Section of Rail Blown Out Near Eugene Yesterday Afternoon

Portland, Oct. 2.—An attempt was made to wreck the Oregon express on the Southern Pacific, near Eugene, yesterday. A section of a rail, on a curve near a precipice, was blown out by dynamite. It was discovered in time to prevent a disaster.

MAY END IN REVOLUTION

Buda Pest, Oct. 2.—Deputy Seoltan Lengyal, leader of the radical wing of the coalitionists, today issued an open letter calling all Hungarians, in the Austro-Hungarian army, to aid the nation in its desires. He contends that Hungarian officers should resign, and the soldiers ought to refuse to obey orders issued in the German tongue. He also proposes a social boycott against German and Austrian officers by the Hungarian populace, and points out that there would not be enough men left in the army to punish the protestors.

Iroquois Theatre Reopens.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.—The Iroquois theatre in Randolph street, which was the scene of the dreadful holocaust nearly two years ago, reopens today as the Colonial. It is to be run as a first-class house under the management of Hyde & Behman. The reopening of the theatre, with its tragic memories still fresh in the public mind, is regarded as a venture of uncertain results. Since its first opening a year ago the policy of the house has been changed several times, but no matter what class of entertainment was offered it failed to draw the public.

Scott Was Shut Out.

Salt Lake, Oct. 2.—John H. Scott, the young English Mormon, who challenged President Joseph F. Smith to debate at the Mormon semi-annual conference here Friday next, has been excommunicated from the church, thereby forfeiting his right to take part in the conference. He has sent a communication to the British ambassador at Washington, asking him to present an enclosed petition to Roosevelt, and that he compel Smith to allow Scott a hearing at the conference.

CRUISER AGROUND

Kaiser Says White Races Must Unite.

Boston, Oct. 2.—Congressman McNary reiterates his famous interview with the Kaiser, in which he is quoted as having been told by the Kaiser that, as a result of the Japanese victory, it is now plain the white nations must combine for self-protection against the "yellow peril." McNary arrived this morning, and said the Kaiser talked freely and frankly, with no intimation that he expected the conversation to be regarded as confidential. He used English, so there is no possibility of a mistake.

Might Help Tacoma Grow.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Seattle, Oct. 2.—Representatives of the Duxborough colony have asked the county commissioners to donate them a quarter section of land for settlement purposes. If sufficient inducements are offered, it is planned to make a wholesale migration of 15,000 members of the colony to this county and other portions of the state. The colony wants to leave Canada because of the too rigid official surveillance of their religious practices.

Demurrer in Land Frauds.

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Portland, Oct. 2.—Arguments were heard in the federal court today on the demurrers in the case of W. N. Jones, et al., accused of land frauds on the Siletz Indian reservation. If the demurrer is sustained the statute of limitations would prevent another indictment.

Wright Gets a Year.

One year in the penitentiary is the sentence imposed upon Harry Wright, who was jointly indicted with Monte for the alleged assistance of Tracy and Merrill to escape from the penitentiary by giving them guns. Wright was also charged with the larceny of a span of horses from this city in 1902, and it was on this charge that he received his sentence, the other having been dismissed.

When Wright and Monte were tried at the July term of court, Monte was convicted and received a life sentence in the penitentiary, while the jury in the Wright case failed to agree. Although Attorney D'Arcy has been working hard to secure the acquittal of his client, the dismissal of the charge against him this afternoon came as a great surprise to the many people who have been following the case.

SENATOR MITCHELL

(Four O'clock Edition.)
Portland, Oct. 2.—Senator Mitchell is in the Good Samaritan Hospital with a broken rib. He received the injury last Wednesday, while attending the launching ceremonies of the Oceano here, but was not aware of the extent of the injury until Saturday, when inflammation set in.

He will arrive in New Orleans the morning of October 26, leaving that night on a cruiser, and making the trip to Washington by sea to prevent conflict with the quarantine regulations. No cabinet member will accompany him. The official party will disembark at Little Rock, and only his secretary, Loeb, will accompany him to New Orleans. He will reach Washington October 31.

Patrick's Fight for Life.

New York, Oct. 2.—The motion of Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of aged William M. Rice in this city, for a reargument of his case comes up for hearing in court today, the condemned man being represented by ex-Senator David B. Hill. The fight for life made by Patrick has been one of the most persistent in the records of criminal jurisprudence. While Rice died on September 23, 1900, Patrick was not arrested until October 4th, and then he was not accused of murder, but of forging the dead man's name to checks. Weeks passed before the capital offense was formally laid at his door, and it was not until January 20, 1902, that he was arraigned before Recorder Goff. The trial was one of the longest in the history of the state. It was March 27th when a verdict of guilty was rendered. For more than three years the condemned man has been in the death house at Sing Sing. He was sentenced to die in the electric chair August 16th, last, but an appeal for reopening of his case was served as a stay. Up to date the case has cost the state of New York upwards of a quarter of a million dollars.

BIG LINER WRECKED

(Four O'clock Edition.)
San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The big liner Alameda, which went aground Saturday in a fog is still held immovable in a vice-like grip of the treacherous Fort Point Rocks, and is settling farther astern with each new wash of the sea. She lies today almost a hopeless wreck. About the vessel is a great fleet of tugs and small craft, aiding in the transfer of the cargo, while the insurance officials, members of the Oceanic Steamship Company and divers busy themselves about the stamer's decks. Through a great hole in the bow the water is fast filling the ship, and it is reported that the vessel will be abandoned, together with 60 per cent of her cargo, valued at $150,000.

Petition Two Miles Long.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Attendants at the capitol are wondering what they are going to do with that monster petition which congressman McGuire is to present to congress this winter. The petition asks for immediate statehood with Oklahoma. It is now being circulated in every voting precinct in the territory, and from reports it will, when completed, weigh over a ton, will be two miles long, and ten will be necessary to carry it into the house.

A GRAND ORGAN

Dean Calbreath, of the Willamette University College of Music, announced this morning that a $15,000 pipe organ had been secured for the use of the college, and that it would be installed at once. Miss Calbreath is justly proud of her achievement, for this is the only institution in the Northwest that has a pipe organ on which the pupils may practice as well as receive their instruction. The organ is a fine instrument, having been recently built for a church in California, but, owing to a mistake in the measurement it was too large for the buildings, and a second one had to be built. The organ is equipped with a water engine, has two emannels and all the modern improvements. It has not definitely settled yet where it will be located, but, as the chapel is the proper place for it, there is where it will probably be. This will also add much to the dignity of the chapel exercises. With Prof. Goodrich, the best pipe organist on the coast, as instructor, and with the only instrument in the Northwest, the College of Music is indeed to be congratulated. The demand for pipe organists has increased at such a rapid rate in the last few years that there are nine positions for every organist in the country. The demand is also constantly increasing. The College of Music has also been fitted out with new pianos in all the studios. One of the new instruments is a grand, while the others are all upright. A general renovation was made in the building this summer. Walls were papered, woodwork painted, floors carpeted, and new windows put in. The department has opened with a remarkably large attendance, and the prospects are bright for the most successful year in the history of the school.
