JONES WILL NOT BE TURNED DOWN.

(West Side Enterprise.)

At the Eugene Development League meeting President Hofer put the lid on B. F. Jones in the midst of his plea for Yaquina Bay harbor and an outlet therefrom. At the Republican Peace Conference last week, when Jones was asking for recognition of Yaquina Bay harbor and the Willamette valley, the lid was again put on by Isaac Manning of Salem having his motion tabled. Being shut upon does not discourage Jones. His face only grows a little redder each time. Determination grows with each turn-down. Every suppression of Jones means more pent-up oratory from the clam beds of Yaquina Bay. It were better for those interested in keeping Jones in the background that no attempt be made to dim his light. Jones is unquenchable. He will be heard from at the next meeting of the Willamette Valley Development League meeting in Albany. It will be worth one's time to go to hear him.

Jones can't understand why Isaac Manning, living at Salem, should object to a resolution before the Peace Conference, favoring the lifting of the 50 cents per ton embargo on every ton shipped out of the valley in the way of a toll at Oregon City Locks. Jones has observed in silence as long as his nature will permit, the farmers, hop growers, stock raisers, fruit growers, and other interests of the valley paying some $200,000 annually merely because of a little obstruction in the river at Oregon City.

Jones can't understand why time is given to discussion of scientific irrigation and kindred subjects at league meetings, when he is denied the privilege of telling of the advantages of a direct connection with an open sea at Yaquina.

There will be no lid on B. F. Jones at the Albany League meeting.

PORTLAND BUSINESS MEN'S EXCURSION.

Rinaldo M. Hall, of the O. R. & N. Co., has just been pulling off a Portland Business Men's Excursion to Lewiston, Idaho.

Portland as a business center is just as much to Idaho as it is to Washington or Oregon. Hence the excursion is apropos.

Elegant dining car service was supplied, with embossed menu cards and a seventeen story wine list. Also some water was to be had.

This kind of excursions would not hurt into the interior of Oregon. Portland business men are not unfriendly to the interior.

They don't want to remove all the state institutions to Portland and tear up the traditions of the state by the roots.

The city of Salem or any of the Western Oregon or valley cities would be glad to welcome an excursion of the Portland business men.

This city has only good will toward any honest and decent man in business at Portland, and is always glad to give them the preference.

BETTER BARN FOR DAIRYMEN.

Every year shows greater interest on the part of the general public in the production of clean milk. It is the local point of most dairy legislation and is the most essential item in dairy manufactures. City boards of health dairy and food inspectors and state dairy and food commissioners are active in the work of improvement of the sanitary conditions surrounding

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health. Sold for sixty years. We have no equal. We put the formula of all our medicines.

the production of milk. Reports from these various officers show that one of the greatest obstacles in the way of securing improvement is the barns in which the herds are kept. Too often these barns are found to be damp, dark, and poorly ventilated; the doors are a source of everlasting odors; the lack of sunlight promotes decomposition. The foul odors present are absorbed by the milk before it can be removed from the premises. The cows are more susceptible to disease, and the place is entirely unfit for housing animals. There seems to be some excuse for this condition of things, as many, if not most, of these barns were built before the necessity of light and ventilation, good drainage, and sanitary arrangements for the interior were as well known as they are today. Most dairymen realize this fact and would make improvements, which are not necessarily expensive, if they knew how to about it.

WANTS EVERYTHING.

(Eugene Daily Guard.)

The Oregonian should lose every subscriber that paper has in Marion county for its unjust, bitter screed against the capital city of Oregon.

No true, loyal citizen of Salem should allow the Oregonian to take another cent out of his pocket after the scurrilous article in last Sunday's paper.

The Portland authority on sheep calls Salem a dirty, dark, muddy hole, with rural hotels, etc., etc.

The Oregonian wants the institutions of the state removed to Portland from Salem, hence its unwarranted and bitter attack on Salem. The Oregonian has at times attacked Corvallis, Eugene, Drain, Ashland, Weston, Monmouth, and other points with state institutions.

The Portland hog wants everything moved to Portland, and a plan is on foot in that city to move these one by one till it succeeds in getting all of them. Portland will get a costly lesson if it does not desist from raking the balance of the state.

Caught.

"I didn't think that story you told at dinner last night was very funny," said the man with the short memory. "It was so utterly impossible." "Was it?" said his friend. "It was one you told me not long ago. I didn't believe it at the time."—Detroit Free Press.

A SALEM CASE.

Many More Like It in Salem.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Salem. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Jacob E. McCoy, bridge builder and contractor, residing on Capital street, Salem, Oregon, second house beyond Mill Creek, says: "I have always enjoyed good health up to five or six years ago. Along about that time my kidneys commenced to bother me. There was not so much backache, but the principal symptoms were in connection with the kidney secretions. A strain or over-exertion very often caused hemorrhages of the kidneys. I cannot say that it was so very painful, but it was very annoying. I used various remedies, and, while some gave relief, others were worthless. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, and when up town I procured a box, taking them as directed. A few doses gave me very convincing proof that they were going to the right spot, and I can state that they gave me wonderful relief. I have a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, and cheerfully recommend them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Smiles From the Typewriter

The Journal will not allow its columns to be used by anyone to vent their private spleen against any other citizen, not even its enemies. There are no outside people in ambush owning any part of this paper, either. You may be sure you are dealing with the proprietors, and that no one is striking at you from behind any anonymous stockholdership in The Journal.

Let the people have all the time you can give them. Messrs. City Councilmen. It will be none too early the day before the primary now set for November 4th, to allow petitions for candidates for aldermen to be filed. The office is a thankless one. Business men shun the place, and yet they are the very men who should take it. The city has pretty nearly grown to a size where it will have to pay to have competent business men look after its affairs. When cities get to be places of nearly 20,000 they begin to pay their aldermen salary. The class of men who will serve for nothing is small whose time is worth having. The honest man does not want to neglect his family and private affairs to attend to public business. The dishonest one is tempted by the graft feature. So there you are. The people of Salem will probably find some one to act as alderman in each ward but it will not be easy to find good material

Let us drop Mr. Scott and the Oregonian's attacks on the city. This city has enough merit to stand up and grow against all the spleen and bitterness of the few survival of mossbackism that engage in such methods. The whole state has been drained for Portland the past year, both of public and private funds. We are all slowly recuperating. It will be a year before we get fully over the drafts on our purses made by the fair the past year. But it was our fair, and we must not get blue or complain. Let us all go slow about declaring a boycott on Portland. We have many true friends of Salem down there, and we should not alienate them. What Salem has accomplished has had to be done without Portland. But let us overlook that, overlook the slander about our water supply, their fight against a governor's home here, the trick to take away the state fair, and the recent talk about making that city the state capital. The Salem papers have not always spoken kindly about the Oregonian. But the Salem papers have always loyally taken hold of anything that Portland people have come up and said was important to them, even to helping them make a great success of Portland day. So let us drop Mr. Scott, close up the gap, go on about our business of making the best inland city in the Northwest. That is our business, and let us stand up for it. D—n the man who has yet been found for cod liver oil. There are so-called extracts, wines and cordials of cod liver oil that are said to contain the active principles but not the oil itself. This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. The best form of cod liver oil, that can be digested and assimilated most easily, is Scott's Emulsion.

Are these lines from J. H. Simmons, of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from this terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough, that disturbed my night's rest.
