Retailer and Advertiser.
