From Our Exchanges. The moral consciousness of the world lies fallow for the call of one who shall be so filled with the power of the Spirit that he shall be completely indifferent to that whole mass of stuff which criticism is discrediting, and who shall dare to make his appeal to the moral idealism of mankind independent of verbiage. Here lies the path the new age must travel, straight through the wilderness of doubt and sin to the naked soul of humanity, which cannot and will not reject Jesus when he is brought to it in the nakedness of his own spiritual beauty. That Man, that Master, that love so tender and true, will yet some day triumph over the halting, compromising arguments of doubting disciples, and the intellectual agnosticism of the world, with the charm of insistence and inspiration which will ever go forth in human experience from his great heart and faith. We shall keep our faith in Jesus when the last word of criticism has done its perfect work in making clear the difference between the immortal message of the Son of Man and the message true. When logic loses its clue to the divine life, the soul will find it hid within his own deep hunger after righteousness and love.—The Universalist Leader.

Do we need such religion?—a religion whose first article is the translation of the Gospel into daily life, a religion whose primary task is the practice of Jesus Christ? It seems to us that we do need it—that it is the overwhelming need. It seems to us pitiful that so many are missing the real issue and are on the wrong side of the battle. But truth always wins and it is only a question of time when the thoughtful and honest will see and will say "amen." The greatest epoch of Christianity is just ahead.—The American Friend.

It may be asserted with entire safety that no assumption is more baseless than that salvation and church membership are equivalent terms. We need a revival of obligation. When the church of the living God comes to a place where those who compose it are doing their utmost, when Christians come to feel that indifference is sin and that failure to do one's best will bring upon us the condemnation of our Lord, then will the kingdom enlarge and the forces of evil be defeated whenever and wherever the battle is joined.—The Standard.

If the love of God is in the heart, that love will serve as a moving, living force that will ultimately bring man's life into order and bring all the affairs of the world into proper shape. It is the function of the church to work upon the conduct of men by means of the truth operating from within through their understanding and conscience, to make life more beautiful and the state of human society more heavenly.—New Church Messenger.

Among the Christian people of the United States a great spiritual awakening has already begun. It is not yet a revival; it is an awakening. It is the new perception of a common problem, of a great opportunity, and an intense desire to rise to the great occasions which God's providence unfolds.—W. J. Dawson, D. D., The Congregationalist.

Let us not think of salvation as something coming to us as a reward hereafter, but as a glorious possession to be enjoyed—aye, and to be lived up to—now. "Behold," wrote the apostle of love, "now are we the sons of God." We have not yet entered into the full inheritance; but we have enough to make life rich and joyous and well worth living.—The Examiner.

Weak, Nervous People. We have received letters from all parts of the U. S. highly recommending Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic, until the faith we had in the remedy has been fully sustained. We had confidence from the very beginning that this medicine should make cures, but lacked that assurance that comes after many successful trials. Now that we have been upheld in our belief we want to impart to others our confidence. Nervous, and unsteady people, weak, fleshless people, simply, pale, or sallow people are all victims of weak, watery blood. Make new, rich blood, to be forced through the system by the way of the arteries, and disease cannot remain. This tonic cures disease by giving you strength to resist it. All druggists sell it for 75c per box, or 3 boxes for $2. The tablets are to be taken after each meal. They turn the food you eat into rich, red blood. Persons who take this Tonic gain in good, solid flesh from 1 to 2 pounds per week.

CIRCUIT COURT AT ROSEBURG

Case of Barnes on Trial for Murder is up at This Term

In the circuit court this morning, upon request of District Attorney Brown a grand jury was ordered by Judge Harris to be drawn. They are: Joe Harvey, Roseburg, foreman; P. Swearingen, Drain; W. H. Larkins, Oakland; M. L. Brown, Camas Valley; Joe Turpin, Yoncalla; S. H. Wilson, Gardiner; Wm. Buxton, Brockway. Taking of testimony in the trial of John C. Barnes, charged with murdering "Six-shooter Bill" Graham, a prospector, near Glendale, on the 28th of last April, commenced in the circuit court here this afternoon. There are about 40 witnesses in attendance, 34 of whom reside in or near Glendale. Attorneys J. A. Buchanan, J. E. Sawyers and Cardwell & Watson are defending Barnes. District Attorney George M. Brown, representing the state, is assisted by Attorney J. M. Williams, of Eugene. A queer coincidence in the case is that one of the jurors, W. H. Graham, of Days creek, had the same name and initials as the murdered man. The other eleven jurors are as follows: A. L. Butler, Edward Hancock, Marion Ryan, A. L. Black, Lee Love, W. H. Coats, Norman Agee, C. N. Moody, J. D. Strong, S. H. Knight and W. A. Pearce.

Barnes, the defendant, appeared very ill at ease in court. His small, steel gray eyes, set far back into his head and almost obscured by heavy brows, were never quiet his jaws worked constantly and vigorously on a chew of tobacco, while his fingers were often applied to the ends of the moustache that covers his thin bloodless pair of lips. Only once, however, did his face lose color and that was when the district attorney, in examining a jury, placed considerable emphasis on the words, "capital punishment."

In a statement to the jury, explanatory of the case, District Attorney Brown reviewed the evidence of the state at some length, commencing with the discovery of the charred remains of Graham in a fire near Glendale, by Ed. Holtz, an S. P. trackwalker. According to Mr. Brown's statement, the evidence of the state is, in brief, as follows:

Murdered man was identified as Graham by the hat and belt found near the spot where his remains were discovered, 62 feet from a spot on the Southern Pacific railroad track, where there were fresh blood stains. A path had been made by the dragging of the body from the track to the place where the body was burned.

Barnes was arrested following his sale in Glendale of a nugget which Graham had owned for years and which was known to many people on account of its peculiar shape. The arrest of Barnes was followed by the discovery in his cabin of Graham's "six-shooter" knife and ring. Barnes told a friend that he had bought the "six-shooter" from Graham "several days ago," and later told the district attorney that he had owned the weapon for several years. Barnes also told the district attorney that the nugget which he sold was his own property; that he had moulded it in an ordinary stove, when it takes 2000 degrees Fahrenheit to accomplish such a thing.

Last Hope Vanished. When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of the grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over ten years and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at J. C. Perry's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Your Life Current.

The power that gives you life and motion is the nerve force, or nerve fluid, located in the nerve cells of the brain, and sent out through the nerves to the various organs. If you are tired, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, feel stuffy, dull and melancholy, or have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, periodical pains, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, or the kidneys and liver are inactive, your life-current is weak. Power-producing fuel is needed; something to increase nerve energy—strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is the fuel you need. It feeds the nerves, produces nerve force, and restores vitality.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills I was confined to my bed. I had severe nervous spells, the result of two years illness with malaria. I gradually grew so weak that I was unable to sit up. The spells would commence with cold chills, and I would become weak and almost helpless. My circulation was poor. I had doctored right along but grew weaker and weaker. The Nerve seemed to strengthen me right away and my circulation was better. I have taken in all seven bottles of the Nerve and I am entirely well." ROSA E. WEAVER, Stuart, Ia. Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.
