HALF A DAY IS ALL

Mayor Lane Decides Portland Can Take Half of the Last Day for the Fair

A proclamation was issued yesterday by Mayor Lane, of Portland, declaring a half holiday in that city from noon today. This was to commemorate the closing day of the Lewis and Clark Fair. All Portland business houses and public institutions were closed.

The closing exercises are to be particularly spectacular and impressive. Besides a realistic sham naval battle, there will be a grand final illumination and pyrotechnic display. Just before midnight the united bands will gather and play "Auld Lang Syne," while the sky will be brightened by an enormous motto "Goodnight" that will be written in great letters of fire on the biggest sky this side of Chicago.

An English Author Wrote.

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves,—November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's greatest medicine for America's greatest disease—catarrh.

Among the new publications of D. Appleton & Co. are "Duke of Devil-May-Care" by Harris Dickson, Senator Beveridge's "The Young Man and the World," and Kirk Monroe's "The Outcast Warrior."

A Good Investment Being Overlooked by Salem's Monied People

The subscription lists for the issue of $25,000 of school bonds, authorized some months ago at the annual school meeting, will remain open but a little more than two weeks, or until the first of November. They are in the hands of Secretary Goodale, of the board, who reports a total subscription to date of but $8450.

The issue was offered to the Salem people during the latter part of September. The bonds were authorized to provide sufficient money with which, in addition to the sum in the hands of the school board, to complete the new high school building. They are 40 per cent five year certificates, though they can be retired before that time at the option of the school board. As an income investment they are gilded, in reality worth almost 8 per cent as they are non-taxable.

It is the opinion of Secretary Goodale that before the subscription lists are closed the bonds will be all taken up. Up to this time the largest lump subscription is $500, of which there are several. There is no limit, however, to the amount for which anyone may subscribe.

The list of bond-takers to date is as follows:

The Royal Month and the Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its banches, cutaneous eruptions and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative—consumption.

often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuels, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica's Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at J. C. Parry, druggist.

FARMER CANDIDATE IN TOWN

Popular Man on the West Side Seeks Gubernatorial Honors

Dr. James Withycombe, of the Oregon Agricultural Station, was in town today seeing friends and meeting prominent Republicans. He holds the record for delivering addresses at farmers' institutes and grange gatherings in this state and is enjoying quite a lively boom among the farmers of the state as a candidate for the direct primary nomination for governor.

He has resided in Oregon for the past 34 years and considers himself an Oregonian although standing for the progress and development of the state along all lines, like good roads, better farming methods, improved stock, scientific dairying and turning out good, useful men and women from the farmers' college. Wherever he goes he meets young men who learned pharmacy, engineering or agriculture or horticulture or dairying under his instruction, and the boys all have a good word to say for the doctor.

Withycombe resided for many years in Washington and Multnomah counties, and wherever he has lived he has hosts of warm friends in all parties. He would not discuss state politics except to say he had always been a Republican and would stand for an economical administration, good clean government and reduction of taxes.

He met John F. Wilson and William Claggett and other old timers with whom he has shown stock at the old state fair. He very much regretted that there was no state fair this year, as it would have shown eastern visitors in the aggregate what our state can produce. Dr. Withycombe was the originator of the fine stock show at the Portland fair, which he considers the crowning achievement of that exposition. His lectures all over the state on scientific farming have made wonderful changes in the conditions of agriculture and stock raising all over Oregon. His latest work has been the introduction of inoculation of the soil for the growth of alfalfa, and at the Agricultural College there stands a monument to his success in the shape of a fourth crop of alfalfa grown this year on white land, showing the possibility of this crop being a success in the Willamette valley. As an agriculturist an stock raiser, Dr. Withycombe has an established reputation, being the owner of one of the best farms in Washington county and not depending on politics for a livelihood. In fact, he has not been in politics until his friends have made him a candidate.

HOPS ARE ON EDGE

Between Reports Prices Hang on the Ragged Edge -and no One Knows

The hop market, notwithstanding the large crop reports, is remaining firm. The predicted slump in prices gives no sign of a near approach. Growers assert a strong confidence in the market, while buyers are holding off, thinking crop holders will tire of waiting for a rise and sell at prevailing prices.

Yesterday 12 cents, and in some cases 12 1/2 cents were offered, but found no takers. Almost invariably growers hold out for 13 cents, and some declared their intentions of holding on to their crops for even a higher figure.

A number of deliveries on contracts were made yesterday. Jack Chamberlain took 90 bales at 16 cents from George Marlatt, of Jefferson. Several deliveries of this year's hops at the same contract price have also been made within the last few days by growers about Silverton.

F. M. Muirton, a prominent grower of Silverton, was in the city yesterday, taking a survey of the market. He stated that he intended to hold on to his crop for the higher market that he thinks it bound to come. He reports large crops from his locality. The growers there are holding to their product and not a single sale has so far been made at the fall prices. Everyone is waiting for a higher market.
